Dear Grapevine this guy is dangerously "sick" and it looks like he's not alone,
he has the "Beast" for company
...lets pray for him.

Re.: Rationalist Recovery Movement
Attn : Jack Trimpey - alcoholic in denial

To whom it may concern :

Hi Jack

I'm open to an honest libertarian ethical nihilist position as much as the next guy and I've been 21 years in A.A. and know many atheists that Have been In longer than I, that have no complaints about any supposed religiosity in A.A.. Pls. keep an open mind.

Obviously from reading your material, despite your claims to the contrary, you are not interested in honesty, or my liberty or anybody else's, except your own and it appears you may represent the fundamentalist fascist position as well. That's your privilege, your own Higher Power, not mine. So It's not my business , it's your choice, "Live and let live", as we say in the program. Am I to understand that You want to fix me and get me to "Kill" my "Beast". Who do you think you are, the Pope? Why don't you Get off the center of the universe and take a good look at your own self in the mirror first.

Your slander is not based on the facts of the program and your propaganda is simply mercenary. No one forced me to go to A.A. Jack and I agree with you that it is wrong to force anyone to do so, but then that is also a violation of A.A. principles as well. Judges have no right to do so, but they do and that has nothing to do with A.A. Lets face it Jack we A.A.'s are not saints, but what gives you The right to cancel my recovery program and call my Beast stupid. Jack your stupid if you think the Beast is stupid and can't tell time. 200 years is not a long time for an addict to wait. Jack, you have to get it straight, You may be God unto yourself, but you are also the Beast as well. The problem is your Beast thinks it's God.

Jack, your Beast is not God. Get It!!! So get off the center of the universe.

If your Beast is saying to me, that you are abolishing my recovery program, then you are violating my rights and you have no right to do that under The constitution of the United States. The bottom line is, Jack, that the Beast (the Addict) is not rational. If You believe that "It" is going to listen and be Rational when you tell it not to drink or drug "for 200 hundred years", then you are as much a believer in a Higher Power as any of us in A.A.

That means putting your faith in the Rationalism of the Beast and having that as your Higher Power. That's what the Beast of your Rationalism is doing to your irrational addict brain...telling "It" That "It" is smart enough to Rationalize recovery. That is, I guess, about as honest as you can get right now. We, in the program, all know from bitter experience, that the Beast is not going to listen to reason and that it is not stupid. We call thinking that it will, denial. Get a grip on yourself Buddy. You would do well to re-read the A.A. literature without your bias and anger. Your program is basically the same as A.A. only your choice of a Higher Power is Rationalism and it seems materialism as well as i.e.: Money, Hate, Anger and the Beast. I've seen the Beast in your work and have a great deal of respect for "it". "It" is "cunning, baffling and powerful", delights in sadistic perversion and Mind Screws and it likes To eat little addicts like you and me for breakfast. Pls. Jack don't insult our Beasts intelligence, Remember "It's" an Alcoholic and a Drug addict that your messing with and all your money will Not save you from "It" when "It" comes for you when your 200yrs. are up. When that happens A.A. will still be there for you. When your ready to come back home. Only your Beast will have to stay outside in the long hall.

Unconditional Love . Anonymous
