

Authors

Larisa Alekseeva has a kandidat degree in history and is a senior staff member of the Russian State Literary Museum (GLM). Her dissertation dealt with museum interpretations of the work of Mayakovsky. She works with the Literary Museum's collections on the history of twentieth-century literature, and she is the author of some eighty articles.

Mikhail N. Epstein is Professor of Russian and Cultural Theory and Director of the Center for Humanities Innovation at Durham University (UK) and S. C. Dobbs Professor of Cultural Theory and Russian Literature at Emory University (Atlanta, USA). He has authored 31 books published in English and Russian and 17 books translated into German, Serbo-Croatian, Hungarian, Slovenian, Lithuanian and Korean. Full list of publications includes about 750 items. His latest projects are devoted to the development of new approaches in the humanities and their impact on humanity's future. His most recent book is The Transformative Humanities: A Manifesto. New York and London: Bloomsbury Academic, 2012, 318 pp.

Zsuzsa Hetényi is Professor at ELTE University, Institute for Slavic Studies, Budapest. Her main works include a monographic study on Biblical and messianic motifs in Babel's Red Cavalry (1991); In the Maelstrom: The History of Russian-Jewish Prose (in Hungarian 2000, in English 2008). Her fields of interest is the Russian Prose of 20th century (Isaak Babel, Mikhail Bulgakov, Andrei Platonov, Evgeny Zamiatin, Vladimir Nabokov and others), and problems of literary translation. She translates from Russian and English, mainly authors under her research. hetenyi@elte.hu; hetenyiz@gmail.com

Tatiana Ilinskaia, PhD, the deputy of the chief editor of the Full collection of Leskov's works, author of the book „Different Religion Beliefs in the Art of N. Leskov“ (Saint-Petersburg, 2010) and a number of articles about scientific style.

Igor Levichev, PhD, Candidate Degree in philological sciences Tavrida National V. I. Vernadsky University (Simferopol, Ukraine), where he is currently in 2007 completing a dissertation: M. Voloshyn's early creative activity as the stage of ideaphilosophical search. Now, Senior Research on House — Museum of Maximi lian Voloshyn (Koktebel, Ukraine).

Natalya Prozorova studied Department of Russian literature at St. Petersburg University, was a scientist worker at Literature museum „Shahmatovo“, the author of articles about the Silver Century of Russian poetry. Her last most interest — creation of Joseph Brodsky. Since 1995 she is graduate guide in Israel.

Laurent Stern is Professor Emeritus, Department of Philosophy, Rutgers University. He is the author of Interpretive Reasoning (Cornell University Press, 2005) and of articles on theories of interpretation and their application in critical discourse. lstern@rutgers.edu

Pavel Uspenskiy is a Candidate of Sciences (PhD) and a PhD student at the University of Tartu. He is a Lecturer at the National Research University Higher School of Economics (Moscow). Research interests: history of Russian literature of the 19th—20th centuries, poetics, Y. Baratynsky, N. Nekrasov, V. Khodasevich, B. Livshits, futurism, Russian Emigration.

Elena Yushkova, PhD, independent scholar. Sphere of academic interests: Russian plastique theater, history of dance, Isadora Duncan's art. Author of the monograph Plastique of the Overcoming: notes on the history of the Russian plastique theater of the 20th century (2009, in Russian) and more than 30 academic articles on Isadora Duncan's art and personality. In 2007—2008 — scholar in residence at the Kennan Institute (Washington, D. C., USA, grant from the Fulbright Program).

Oleg Zaslavskii, Doctor of Sciences in Physics and Mathematics, author of more than 50 published articles with structural analysis of texts (mainly, on Russian literature). Senior Scientific Fellow of Kharkov V. N. Karazin National University.