6.1 Introduction

As of fiscal year 2019 to 2020 and under the new Treasury Board Secretariat Policy on Results, most of the departments will be implementing the new Departmental Results Framework. This framework, which replaces the Program Alignment Architecture (PAA), consists of departmental core responsibilities and their related program inventory. These codes are used to reflect the resources allocated to the achievement of government objectives.

Example:

ZZZ00 - represents a core responsibility. The first three digits are capital letters and the last two digits are zeros.

ZZZ01 - this five digits alphanumeric code represents an individual program from the program inventory. The first 3 digits identify the core responsibility to which the program corresponds and the last two numbers is a combination between 01 and 99.

Please note that the following departments will still be using the old Program Alignment Architecture (PAA) in fiscal year 2019 to 2020 consisting in program codes (PROG):

- Royal Canadian Mounted Police
- Royal Canadian Mounted Police External Review Committee
- Civilian Review and Complaints Commission for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police

The format of these PROG is indentical to the core responsibility format.

Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety

BFZ00 National Occupational Health and Safety Resource
Description: The goal of this public service program is to provide free information on occupational health and safety to support Canadians in their efforts to work safely and create healthy and safe workplaces. Citizens are provided information through a free and impartial personalized service via telephone, e-mail, person-to-person, fax or mail. Alternatively, they can independently access a broad range of electronic and print resources developed to support safety and health information needs of Canadians. This may include cost recovery products and services and is supported financially by contributions from various stakeholders. Through health and safety information development, the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety collects, processes, evaluates, creates and publishes authoritative information resources on occupational health and safety for the benefit of all working Canadians. This information is used for education and training, research, development of policy and best practices, improvement of health and safety programs, achieving compliance, and for personal use. When the product or service provided by the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety is offered to identifiable external recipients with benefits beyond those enjoyed by the general public, the product or service becomes part of the cost-recovery program and a fee is charged. The Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety promotes and facilitates consultation and cooperation among federal, provincial and territorial jurisdictions and participation by labour, management and other stakeholders in the establishment and maintenance of high standards and occupational health and safety initiatives for the Canadian context. The sharing of resources results in the coordinated and mutually beneficial development of unique programs, products and services. Collaborative projects are usually supported with a combination of financial and non-financial contributions to the programs by partners and stakeholders and result in advancement of the health and safety initiatives.

Footnotes

1. Most departments and agencies are to substitute the letter A by a zero (0). However, in rare cases, where a department or agency has more than one vote per kind of vote (Program, Operating, Capital Expenditures), or another department or agency is allowed to function within a host departmental financial system and the accounting is included in the host department's Central Financial Management and Reporting System (CFMRS) trial balance, the A would be substituted sequentially by 1 for the first vote/organization and by 2 for the second vote/organization, etc.
2. The note related to the ISSA0 code applies.
3. This department is not required to use specific program codes to allocate the internal service expenses between the following groups: Management and Oversight Services; Communications Services; Legal Services; Human Resources Management Services; Financial Management Services; Information Management Services; Information Technology Services; Real Property Services; Materiel Services; Acquisition Services; and Other Administrative Services. This department will exclusively use the internal services code.
