

THE SKOWNAN VISION SEEKERS INITIATIVE:

Creating Turning Points in Anishinabe Communities

In 1996, there was a crisis in Waterhen First Nation that created a desire for change and community-readiness for the Skownan Vision Seekers Initiative.

The Skownan Model has evolved as an example of multi-level partnerships in a rural community, and is:

- Community-based and driven
- Accountable to the community vision, assets, needs and plan
- Transparent to membership
- Inclusive and accessible to all living in the community
- Cost effective
