

RECITATIVE is a vocal style designed to imitate and to emphasize the natural inflections of speech. In opera it serves to carry on the action from one aria (solo) or chorus to another.

(Harvard Dictionary of Music)

Click on the "◀◀" button above to return to the text.