

Robert Stanley WEIR (1856-1926) was born in Hamilton, Ont., and studied law in Montreal. He became both a judge and a member of the Quebec National Assembly, serving as Minister of Public Works and as Speaker of the House. Also recognized as a talented writer, he composed what are now the official English words to O Canada in 1908.

Click on the "◀◀" button above to return to the text.