Hi Brenda,

All of the PICFI licences and most of the ATP are all being used to support in-river demonstration fisheries. A small percentage of the ATP salmon licences could be used for coastal commercial fisheries and we are currently evaluating the distribution plan.

Subject: Salmon licenses

Hi Angela

I am at a meeting right now of some Island First Nations and they are asking if there is any possibility of salmon licenses in the PICFI bank being allocated to some coastal First Nations this year to keep their boats geared up and in the water (necessary for food needs).
