Hello Andrew.

Dr. Barry Milligan is our Director of Production and would be the best contact. He is also a veterinarian.

I would like to request that our companies be consulted/engaged on this important research by being given a briefing on the results to date, the science questions that are being asked by the proposed next phase of the research and the possible outcomes that may transpire (i.e. what are the hypothesis being considered).

I would also ask that we be briefed on who is involved in the research team and that suggestions for additions to the team be sought from our members once this briefing has taken place.

Best regards,
Stewart
