5 THE REGISTRAR: Please be seated.

6 Veuillez vous asseoir.

7 THE COMMISSIONER: Good morning.

8 MR. CAVALLUZZO: Mr. Commissioner,
9 I was advised by Mr. Waldman, counsel for 10 Mr. Arar, yesterday, that he wishes to bring a 11 motion at the outset of the proceedings this 12 morning in respect of an alleged leak to the 13 Toronto Star.

14 I spoke to him and we decided that 15 the best way to proceed would be for him to bring 16 the motion immediately this morning.

17 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

18 Mr. Waldman...?

19 MR. WALDMAN: I have copies of the 20 article. I have given them to my friends, but I
21 don't know if you --

22 THE COMMISSIONER: Do you want to 23 hand one up to me?

24 --- Pause

25 MOTION / REQUÊTE

1 MR. WALDMAN: Mr. Commissioner,
2 prior to the calling of evidence I wish to raise a 3 very serious matter that was brought to the 4 attention of Mr. Arar's legal team late last week.
5 I am referring to the article I have handed up 6 which was published in the Toronto Star on June 9, 7 2005.

8 In the article, the journalist
9 makes several assertions that are not on the 10 public record. He asserts that CSIS went to Syria 11 in order to sign an information-sharing agreement 12 with Canada.

13 THE COMMISSIONER: Just tell me
14 where you are reading from in the article that you 15 have handed up?

16 MR. WALDMAN: Starting at:
17 "...instead, it was striking
18 a secret deal to exchange 19 information made vital by 20 September 11th, the impending 21 threat of an Iraq war and the 22 ebb and flow of guerillas
23 trained in Afghanistan
24 al-Qaeda camps. During that 25 meeting CSIS told the

1                                   Syrians..." (As read)

2                                   So it is clear that the 3                                   information-sharing agreement is with the Syrians.

4                                   THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

5                                   MR. WALDMAN: Mr. Travers goes on 6                                   to assert in the article, a little bit further on, 7                                   and I will just quote from it:

8                                   "During that meeting, CSIS 9                                   told the Syrians exactly what 10                                  it had been quietly and 11                                  consistently saying since 12                                  Mr. Arar's New York arrest in 13                                  September 2002, the Agency 14                                  had no interest in someone 15                                  whose only crime was knowing 16                                  other Muslims under 17                                  surveillance." (As read)

18                                  The third issue of concern is, at 19                                  the end of the article it talks about what was 20                                  transpiring in camera. That is on the third page.

21                                  THE COMMISSIONER: On which?

22                                  Somebody coughed, sorry.

23                                  MR. WALDMAN: On the third page it 24                                  talks about the in camera hearings where it says:

25                                  "Behind closed doors

1 O'Connor, who now knows all
2 that is ever likely to be 3 known about Arar's case, has 4 been warned those sources
5 will evaporate if Canada
6 signals that information sent 7 here in confidence may not 8 remain confidential."

9 (As read)

10 First and foremost, I have 11 discussed this with Mr. Arar and he wishes us to 12 make clear that he is not criticizing the media
13 whose function it is to report the news. Mr. Arar 14 does not want the media to be blamed for this 15 current leak.

16 What is of concern to Mr. Arar is 17 that this article contains three pieces of 18 information that are not on the public record. I 19 have just summarized those for you.

20 It is of deep concern to Mr. Arar 21 and his legal team that yet another leak of 22 information has occurred. As you are well aware, 23 one of the central issues for Mr. Arar in this 24 inquiry has been, up until now, the issue of leaks 25 that occurred prior to and after his return to

1 Canada. In our view, the purpose of those leaks
2 was to try to discredit Mr. Arar and prevent the 3 calling of a public inquiry. We will be making 4 submissions with you before the end of the inquiry
5 process about those leaks.

6 But these are new leaks and they 7 are far more serious, in our view, because these 8 leaks occurred during the course of the inquiry.
9 The author of the article asserts facts that were 10 provided to him by someone with extensive 11 knowledge of Mr. Arar's dossier.

12 As you and the government
13 officials have received this information in 14 camera, you are well aware of the truth of the 15 facts stated. We are not, because we have not 16 been party to the in camera hearings.

17 In any event, even if we are now
18 told that these facts are not true, the fact 19 remains that it is an official from some 20 government agency who has determined to leak 21 information to a journalist during the course of 22 the inquiry.

23 If the information is true, then
24 it must now be stated on the public record. If it 25 is not true, then there must be an explanation as

1 to why officials would be propagating false
2 information during the course of your inquiry.

3 As we have stated, there have been 4 other leaks, but we are deeply concerned about 5 this leak because it is the first leak of 6 confidential information that has occurred since 7 the inquiry was called, as far as we are aware.

8 In this respect, it is of grave
9 concern that officials have chosen to seek to 10 defend their conduct by means of leaks to 11 journalists as opposed to authorizing the 12 Commissioner to release the evidence publicly 13 within the confines of this inquiry.

14 The intent of this release of 15 information off the record was to allow the 16 security services to defend themselves publicly 17 without being accountable for the information they 18 have provided. This has been an attempt to 19 preclude Mr. Arar, his counsel, and the 20 intervenors from being able to rely upon the 21 information in any official way.

22 If this were a court of law
23 there is no doubt in our submission that this 24 would constitute contempt which could lead to 25 legal proceedings.

1                   However, there is no doubt in 2                   our view that the conduct of these officials is 3                   contemptuous of this inquiry process and is 4                   grossly unfair to Mr. Arar. If this conduct is 5                   condoned and allowed to continue, it will mean 6                   that government officials who have asserted 7                   national security confidentiality will feel 8                   free to leak information through selective leaks 9                   in order to get information out in the public 10                  domain, while continuing in the course of the 11                  inquiry to assert national security 12                  confidentiality over the information.

13                  Mr. Commissioner, you will recall 14                  that Mr. Arar and his legal counsel received an 15                  important document which we wanted to be in the 16                  public domain. We had that document for months 17                  and months, but pursuant to our undertaking we 18                  respected our obligation to keep the document
19                  confidential. We made motions before you and did 20                  not release the document until the government 21                  decided it could be released.

22                  The officials of the Government of 23                  Canada are clearly under the same undertaking, and 24                  this leak is compatible with this undertaking.

25                  In making this submission, we

1 wish to make it absolutely clear that we do not 2 believe that counsel was aware of this in any way,
3 and we are well aware of the efforts that counsel
4 for the government has taken since the Pardy
5 document was released to re-redact documents and 6 we appreciate this.

7                   Given this, I am asking for a
8 ruling which would allow Mr. Arar and his counsel, 9 for the purpose of cross-examination of Mr. Fry,
10 Ambassador Pillarella, and any future witnesses, 11 to assert as a fact the information contained in 12 this article; namely, that the purpose of CSIS's 13 trip to Syria was for information-sharing; that 14 during the course of the agreement CSIS officials
15 asserted they had no concerns about Mr. Arar 16 because their only information on him was that he 17 had been seen by other persons who were of 18 interest; and that in the in-camera meetings it 19 has been suggested to you that it was vital to 20 Canada's national security that 21 information-sharing agreements remain sacrosanct, 22 and make strong recommendations that you not 23 interfere with that process.

24                   In addition, we would request that 25 you immediately direct that the head of CSIS

1           conduct an investigation into this leak and report
2           back to you within as short a time as possible so 3           that the public can be informed about the source 4           of the leaks.

5                           In asking for this investigation,
6           we wish to make it absolutely clear that Mr. Arar 7           does not condone or support the conduct directed 8           against other journalists who receive leaks. The 9           problem is not the media, but the persons who leak 10          the information.

11                          In addition, we would seek to 12          recall Ministers Graham and Easter, especially 13          Minister Easter, because during the course of our 14          cross-examination he acknowledged the trip of CSIS 15          to Syria but refused to answer any questions. If 16          there were an information-sharing agreement, 17          Mr. Easter would have had to approve it and would 18          have had to have been intimately involved in that 19          process.

20                          Minister Graham, of course, would 21          also have had to be consulted about the human 22          rights record and we would want to speak to both 23          Ministers about that.

24                          Finally, we wish to have you 25          consider what consequences might flow from any

1 further leaks of information.

2 We would suggest that you consider
3 advising counsel for the government that further 4 leaks would jeopardize the participation of the 5 agencies involved in the inquiry process. If 6 persons appearing before the inquiry cannot 7 respect the integrity of the inquiry process, then 8 there must be consequences.

9 Thank you.

10 THE COMMISSIONER: Thank you,
11 Mr. Waldman.

12 Ms McIsaac...?

13 MS McISAAC: Mr. Commissioner,
14 first of all, I only became aware of Mr. Waldman's 15 motion this morning, and I have been unable to 16 seek instructions with respect to the relief that 17 he is requesting.

18 I can, however, tell you that I am 19 equally concerned by this leak of information, as 20 is my entire counsel team, and that upon having 21 the article drawn to my attention I think the day
22 it appeared, or perhaps the day after, I made 23 inquiries of CSIS and asked them to take steps to 24 ascertain, if they were able, how this occurred.

25 I have not had a report back yet

1 on the matter and, as I say, we are equally
2 concerned with respect to this leak of information
3 and the effect that it has on the inquiry.

4 Beyond that I'm not sure at this 5 point I can say much more because, as I say, I 6 have not had an opportunity to seek or obtain any 7 instructions with respect to the relief that 8 Mr. Waldman is asking for, particularly with 9 respect to the questioning of upcoming witnesses.
10 I will endeavour to get those instructions as soon 11 as possible though.

12 THE COMMISSIONER: Mr. Cavalluzzo,
13 do you have anything to add?

14 MR. CAVALLUZZO: Just a few
15 comments, Commissioner.

16 First of all, some of the 17 information which Mr. Waldman is seeking has been 18 newly unredacted, if we can put it so bluntly, in 19 a new tab 218, which we will be introducing 20 through Mr. Pillarella tomorrow.

21 Second, in terms of the remedy,
22 certain aspects of it, in particular the recalling 23 of certain witnesses, I don't know if we need an 24 order to that effect. Certainly discussion
25 between Commission counsel and Mr. Arar's counsel

1 I think should be able to resolve that. If either 2 witness is required to be recalled, then we shall 3 certainly ensure that that occurs.

4 As far as the other aspect, in 5 terms of directing CSIS to do whatever, I really 6 have no submissions in respect of that.

7 THE COMMISSIONER: Do you have 8 anything in reply, Mr. Waldman?

9 MR. WALDMAN: Just briefly.

10 With respect to that newly 11 redacted document, it was just brought to my 12 attention this morning, very briefly, but I don't 13 think it goes quite as far as Mr. Travers'
14 article. It says they went to Syria to discuss 15 intelligence, but it doesn't talk about an 16 information-sharing agreement.

17 THE COMMISSIONER: First of all,
18 let me say I am obliged that you brought the 19 matter formally before the inquiry. I commend the 20 government for the response that they had already 21 taken to it. I think that is responsible. When I 22 read the article -- I had seen it before -- I too
23 had a similar concern as to whether or not there 24 had been some improper release.

25 I think the course that is being

1 followed now by the government should be allowed 2 to take its course. Let's see what that produces.
3 Ms McIsaac has indicated that she is making 4 inquiries and I will await her report back with 5 respect to those inquiries.

6 I agree with Mr. Cavalluzzo
7 that in terms of recalling witnesses, that is 8 something that I would hope that counsel could 9 work out amongst themselves. If there is 10 difficulty with that you can speak to me about it, 11 but I'm confident that you should be able to work 12 that out.

13 In terms of the cross-examination 14 of witnesses relating to matters that are in the 15 article, I suggest we wait and see how the 16 cross-examination goes.

17 I would be disinclined to say 18 that you can assert as a fact the matters that are 19 contained in the article. On the other hand, it 20 would strike me that a line of questioning
21 relating to those matters may be permissible. I 22 would have to see the context and I would rule at 23 the time.

24 I will not, however, in terms
25 of ruling on NSC, simply accept the notion that

1           because something has appeared, perhaps as a 2           result of an illegal or improper leak, in the 3           newspaper should of itself necessarily constitute 4           a waiver or constitute a release of an otherwise 5           valid NSC claim.

6                                So that if information is in the 7           media, which is subject to a legitimate NSC claim, 8           and if it only found its way into the media as a 9           result of some improper or illegal leak, it seems 10          to me that that would not necessarily result in a 11          finding in future that that information is not 12          subject to an NSC claim. I would have to know 13          more about it.

14                               So that in terms of the relief
15          that you seek, Mr. Waldman, asserting as a fact, I 16          think that puts it too strongly. As I say, what I 17          will do is defer a decision on that, see what 18          course the cross-examination takes, and I will 19          rule as we go.

20                               In terms of the fourth point you 21          raise, that is the consequences of further leaks, 22          obviously if there has been an improper or an 23          illegal leak of information, that is a most 24          serious matter. A repeat of it, without a doubt, 25          would be most unfortunate. I will simply address

1           that situation if it arises in the future.

2                           Okay? That's it.

3                           MR. WALDMAN: Thank you.

4                           MR. DAVID: If we could call 5 Mr. Fry, please?

6           --- Pause

7                           THE COMMISSIONER: Good morning.

8                           MR. DAVID: Mr. Commissioner, 9 appearing before you is Mr. Robert Fry.
10 Mr. Robert Fry will be providing testimony in his 11 capacity as being a political attache to Minister 12 Graham at the relevant time that concerns this 13 inquiry.

14                           So if we could ask Mr. Roy to 15 swear Mr. Fry in.

16                           THE COMMISSIONER: Do you wish to 17 be sworn or affirmed, Mr. Fry?

18                           MR. FRY: Sworn is fine,
19 Mr. Commissioner.

20 SWORN: ROBERT RICHARD ALAIN FRY

21                           THE COMMISSIONER: Your full name?

22                           MR. FRY: Robert Richard 23 Alain Fry.

24                           THE COMMISSIONER: Thank you. You 25 may be seated.

1 MR. FRY: Thank you.

2 MR. DAVID: Before we begin with 3 Mr. Fry's testimony, Mr. Commissioner, I would 4 like to file a series of four different documents.

5 The first is a Table of 6 Concordance. That would be Exhibit P-131.

7 EXHIBIT NO. P-131: Document
8 entitled "Table of 9 Concordance for Re-Redacted
10 Exhibits"

11 MR. DAVID: When you have it in 12 hand, I will explain to you what this is.

13 Essentially, what has occurred
14 over time, Mr. Commissioner, is that the redacted
15 documents are now being produced to the Commission 16 in newly redacted forms, so the contents as we go 17 along are in fact becoming more public and so we 18 have a new series of newly redacted -- not to say
19 "unredacted", but newly redacted documents. So 20 this table is to try to help us meander through 21 this new network of documents, Mr. Commissioner.

22 So in the left-hand column you 23 have reference to the old exhibit numbers and in 24 the right -- I don't want to say the completely 25 right-hand column, but in the column entitled "By

1 This Document" you have the new exhibit numbers 2 that refer to the new redactions.

3 This document is not up to date
4 with regard to what we will be filing today. As 5 these proceedings progress, we will be filing 6 additional tables of concordance.

7 THE COMMISSIONER: Will the 8 additional tables simply be an update of the 9 existing ones so we don't end up with more than 10 one table?

11 MR. DAVID: I will relay your 12 message, and I think it is a wise suggestion.
13 --- Laughter / Rires

14 MS McISAAC: I can always stop
15 changing the redactions if it is getting too --
16 --- Laughter / Rires

17 MR. DAVID: The second document I
18 would file is a copy of the newly redacted
19 documents that pertain to Mr. Fry's testimony. So 20 if we could file that as Exhibit P-132.

21 Is that correct?

22 THE COMMISSIONER: Exhibit P-132.
23 I have it.

24 EXHIBIT NO. P-132: Newly 25 redacted documents pertaining

1 to Mr. Fry's testimony

2 MR. DAVID: Third, I would like to 3 file Mr. Fry's personal notes. That would be 4 Exhibit P-133.

5 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

6 EXHIBIT NO. P-133: Redacted
7 Personal Notes of Mr. Fry

8 MR. DAVID: Finally, as you know
9 Mr. Pillarella is scheduled to testify both 10 tomorrow and Wednesday; however, there is one 11 occasion where I will be referring to 12 Mr. Pillarella's documents, newly redacted 13 documents, and so I would like to file these at 14 this point so that I can refer them to Mr. Fry.

15 That would be Exhibit P-134.

16 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

17 EXHIBIT NO. P-134: Newly 18 redacted document of 19 Mr. Pillarella

20 MR. DAVID: Finally, if we could 21 file Mr. Fry's curriculum vitae. That would be 22 Exhibit P-135.

23 EXHIBIT NO. P-135:

24 Curriculum vitae of Mr. Fry

25 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay. Thank

1           you.

2           EXAMINATION

3                           MR. DAVID:  Mr. Fry, let us begin 4           by going through your CV.

5                           First of all, you are a Member of 6           the Bar of Ontario since 1995?

7                           MR. FRY:  Yes.

8                           MR. DAVID:  You hold the position,
9           since February of 2002, of Senior Policy Advisor
10          to the Minister of Foreign Affairs?

11                          MR. FRY:  I held that position.  I 12          no longer hold that position.

13                          MR. DAVID:  When did that cease?

14                          MR. FRY:  That ceased last summer, 15          I guess right after the cabinet shuffle after the 16          election.  So July 2004 that changed.

17                          MR. DAVID:  So from February 2002
18          to July 2004 --

19                          MR. FRY:  Yes.

20                          MR. DAVID:  -- you did hold 21          this position?

22                          So you were obviously intimately
23          involved with the Arar file, with the Arar 24          time-line, in that capacity?

25                          MR. FRY:  Yes.

1 MR. DAVID: You also were Chief of 2 Staff to the Deputy Prime Minister of Canada, the 3 Honourable Herb Gray?

4 MR. FRY: Yes.

5 MR. DAVID: This was from October
6 of 2000 to January of 2002?

7 MR. FRY: Yes.

8 MR. DAVID: I also note on your CV
9 that for a period of approximately four months in 10 1995 you were again involved with the Ministry of 11 Foreign Affairs. You were Special Assistant to 12 Minister Andre Ouellet at the time?

13 MR. FRY: Yes, that is correct.

14 MR. DAVID: I note that you have 15 graduated with magna cum laude in common law, and 16 in civil law not quite, it was cum laude.

17 MR. FRY: Yes.

18 MR. DAVID: So congratulations
19 on that.

20 MR. FRY: Yes. Thank you for 21 pointing that out.

22 --- Laughter / Rires

23 MR. DAVID: If you could begin by,
24 first of all, describing what a Senior Policy
25 Advisor to a Minister, and namely to the Minister

1 of Foreign Affairs, does? What is your mandate?
2 What is your function?

3 MR. FRY: Gee, that is a question
4 my mother asks me all the time, "What do you do 5 for a living?"

6 It is actually not always easy to 7 explain. The title was Senior Policy Advisor. My 8 responsibility was to advise the Minister of 9 Foreign Affairs on overall matters of policy, to 10 help him, to provide him with advice and to give 11 him recommendations on decisions he had to make in 12 terms of the policy, foreign policies of Canada.

13 The Minister of Foreign Affairs is 14 in such demand -- any Cabinet Minister is in so 15 much demand -- they need staff to help them to 16 focus on sort of the key issues and to help them, 17 I guess, in some way to filter some of the 18 information because they are getting information 19 from so many different sources. There are lots of 20 demands on them from departments, there are lots 21 of demands on them from outside non-governmental 22 organizations and the like, so my role was in some 23 ways to help him, to brief him, to sort of take in 24 a lot of that information and help provide him 25 with the essentials, because there are only so

1 many hours in his day and he needed to -- on given 2 days he had to focus on different things.

3 I guess I could say I was sort of 4 the No. 2 in the office. There was the Chief of 5 Staff and then I was sort of No. 2 in the office.
6 I was Senior Policy Advisor, or Director of Policy
7 was the title actually. It changed during my time 8 there with him.

9 MR. DAVID: When we see Senior 10 Policy Advisor, is that to say that you are 11 briefed and well-versed in the policies of the 12 Department of Foreign Affairs, or does that refer 13 to something else?

14 MR. FRY: Yes.

15 I was not in Foreign Affairs. I
16 am on the personal staff of the Minister, so I
17 would -- I'm not a public servant in that sense.
18 I am what you would call exempt staff, so I report 19 directly to the Minister and I am tied to the 20 Minister. When the Minister leaves Foreign 21 Affairs, you know, I go too.

22 Yes, I guess that is a good way to 23 sort of describe it.

24 In terms of knowledge of the 25 department, I mean coming in in February 2002,

1           like the Minister, I was briefed and brought up to 2           speed and met with the variety of experts in the 3           Department of Foreign Affairs and was sort of 4           briefed on these matters in terms of being 5           informed of the policies of Canada and, you know, 6           where particular files were and things like that.

7                         MR. DAVID: Thank you. I note 8           that on your CV you have been playing more or 9           less this role with seven different Cabinet
10          Ministers --

11                        MR. FRY: Yes, that's correct.

12                        MR. DAVID: -- over the course of 13          your last 10 years.

14                        MR. FRY: I have had some 15          experience in doing that, yes.

16                        MR. DAVID: I would like to now 17          understand -- really you are the first to be of 18          the breed that you are in terms of the political 19          offices of the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and if 20          you could just provide us with an understanding -- 21          we have had much testimony, Mr. Fry, from various 22          bureaucrats, both senior and more middle 23          management from the Department of Foreign Affairs.

24                                 I would like to get an 25          appreciation now from you of how that differs and

1           how does it work with the political office of the 2           Minister in Foreign Affairs versus the permanent 3           bureaucratic structure?  If you could just give us 4           an appreciation of the interplay that occurs, how 5           the both entities relate to each other?

6                         MR. FRY:  Each Federal Minister or 7           Cabinet Minister has a staff of their own, maybe a 8           dozen people.  You have a Chief of Staff, you have 9           a Senior Policy Advisor, a Director of Policy, you
10          have a Director of Communications.  These are all 11          people that report directly to the Minister.  They 12          report solely to him and their responsibilities 13          are to help him in his job.

14                        I guess the distinction, where 15          members of the public service are there, you know, 16          even when you change Ministers they remain there, 17          and I guess overall they ultimately report to the 18          Minister through the Deputy Minister.  Our direct 19          political reporting relationship is solely with 20          the Minister.  I guess we are there to make sure 21          that he has everything he needs, and to look out 22          for his best interests and to help him further his 23          own objectives and the things that he wants to 24          accomplish and get done while he is Minister of 25          Foreign Affairs.

1                   MR. DAVID: Okay. How does the 2 actual coordination occur between the permanent 3 body of civil servants within DFAIT and the 4 political office of the Minister?

5                   MR. FRY: Well, I think it varies.
6 Each office sort of develops its own identity,
7 each Minister's office.

8                   The Minister's staff would -- I 9 would interact regularly with officials in the 10 Department of Foreign Affairs, at all levels from 11 the Deputy Minister down to desk officers, to 12 gather information or to be briefed.

13                   There were also departmental 14 briefings for the Minister, which I would 15 participate in, where the department would brief
16 the Minister and I would be there.

17                   I would also brief the 18 Minister directly on a variety of matters, to 19 help him -- you know, give him -- you know, I 20 would get the two-hour version of something and 21 then I would give him the two-minute version
22 based on what he needed to know for Question
23 Period or whatever else.

24                   MR. DAVID: So you are 25 certainly directly involved in the liaison between

1 the permanent body, the permanent structure of 2 Foreign Affairs, and the political structure of 3 Foreign Affairs?

4 MR. FRY: That's correct.

5 MR. DAVID: Is there anybody else
6 who is playing the role that you are playing 7 within the political office of the Minister with 8 regard to the permanent structure?

9 MR. FRY: Doing the same job
10 as myself --

11 MR. DAVID: Doing the same job?

12 MR. FRY: -- or a similar job in a 13 different sort of subject?

14 MR. DAVID: Within the DFAIT
15 portfolio, is there anybody else that is playing 16 this liaison role that you were playing?

17 MR. FRY: Well, there would be 18 other members of the Minister's staff. They 19 wouldn't be doing the identical job of myself, but 20 you have the Director of Communications who would 21 be dealing with the Foreign Affairs Media Office, 22 and her job -- in this case her name was Isabelle 23 Savard -- her job would be to help prepare the 24 Minister to deal with scrums in the media. We 25 would have someone called a Legislative Assistant,

1 she dealt with all matters in the House of 2 Commons, whether it was legislation from Foreign 3 Affairs Committee, and Question Period above all,
4 preparing the Minister for Question Period. You
5 have the Chief of Staff, who has overall 6 responsibility for all the Minister's staff and 7 making sure that everything --

8 MR. DAVID: This is the person 9 that you would report to?

10 MR. FRY: Yes.

11 MR. DAVID: That would be Mr. Dan
12 Costello at the time?

13 MR. FRY: That is correct.

14 MR. DAVID: In terms of your 15 involvement in the permanent structure of DFAIT, 16 it is my understanding that you were the key 17 person in terms of managing the Arar fact line.

18 Is that correct?

19 MR. FRY: Yes, that is correct.

20 Amongst my sort of 21 responsibilities was I had responsibility in the 22 Minister's office for the Middle East. In fact, 23 sort of a lot of the more difficult files I guess 24 I took care of just because of my experience, and 25 the Arar file was one that I was responsible for.

1                   MR. DAVID:  If you could describe 2                   for us that experience, Mr. Fry, that made it most 3                   appropriate for you to be involved in a fact 4                   situation such as Mr. Arar's?

5                   MR. FRY:  I guess my experience at 6                   having worked in this type of job for a while.

7                   I mean, one thing that I guess I
8                   would mention is the Minister came on in January 9                   2002, I came on just shortly after in February of 10                  2002.  We were still relatively new to the 11                  Department of Foreign Affairs.  I guess that would 12                  be -- when Mr. Arar was sort of taken into custody 13                  and deported, that was seven or eight months into 14                  the Minister's mandate.  So we were still -- I 15                  mean, I think it is still fair to say that we were 16                  still learning about how Foreign Affairs worked.

17                  I think the reason I was 18                  assigned that file was because it had a 19                  Canada-U.S. dimension to it, which I was 20                  responsible for the Canada-U.S. file in our 21                  office; Middle East, which I was also responsible 22                  for, and also because it was of highly -- it was 23                  what we would call a hot file.

24                  MR. DAVID:  High profile?

25                  MR. FRY:  High profile.

1 MR. DAVID: Did you have any 2 particular knowledge about the Middle East? Were 3 you trained in Middle Eastern affairs? Did you go
4 to the Middle East as a political attache?

5 MR. FRY: I mean, I am by no means
6 by no means an expert in Middle East affairs or 7 business, but I had a little bit of experience.
8 When I worked for the Deputy Prime Minister, 9 Mr. Gray, Mr. Gray was one of the senior Jewish 10 Members of Parliament and Ministers and so I had a 11 lot of -- I went with him to the Middle East. We 12 went to Israel and Palestinian Territories, so I 13 had a little bit of experience there.

14 I have travelled, you know, on 15 my own personal behalf in those areas of the 16 world, but, no, I wouldn't be considered a Middle 17 East expert.

18 MR. DAVID: Had you ever been 19 to Syria?

20 MR. FRY: No.

21 MR. DAVID: Were you aware of the 22 Syrian regime, its political tendencies?

23 MR. FRY: I would have been aware 24 in a general sense that a lot of those countries
25 in that region of the world, Iran, Iraq, Saudi

1           Arabia, Syria, you know, these were totalitarian 2           or authoritarian regimes.

3                         MR. DAVID:  Could you explain to 4           us, Mr. Fry, how it is you would have access to 5           your Minister, how you would brief him, how you 6           would make that liaison occur?

7                         MR. FRY:  I had pretty much
8           access any time I needed access, whether by phone
9           or in person.  The Minister had a very busy 10          schedule, but we found time to brief him on a 11          variety of matters.

12                        One of the key moments each day
13          where we knew we had time to brief the Minister 14          would be before Question Period.  We always 15          assigned time to prepare him for sort of the daily
16          grilling he would get in Question Period.  So I 17          knew if for some reason I wasn't able to speak to 18          him in the morning I could attend the Question
19          Period sort of briefing and talk to him about a 20          particular matter.

21                        We also shared information in the 22          office.  I could tell someone else, "Well, if you 23          are going to see the Minister this morning, could 24          you give this to him" or "could you tell him about 25          this?"  I could say that to the Chief of Staff or

1 other people, depending on the Minister's 2 schedule. But I had access to the Minister any 3 time I needed it.

4 MR. DAVID: You referred to the 5 fact that the Minister sometimes would also be 6 receiving memorandums and briefing notes from the 7 permanent members of DFAIT, the civil servant
8 component of DFAIT.

9 MR. FRY: Yes.

10 MR. DAVID: Were you involved
11 in the development, in the requesting of briefing 12 notes, in the drafting of such memos or briefing 13 notes?

14 MR. FRY: Not so much in the 15 drafting. In some cases, I mean, we would make a 16 request of the department and then the department
17 would prepare a briefing note and that would sort 18 of come up the chain. It goes from the person who 19 drafts it to their Deputy Director, to their 20 Director, to their Director General, to their ADM, 21 to the Deputy Minister, and then to our office.
22 So we would make requests.

23 Other times these briefing
24 notes or other things would come up on their own.
25 They are initiated by the department because

1           they are something they thought the Minister 2           should know.

3                           I wasn't involved in the drafting 4           of these per se, but I would request them and I 5           would see them. They would come to me. Often 6           they would come directly. They would come to me
7           to go to the Minister.

8                           MR. DAVID: So you were in the 9           loop, if I could say, in terms of the processing 10          of briefing notes?

11                          MR. FRY: Yes, I would say.

12                          MR. DAVID: You have mentioned 13          already, Mr. Fry, in your testimony, that on 14          occasion you yourself would be the person briefed 15          at length in detail by various personnel within 16          DFAIT and that you would sort of filter through 17          the information and, instead of the two-hour 18          version you would give what you referred to as the 19          two-minute version to the Minister.

20                          Was that part of your role to help 21          the Minister to decipher the information and to 22          exercise your discretion in terms of what 23          information should be going to the Minister or 24          could be going to the Minister?

25                          MR. FRY: Yes, I think an

1 important part of my job is to exercise some 2 discretion to help -- I mean, I would always err
3 on the side of caution. I would want to make sure 4 that the Minister had all the information he 5 needed. But, as I said, there is such an 6 information dump on the Minister on a regular 7 basis that an important part of my job is using my 8 judgment and my discretion to make sure that he 9 gets what he needs depending on what he has to do.

10 I am also privy to his schedule,
11 so I knew who he was meeting, what was coming up, 12 what meetings he was going to be at and what he 13 needed to sort of wrap his mind around and focus 14 on to get ready for it.

15 I guess another part of the job
16 is that I am one of the few people that has the 17 big picture of where the Minister's head is at, 18 what he is going to have to do, whether he is 19 going to the NATO summit, whether he is going to 20 be chairing the G8, whether the pressure is on 21 him, he is going to have to appear before a House 22 of Commons Committee. So I am sort of 23 well-placed, and that is part of my job, is to 24 help him to focus and to get him what he needs at 25 the right time.

1                   The department, senior officials 2                   in the department, would also come to me, and 3                   others in our office, to bring certain things to 4                   our attention, but part of our job, in fact, is to 5                   help, to use our discretion and our best judgment.

6                   MR. DAVID: Were there other 7                   people such as you within the political office of 8                   the Minister that were doing the same thing with 9                   regard to other information coming from DFAIT in 10                  terms of filtering, in terms of deciphering --

11                  MR. FRY: Yes.

12                  MR. DAVID: -- and deciding what 13                  should go forth.

14                  Without saying that you were 15                  necessarily competing with those other political 16                  attache's, how many other people would be doing 17                  more or less what you were doing in terms of the 18                  filtering process?

19                  MR. FRY: Everyone had sort of 20                  assigned responsibilities, so there wouldn't be 21                  people doing the same thing as I was doing, but 22                  there would be other people working on other 23                  things, like someone else would be taking care of 24                  other parts of the world, Latin America for 25                  instance.

1                   There were probably maybe five or 2                   six other people who had a similar role.
3                   Communications, you could say that she had a 4                   particular role because she would be -- a similar 5                   role of filtering, because she would have to be 6                   able to point the Minister where the media was 7                   coming from, what the media was talking about, 8                   what the media spin was on a particular story, and 9                   be able to focus him on the big stories of the 10                  day, not on other things that could be a 11                  distraction which may not be that important for 12                  him, because someone mentioned something about 13                  foreign affairs in some remote -- some other 14                  issue. She would use her judgment and bring the 15                  things to his attention that he needed to know.

16                  The person who would deal with 17                  Question Period. If you are going to prepare a 18                  Minister, you need to be able to pick out what you 19                  think are the five questions he is going to get at 20                  Question Period. So you would have to pick out 21                  those five and brief him on those five. You 22                  couldn't brief him every day on sort of 30 things 23                  because there is a remote possibility that this 24                  one little thing could come up.

25                  So I think that is a big part.

1           The nature of the job that we do is in some ways 2           using our discretion to bring the right things to 3           his attention.

4                           MR. DAVID:   Okay.

5                           Let us go to the documents now, 6           Mr. Fry, in terms of the time line.  If I could 7           refer you to tab 92 in volume 1 of the DFAIT 8           documents?

9                           I'm just going to use this 10          document as an introduction really to some 11          preliminary questions I have for you.

12                          There is a series of four e-mails 13          here and the bottom one is the first one.  It is 14          dated October 16th.  It refers to preparation of 15          an updated Q&A.

16                          "Q&A" I understand is more or less 17          a briefing for the Minister to prepare him for the 18          Question Period in the House of Commons?

19                          MR. FRY:   Also to deal with 20          the media.

21                          MR. DAVID:   The media.

22                          MR. FRY:   Yes.

23                          MR. DAVID:   So it has a dual 24          purpose?

25                          MR. FRY:   Yes.

1 MR. DAVID: Then we see in the 2 second e-mail that you are again being looped in.
3 On the third e-mail, which was the second one from 4 the top, you are actually asking -- or you are 5 involving yourself directly, and you are saying:

6 "...I assume a Q&A is being 7 prepared that we can forward
8 to the Minister in Halifax by 9 noon.."

10 So the Minister was in Halifax at 11 this time.

12 And it concerns Maher Arar and 13 this is October 16th.

14 So let's first start with, when 15 did you first become aware, when did you first 16 become involved, and when did the name Maher Arar 17 mean something to you?

18 MR. FRY: I think the way this 19 first came to our attention was the media were 20 asking questions. So in fact it would have been 21 through Isabelle Savard, and I guess through media 22 relations at Foreign Affairs, that the media were 23 starting to ask questions about a Canadian that 24 had been detained in New York.

25 Because of that, we then started

1 to ask the department questions about it, "Well, 2 what is this about? Can you tell us what this is 3 about?" A Q&A is generally the quickest way to 4 get sort of a quick turn-around. Often there is a 5 backgrounder attached to a Q&A, so it is sort of 6 the basic questions that the Minister could expect 7 to be asked, some suggested answers, and bit of a 8 background on what this was about.

9 So I would say, for our needs, 10 when there was something being raised that we 11 wanted some quick answers to we would generally 12 request a Q&A. If it was really, really urgent, 13 we would pick up the phone and try to identify the 14 right person that could get us those answers for 15 the Minister.

16 MR. DAVID: Can you identify for 17 us when Mr. Arar became a reality to you, to the 18 job you fulfilled?

19 MR. FRY: I think the Minister
20 started -- we started getting questions on around 21 the 12th of October, which would be the end of 22 that week. So the 11th, 12th there started to be 23 questions raised in the media about, you know, a 24 Canadian that had been detained.

25 So what would happen is, there

1 would be calls coming in to Foreign Affairs asking
2 for the Minister's comment, asking the Minister 3 for an interview, you know: What does the 4 Minister have to say about this? Then we would 5 start to ask questions at our level like "Who is 6 this person and what happened?" We would start to 7 ask for information about the case.

8 MR. DAVID: Do you recall when you
9 first spoke to the Minister about Maher Arar?

10 MR. FRY: No, I don't recall 11 exactly the first time. It would have been 12 probably to prepare him for either Question Period 13 or a media scrum. You would have our Director of 14 Communications there, possibly the Legislative 15 Assistant, the Chief of Staff, and myself.

16 I would probably be the person 17 expected to know -- the keeper of more of the 18 detail and the background. The Director of 19 Communications would just want the basic outlines.
20 So we would have tried, again, to give the 21 Minister a quick two-minute version on, "In case 22 you are asked a question about this, this is what 23 we know, Minister."

24 MR. DAVID: Is it fair to say 25 that the Minister would be relying most on you in

1 terms of being briefed on what was happening on 2 the Arar fact line?

3 MR. FRY: At this particular time?

4 MR. DAVID: At this time.

5 MR. FRY: Yes.

6 MR. DAVID: How were you briefed?
7 How did you become familiar with the fact line?

8 MR. FRY: Well, there is the 9 official sort of way you are supposed to be 10 briefed and then there is the for expediency's 11 sake you sometimes have to take other measures.
12 I mean, the official way for me to be briefed 13 would probably be to sort of talk to the Deputy 14 Minister's office and ask, "I would like to 15 find out about this", and then a briefing would be 16 organized.

17 As I guess you get more
18 comfortable in your role and as the department 19 gets more comfortable with you, then you can pick 20 up the phone and speak to an Assistant Deputy 21 Minister, a Director General, or even go farther 22 down in to the department and get sort of more -- 23 because generally the keeper of the detail are 24 sort of the desk officers and the people down 25 there, especially in the beginning.

1                   The other person I would rely 2                   on, because this was a consular matter, was Gar 3                   Pardy. Gar Pardy -- anything consular, I mean, he 4                   would be the guy I would go to. He and I had a 5                   good enough relationship that we would speak on 6                   the phone.

7                   MR. DAVID: So are you saying
8                   that in this time period, in October of 2002, you 9                   were already familiar with Gar and that you knew 10                  Mr. Pardy?

11                  MR. FRY: Yes, yes.

12                  MR. DAVID: Had you dealt with him 13                  on other cases?

14                  MR. FRY: Gar Pardy is somewhat 15                  legendary in Foreign Affairs. When I was there, 16                  as you mentioned, for four months in 1995, Gar
17                  Pardy was doing the same job. This was, I 18                  guess -- I came in 2002, so seven years later he 19                  was still in the same position, which is sort of 20                  rare in Foreign Affairs because you have rotations 21                  and people move. Gar Pardy was still doing the 22                  same job as Director General of Consular Affairs.
23                  Whenever I thought of consular he was the guy I 24                  would go to. He was the keeper of all things 25                  consular and, in fact, was revered within the

1 department as -- on consular matters, everyone
2 turned to Gar.

3 MR. DAVID: Do you recall speaking
4 to Mr. Pardy in this time period about Maher Arar?

5 MR. FRY: I don't recall
6 specifically, there were so many conversations.
7 Based just on the manner of operating, I would 8 probably have spoken to Gar around this time, the 9 middle of October, to get as much information as I
10 could about the case of Mr. Arar.

11 MR. DAVID: Are you able to 12 recall, Mr. Fry, what the Minister had been 13 briefed -- what was he briefed on? What was 14 he told about Arar in the beginning stages of 15 the affair?

16 MR. FRY: In the beginning it
17 would have been: A Canadian was detained in New 18 York, suspected of links to terrorism, and he was 19 in New York and now we don't know where he is. In 20 the beginning it was: Where is Mr. Arar?

21 By the time we came into play,
22 Mr. Arar was now gone, he was no longer in New 23 York, and the whole thing was: Where is he?

24 So in the initial weeks we were 25 trying to find out where Mr. Arar was. We had

1           narrowed it down to three places: He was either 2           still in the United States somewhere. Some 3           people -- there was speculation it could be 4           Guantanamo Bay. There was Jordan, and then Syria.
5           Basically we were looking in those three -- we 6           were briefed and the Minister was briefed that:
7           We don't know. Mr. Arar was in New York, he is no 8           longer in New York, we are told he is been 9           deported, but we don't know where he is now.

10                         MR. DAVID: How was it explained 11           to you that there was a possibility that he would 12           be in Jordan or Syria at this early stage, before 13           he is confirmed there?

14                         MR. FRY: I mean, there was a bit 15           of confusion on our -- we were trying to figure 16           out, you know, why -- you know, why don't we know
17           where he is? How come somebody doesn't know? You 18           know, sometimes it takes a couple of days because 19           people are in transit, but after a couple of days 20           and we still didn't know where he was, I mean we 21           were basically informed that the United States 22           says they deported him, they don't have any more, 23           the Jordanians say they don't have him and the 24           Syrians say they don't have him.

25                                 Our missions -- I was basically

1 informed our missions -- and I think at the senior
2 levels, the Ambassadors were basically dispatched 3 to try and find -- you know, to inquire with their 4 governments, the local governments, and they were 5 basically told, no one knows where he is.

6 MR. DAVID: You can't explain why
7 Jordan and Syria were pointed to as being 8 possibilities?

9 MR. FRY: I think we were told -- 10 I mean, I think the Americans told us that they 11 had deported him to Syria. I can't remember why 12 we thought about Jordan.

13 MR. DAVID: Okay. So it was on 14 the indication of the Americans, basically.

15 MR. FRY: Yes.

16 MR. DAVID: Let's go to tab 94
17 now, Mr. Fry. There is a theme here that is being 18 developed, and that is basically your awareness, 19 your knowledge, your sensitivity to the fact that 20 there were allegations Mr. Arar could be the 21 subject of torture.

22 We have a letter that is 23 being issued by Amnesty International in the 24 United States that is going to James Ziglar, 25 the Commissioner of Immigration and

1 Naturalization Services in the U.S. It is dated 2 the 16th of October.

3 If you go to the second page of 4 the document, you will see there is a copy of this 5 letter that has been sent to Minister Graham, as 6 the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Canada. In 7 terms of the language that refers to torture, 8 first of all, the letter, in its second paragraph, 9 says that there is a concern or a fear that he may 10 have been deported to Syria.

11 If you go to the fourth paragraph,
12 the first two lines say the following:

13 "Amnesty International is 14 further concerned that 15 deportation to Syria would 16 place Maher Arar at risk of 17 serious human rights abuses
18 including torture and 19 incommunicado detention."

20 So this is a theme that is 21 being flagged to certainly the Commissioner in 22 the United States of Immigration -- INS, and it is 23 also being flagged to your Minister, Minister 24 Graham.

25 This is the same theme that you

1 will find if you go to tab 80 in the same volume.
2 There are references to various media articles 3 that are being uploaded into the CAMANT system.

4 If we just take the first two, you
5 have an article here that is coming from the New 6 York Times, it is dated October 12th. On the 7 first page you will see that Mr. Riad Saloojee is 8 being quoted here, and the quote is:

9 "There is a significant risk 10 that he will be tortured and 11 punished in Syria'."

12 So again the theme of abuse, human 13 rights abuses, torture, is being raised. It is 14 also being raised in an article that has been 15 reproduced that was in the Ottawa Citizen, again
16 on the 12th of October. That is the second 17 article in this tab. There is again a quote of 18 Mr. Saloojee, it is on page 3, the before-last 19 paragraph, and it says:

20 "Mr. Saloojee said Mr. Arar 21 may face severe punishment at 22 the hands of the Syrian
23 government because he avoided
24 compulsory military service
25 before leaving the country as

1 a teenager."

2 So in both media articles and in 3 official correspondence, Mr. Fry, it is clear that 4 there is a concern. There is an issue here that 5 Mr. Arar is being tortured or could be tortured.

6 I want to know how sensitive were 7 you to that reality at this early stage and 8 whether your Minister was briefed? Was it a 9 concern that was signalled to your Minister?

10 MR. FRY: Just one question. You 11 said the Amnesty letter came from the U.S. It is 12 the United Kingdom.

13 MR. DAVID: I'm sorry, it is from 14 the United Kingdom. U.K., I'm sorry. My mistake.

15 MR. FRY: If I might just say one 16 thing about correspondence, if we are talking 17 about the Amnesty letter.

18 The letter is not addressed to 19 the Minister. I will maybe just give you a bit of 20 a perspective about the amount of correspondence 21 that...

22 I think the Minister would receive 23 at least a thousand pieces of correspondence a 24 week, and there is an executive correspondence
25 unit at Foreign Affairs, and the correspondence

1 will go into there for reply. Certain pieces of 2 correspondence, high-profile pieces of 3 correspondence, would come up to us quickly.

4 Because this letter wasn't
5 addressed to him -- I mean, to be honest with you,
6 I don't think I ever saw this Amnesty letter.
7 One, because it wasn't addressed specifically to 8 the Minister and, I mean, there is enough, I 9 guess, just dealing with the correspondence that 10 is directly addressed to a Minister. When going 11 through the documents that I did look through, I 12 mean the documents that were had, and to my 13 knowledge I never saw this specific Amnesty
14 letter.

15 In terms of the general -- if your 16 question is about our general perceptions of what 17 was going to happen to Mr. Arar in Syria, I mean 18 at that particular time, as I told you, we didn't 19 know where he was. I think I have already 20 testified that. We had general knowledge of 21 countries like Syria, China and Saudi Arabia that 22 don't have very good human rights records, but 23 based on media reports, I mean, to be honest with 24 you, there is -- I mean, I don't -- maybe you 25 could repeat to me exactly, where you would like

1 me to answer.

2 MR. DAVID: I'm happy to do so.

3 Let me ask you: At the early
4 stages you identified October 11th as being a 5 possible date where you were first made aware of 6 Maher Arar.

7 MR. FRY: Right.

8 MR. DAVID: Then we see the Q&A
9 coming out for October 16th, thereabouts.

10 Was Maher Arar identified within 11 your office -- I'm talking about the political 12 office -- as being a high profile case, as being a 13 high priority? Was it dealt with on that basis at 14 the beginning?

15 MR. FRY: Any time a Canadian is 16 imprisoned abroad and people are talking about 17 connections to terrorist organizations, in this 18 case al-Qaeda -- we have to remember what was 19 happening in the world at that time. I think on 20 October 12th actually it was the Bali bombings 21 where 200 people, including some Canadians, had 22 been killed.

23 So this was -- I would say that it
24 was high profile in the sense that you had a 25 Canadian who had been detained in New York and was 1 being accused of having connections to terrorism.

2 But at the same time there are many Canadians -- I
3 think at any given time there are 3,000 Canadians
4 in jails around the world. The Minister, you
5 know, with all his other duties, consular matters
6 for the most part very rarely came all the way up 7 to the Minister's office. The fact that we were 8 dealing with this I think is an indication -- that 9 we were dealing it specifically in the Minister's 10 office was an indication of the serious nature 11 that we attributed to this.

12 MR. DAVID: To the extent that you 13 are going to be briefing your Minister, though he 14 is in Halifax and out of town on other business, 15 indicate to me what the procedure is here.

16 But would it be Isabelle Savard's 17 job -- that you have identified as being the 18 communications facilitator for the Minister, would 19 it be her job to be reviewing media reports on 20 issues that concern the Minister's mandate?

21 MR. FRY: Yes. We get clippings,
22 what we call clippings. We get mounds of them.
23 Anywhere they mention Foreign Affairs or issues of 24 Canadian foreign policy and the like, on a daily 25 basis we probably get something an inch thick with

1 media reports involving the Department of Foreign 2 Affairs and the Minister and the like.

3 MR. DAVID: In fact, we see that 4 the importance that can be given to media reports 5 and the very fact they are being integrated into 6 the CAMANT note system within DFAIT, certain media
7 reports are being uploaded into the system, and I
8 have referred you to two examples on October 12th.

9 MR. FRY: Right.

10 MR. DAVID: So my question was,
11 and we are coming back to the question: In the 12 early stages of your dealings with the Arar fact 13 line, with the Arar case, with the fact that there 14 was speculation that he may have been sent to 15 Jordan or Syria or the United States, as you said, 16 what presence did the issue of torture have in 17 your briefings, in your knowledge -- first of all, 18 your personal knowledge of the Arar fact line, and 19 in your briefings that you were giving to your 20 Minister in the early stages?

21 MR. FRY: It would have had very 22 little, to be honest. Our priority at this point 23 was trying to find out where Mr. Arar was. The 24 fact that some person mentions in some article
25 that, you know, Syria has a poor human rights

1 record and they abuse their citizens, that 2 wouldn't have factored in very highly.

3 MR. DAVID: Do you recall,
4 Mr. Fry, whether you ever briefed Mr. Graham about 5 the possibilities of human rights abuses?

6 MR. FRY: In Syria?

7 MR. DAVID: In Syria.

8 MR. FRY: No.

9 MR. DAVID: Do you recall ever
10 speaking to Mr. Pardy about that possibility, or 11 Mr. Pardy speaking to you about that possibility 12 existing in this scenario?

13 MR. FRY: You will have to sort
14 of -- I mean, things changed as the case evolved.
15 Are we still talking before we know where he is?

16 MR. DAVID: Yes.

17 MR. FRY: Our priority at that 18 particular time was trying to locate Mr. Arar. We 19 were doing everything we could. We were 20 sending -- we were branching out. I mean, 21 messages were being sent around the world to try 22 to locate Mr. Arar. That was our priority.

23 MR. DAVID: So you are making 24 certainly the distinction between how you were 25 dealing with the case before October 21st --

1           because that is the date that Syria confirms --

2                       MR. FRY:    Yes.

3                       MR. DAVID:  -- that they hold and 4           detain Mr. Arar -- before October 21st, and after 5           October 21st.

6                       Is that a fair statement?

7                       MR. FRY:    Yes.

8                       MR. DAVID:  My question is:  When 9           he is in an unknown location, is it your testimony 10          that basically the issue of torture, as far as you 11          are concerned, and as far as your Minister is 12          concerned, is not being addressed?  It is not a 13          live issue?

14                      MR. FRY:    Well, we wouldn't have 15          been dealing with that specific issue because we 16          didn't really know where he was.  If he was in -- 17          we wouldn't have just talked about him in a 18          general sense, and so it would have served no 19          purpose to talk about this until we knew where 20          Mr. Arar was.

21                      MR. DAVID:  Okay.  Once you do 22          have it confirmed that Mr. Arar is in Syria, which 23          is on October 21st --

24                      MR. FRY:    Yes.

25                      MR. DAVID:  -- thereafter is it a

1 concern, is it an issue that you are addressing 2 that your Minister is made aware of?

3 MR. FRY: What we would do at 4 that point is, we were requesting consular access 5 and we were relying on our people on the ground to 6 report back to us in terms of what Mr. Arar's
7 state was, what he looked like and the like. So 8 we were relying on our people on the ground in 9 Syria to report back to us and to give us their 10 best advice.

11 MR. DAVID: Okay. Do you recall
12 torture being a concern in those reports being 13 sent to you?

14 MR. FRY: I would imagine. The 15 reason we want consular access is to verify the 16 well-being of the Canadian in question. Any time 17 you are dealing with regimes -- I mean, we are 18 fortunate to live in the country that we live in, 19 because other than Western Europe and Canada, the 20 U.S., I mean, many countries have poor human 21 rights records, whether it is China, Vietnam, 22 Indonesia, most of the Middle Eastern countries.
23 I think any time that our people, our consular 24 people, are dealing with Canadians detained in 25 those areas, it is always something that you want

1 to be watching for.

2 MR. DAVID: Certainly today you
3 will agree with me, Mr. Fry, that today you
4 understand that Syria does mistreat certain 5 detainees? I think that everybody in this room 6 now is very sensitive to that reality as being 7 part of the Syrian reality?

8 MR. FRY: Sure.

9 MR. DAVID: My question is: Were 10 you as sensitive, as knowledgeable about that 11 issue at this time, October of 2002? Were you 12 alive to that issue, you personally?

13 MR. FRY: What I would say about 14 that is, I mean, in the Minister's office we have 15 to deal with the facts that are given to us, the 16 specifics. Just because someone says in a general 17 sense that a particular country, a particular 18 regime, has a bad track record, you know, we 19 couldn't just go out and start making accusations.

20 If you are going to tell me
21 that -- I mean, I have heard stories of people 22 abused in many, many countries, including the 23 United States.

24 So I mean, yes, I think in a
25 general sense I would have known that many of 1           those countries in the Middle East had bad track 2           records and did repress dissent and abuse their 3           citizens, but I wouldn't have known specifics and 4           I couldn't have told you how often or things like 5           that. I wouldn't have been able to tell you that.

6                           MR. DAVID: Okay. We can go now
7           to tab 95, which, for the record, is a follow-up 8           to tab 92, which was the request for the updated 9           Q&A. We see that Mr. Pardy here is responding and 10          sending on the consolidated updated 11          question-and-answer sheets.

12                           It is simply for the record I'm 13          indicating that. That is as of October 17th.

14                           Let's move on now to tab -- okay, 15          this is where we get into the funny business of 16          the newly redacted documents. I will refer you to 17          both tabs and that way, for the record, I think we 18          can make the correlation.

19                           The old tab number would be 20          172 and the new tab number would be tab 1 in what 21          we have identified as P-132.

22          --- Pause

23                           THE COMMISSIONER: Is this 24          referred to in the Table of Concordance?

25                           MR. DAVID: No, that is today's 1 issue so we don't have an updated.

2 THE COMMISSIONER: I see.

3 MR. DAVID: Basically it is, in 4 the old series, tab 172. In the new series it 5 would be tab 1.

6 It is a series of e-mails,
7 Mr. Fry, there are six e-mails in all, and you are 8 directly concerned. Basically on page 2, if I 9 refer you to the first e-mail, it is the second 10 message on that page and it is dated October 30th 11 at 7:45 p.m.?

12 MR. FRY: Yes.

13 MR. DAVID: It is coming from you
14 and it is going to Gar Pardy.

15 MR. FRY: Yes.

16 MR. DAVID: You are just asking
17 him basically to keep you in the loop.

18 MR. FRY: Yes.

19 MR. DAVID: So can you just give 20 us where was this coming from?

21 MR. FRY: Well, because this was a
22 priority for our office, and because information
23 didn't always flow very quickly through briefing 24 notes and the like, I'm telling Gar here that 25 because this story keeps evolving in this case of

1 Mr. -- I mean, there seems to be things happening
2 on a regular basis, on a daily basis, I'm asking
3 Gar to keep us briefed and especially the people
4 listed here: Dan, being the Chief of Staff, 5 Isabelle Savard being the Director of 6 Communications, Michelle Lobo, the Legislative 7 Assistant.

8 I'm sure Isabelle is going to be 9 very happy with me that my e-mail has been -- 10 Isabelle had gotten so many e-mails she wasn't 11 able to read it, so Gilles Plouffe is her
12 assistant.

13 This is my way of asking Gar to 14 keep us up to date as soon as he knows or hears 15 anything. Because things are happening so often, 16 it was important to us.

17 I mean it is an embarrassing
18 situation for a Minister to be in a scrum and the 19 reporters know more about what is going on than he 20 would. So I'm asking Gar to make sure that -- I'm 21 not saying that that happened, but this is a way 22 to avoid this from happening, was for his staff to 23 be given this information as quickly as possible
24 rather than it go through some sort of a briefing 25 note or waiting for a Q&A or something like that.

1 MR. DAVID: So basically it
2 is a response to the media coverage that you 3 are hearing?

4 MR. FRY: Yes. By this time, by 5 October 30th, this has become a very high profile
6 case, and we want to make sure that we have all 7 the up-to-date information as quickly as possible.

8 MR. DAVID: If we go to page 1 of 9 this tab, at the very bottom, there is a message
10 again going from you to Gar, and it says "Thanks" 11 and it goes on to page 2:

12 "When does his wife get back?
13 We were thinking of meeting
14 the family next week."

15 So there is obviously here an idea
16 that maybe you would have been meeting with Ms Mazigh.
17 Would that meeting have been with the Minister?

18 MR. FRY: I think we would have 19 talked about it. It either would have been myself 20 or myself and the Minister.

21 MR. DAVID: Then if we go to 22 page 1, we see that Gar is responding that she is 23 going to be returning mid-November.

24 MR. FRY: Yes.

25 MR. DAVID: So there is obviously

1 direct communication between you and Mr. Pardy.
2 My question is: How close were you in terms of 3 following the Arar time-line, the fact line? Was 4 it a daily affair with you and Mr. Pardy
5 discussing this case?

6 How often were you discussing the 7 matter with Mr. Pardy?

8 MR. FRY: Well, as you can see, I
9 rely heavily on Mr. Pardy to keep me briefed, and 10 therefore the Minister briefed, on everything that 11 was going on. As you mention, my e-mail, I'm 12 actually asking for his advice on the meeting.

13 I know that Gar and his consular
14 officials are dealing with the family. I mean, 15 that is their role as the consular officials in 16 the Department of Foreign Affairs is to deal with 17 family members and things like that.

18 But because of the nature, the 19 important nature of this case, we are actually 20 looking at possibly having a meeting at our level.

21 MR. DAVID: Was there anybody else
22 within the Office of the Minister that was also 23 dealing with consular affairs, with Gar Pardy,
24 with consular staff, within your office?

25 MR. FRY: Both Isabelle Savard and

1 Michelle Lobo would have, like me, wanted to get 2 the most up-to-date facts of what was happening of 3 the case. So I believe from time to time they may 4 have spoken to Gar Pardy, but generally I think 5 they relied on me -- I was sort of the main 6 liaison with Gar. Gar was my main liaison on this 7 case with the department apparatus and I would 8 keep Isabelle and Michelle in the loop the best I 9 could. But there may have been times when they 10 spoke directly to him.

11 MR. DAVID: Okay. If we could now
12 go to P-133, which are your personal notes? I 13 believe it is the small extract here, Mr. Fry. It 14 is probably in the corner there.

15 Is that P-133? These are your 16 personal notes?

17 MR. FRY: Yes.

18 MR. DAVID: Okay. If you could go
19 to page 11. We are just following the chronology
20 of events here, it an entry for November 7th.

21 I bring your attention to the 22 bottom. It says, "Syria - Arar" and, I think,
23 "Treatment of Canadian Arar consular."

24 Then you may want to go to -- 25 Do you know what these notes

1 refer to?

2 MR. FRY: Well, sometimes these 3 are notes in terms of things that -- issues that 4 we need information on.

5 I mean, I think the first part 6 here, the "br", "briefing MPs and staff" on 7 something. I'm not sure, it may have been on 8 Arar, it may not have been.

9 MR. DAVID: Maybe if you go
10 to page 19 of your notes there is a reference
11 and I believe it is for the same date, November 12 7th. It says at the very top, "Meeting with 13 Secretary Powell."

14 MR. FRY: Yes.

15 MR. DAVID: Does that ring a bell?
16 Do you recall what the 17 circumstances of that were?

18 MR. FRY: Well, this would have 19 been either my notes of the meeting with Powell or 20 things that needed to be done or I needed to 21 prepare in anticipation of that.

22 MR. DAVID: This meeting occurred
23 on November the 14th?

24 MR. FRY: I'm not sure what the 25 date is on this. The Minister did meet with

1 Powell on November 14th, but I'm not sure if this 2 is connected to that.

3 MR. DAVID: Okay. We can go to 4 tab 2. This is the old 197, now tab 2. It is an 5 entry again, I believe, for November the 7th.

6 If you could go to the first page 7 of that tab, you are referring to --

8 --- Pause

9 MR. DAVID: Actually, it is the 10 top message. It is at the very top, it says:

11 "Thanks for all this, Gar.

12 Please keep me posted - 13 Arar especially. We will 14 raise some of these with 15 Powell tomorrow."

16 So that would be, I suggest, a 17 message on November 13th with regard to the 18 meeting with Mr. Powell on the 14th?

19 MR. FRY: Yes.

20 MR. DAVID: If we go to tab 199,
21 which is now tab 3, we have the actual briefing 22 note that was prepared for the Minister with 23 regard to his meeting?

24 MR. FRY: Yes.

25 MR. DAVID: Mr. Graham has

1 testified extensively about this so I'm just 2 bringing that out for the record.

3 If we could now go to tab 214,
4 please, which is an entry for the 18th of 5 November.

6 --- Pause

7 MR. DAVID: This is an update
8 going from Gar to you, and it is an update about 9 the consular visit, the fact that Mr. Arar was 10 visited for a third time on November 12th.

11 Did you receive the consular
12 reports when such were filed?

13 MR. FRY: The consular reports
14 came in something we called a C-4, which is a 15 secure network that Foreign Affairs has. I'm 16 sure you are well-versed with it now, but it is 17 a secure network that we have with all our 18 embassies, so they report back. So you 19 actually have to have a separate computer with a 20 separate tower.

21 It is sort of complicated. They 22 were printed for our office and I would get a 23 daily stack of all the C-4s from around the world
24 and I would try and look through them.

25 High profile cases, we tried to

1 pull out the high profile ones. I do believe I
2 was seeing -- or I was asking to see any reports
3 on Mr. Arar that were coming from our embassies
4 abroad, I guess in this case Damascus. But Gar
5 would also brief me. I would also get verbal
6 briefs from Mr. Pardy as well, and e-mail, as you 7 can see.

8 MR. DAVID: Okay. If we could 9 go to tab 4 now in the small binder, which is old 10 tab 215.

11 This is a briefing note for the 12 Minister and at the very top it is referring to 13 the subject matter, and it says:

14 "Telephone call to Mr. Farouk
15 al-Shara'a, Minister of 16 Foreign Affairs of Syria..."

17 This call in fact did not occur.
18 It occurred in fact on the 16th of January 2003,
19 but we see that in this time period, November 20 18th, there was a call that was being 21 contemplated.

22 Do you recall the circumstances
23 about that call and why it never took place?

24 MR. FRY: I think that I may 25 have asked the department. In consular matters --

1           and I think the Minister sort of testified -- we 2           rely on the experience of our diplomats and Gar 3           Pardy and our senior officials, but you sort of 4           try and ramp up I guess the chain in terms of 5           putting pressure on a particular country in a 6           particular case.

7                           I think I actually asked, because 8           of the pressure on the Minister and the like, that 9           we should get the Minister to call the Foreign 10          Minister. So the department actually prepared 11          some notes for that. I think we were told that he 12          wasn't available at that particular time.

13                          But I think there was also advice 14          saying: Well, perhaps we should call in the 15          Ambassador first before we rushed to talk to the 16          Foreign Minister. So we held off on the call.

17                          I think he wasn't available but we 18          also held off on the call.

19                          The other thing, I think -- and I 20          don't have the Minister's schedule in front of 21          me -- there were also narrow windows of 22          opportunity in the Minister's schedule, because 23          you had time change -- I think Syria is about a 24          seven- or eight-hour time change, so unless you do 25          a call sort of by midday, it is already too late.

1                   When I talk about "window", the 2                   Minister would also travel. I think he went to 3                   Prague around this time, there was the EU summit, 4                   there was the NATO summit. So what may have 5                   happened was we talked about doing it, the 6                   Minister wasn't available, and we sort of -- 7                   sorry, Minister Shara'a wasn't available and then 8                   Minister Graham sort of got overtaken by other 9                   events and I think the advice may have been from 10                  senior ADM that, "Well, let's call in the Syrian 11                  Ambassador first. We may be jumping ahead of 12                  ourselves to go right to a phone call to the 13                  Foreign Minister.

14                  At the same time I think we were 15                  getting reports. We were seeing Mr. Arar on a 16                  regular basis. We had been in to see him I think 17                  at least three times by this point. We were 18                  getting reports that he looked good, that he was 19                  fine. He wasn't happy that he was detained, but 20                  we knew where he was and we were comfortable that 21                  he seemed to be fine and now we were focusing on 22                  trying to get him out.

23                  MR. DAVID: Okay. Moving along 24                  now to November 21st and 22nd. We know, Mr. Fry, 25                  that CSIS went to Syria, visited Syria.

1                   Let me first ask you: Were you,
2                   in this time period when it was occurring or 3                   proposed to occur, were you aware of that fact?

4                   MR. FRY: No, I wasn't.

5                   MR. DAVID: When did you become 6                   aware of the fact that CSIS went to Syria?

7                   MR. FRY: I believe it was early 8                   January, just after the Christmas break in early 9                   January.

10                  MR. DAVID: Do you recall how you 11                  learned about that trip?

12                  MR. FRY: I learned from 13                  Gar Pardy.

14                  MR. DAVID: What were you told 15                  about the trip?

16                  MR. FRY: Gar Pardy told me that 17                  CSIS had been to Syria, that they had been there 18                  not because of Mr. Arar but because it is part of 19                  their general intelligence-gathering and sort of 20                  relationship-building. I may have asked: Well, 21                  you know, what about the case of Mr. Arar? I was 22                  told, no, they didn't meet with him. It was one 23                  item that was discussed.

24                  MR. DAVID: I would like to bring 25                  you now to Mr. Pillarella's documents. That is

1 P-134 and it would be tab 8. This is a document, 2 in its present form, that became available to us
3 only very recently.

4 It is a message that is going
5 from -- there are two messages in this document.

6 The top one concerns a message
7 from ISI going to Ambassador Pillarella in 8 Damascus. You will see that there is reference to 9 Jim Wright in Prague.

10 If you recall, I think your 11 Minister was in Prague for a NATO Summit Meeting?

12 MR. FRY: Yes.

13 MR. DAVID: Did you accompany
14 Mr. Graham on this trip to Prague?

15 MR. FRY: No, I didn't.

16 MR. DAVID: Okay.

17 I would like to bring you to the 18 language, it is about in the middle part of the 19 top paragraph, and it says:

20 "You will remember that at an 21 interdepartmental meeting
22 held on Wednesday,
23 November 6, it was agreed
24 that it would be useful if 25 CSIS were to travel to Syria

1 to speak to Syrian
2 authorities on international
3 terrorism. In light of 4 recent media reporting on 5 Arar, we had doubts about the 6 timeliness of the CSIS visit,
7 although not about its 8 substance. This issue went 9 before the Minister on 10 November the 18."

11 I would suggest to you that that 12 is Minister Graham.

13 "He did not wish to defer the 14 visit; however, he indicated
15 that he wished to have a full
16 report on the visit and the
17 discussions with the Syrians
18 before he communicated with 19 the Syrian Foreign Minister."

20 So what is being alluded to in 21 this document, Mr. Fry, is the fact that,
22 within -- and if you go to the bottom message, 23 actually, which is the first message -- which is 24 coming from Mr. Solomon again to Mr. Pillarella 25 the day before -- you will read that it says:

1 "For your personal
2 information, following a
3 meeting with DMA..."

4 That is the Associate Deputy 5 Minister, Paul Thibeault?

6 MR. FRY: Yes.

7 MR. DAVID: Then:

8 "...of 18 November, senior
9 DFAIT representatives asked 10 CSIS to delay their visit to 11 Syria. While CSIS indicated
12 that they would not attempt 13 to visit Maher Arar, they 14 still intended to continue 15 with their planned visit to 16 (somewhere).... PCO chose 17 not to intervene on this 18 debate, so unless the 19 Minister attempts to block
20 this visit, CSIS will arrive
21 in Damascus on schedule.
22 Updates to follow."

23 There is clearly concern about the 24 trip being expressed by DFAIT representatives.

25 I'm asking you: Were you aware of

1           this debate of this concern, and were you aware 2           that your Minister, according to the second 3           message on the top, seems to have been briefed and 4           asked to intervene directly and chose not to?

5                           Do you have any knowledge in that 6           regard?

7                           MR. FRY:   In answer to your first 8           question, no, I was not aware of this debate.  As 9           I said, the first time I became aware of the CSIS
10          visit I believe was in early January.

11                          In terms of the Minister, I think 12          this is incorrect.  To my knowledge, this issue 13          didn't go before the Minister.  In fact, the 14          Minister was not aware of the CSIS visit either.

15                          MR. DAVID:  What is that knowledge 16          based on, Mr. Fry, that you can assert today that 17          in your opinion Mr. Graham was not asked to 18          intervene in this regard?

19                          MR. FRY:  Or that the issue even 20          went before him.

21                          MR. DAVID:  Or that the issue went 22          before him?

23                          MR. FRY:  I guess it is based on 24          my -- I mean, I have spoken prior to coming -- I 25          mean, I was aware of this document as well and in

1 my preparations for this I did talk to other
2 members of the staff, and I think the Minister
3 testified as well he was not aware of this. None
4 of us briefed him to that effect and he personally 5 was not aware of it.

6 MR. DAVID: To your knowledge, 7 certain issues such as this one, would they be 8 dealt with by the Deputy Minister or the Associate 9 Deputy Minister without ever going to the 10 Minister's level and being attributed to the 11 Minister?

12 Did you ever see that happen
13 before?

14 MR. FRY: It is rare. I mean, you
15 normally would not say that an issue had gone 16 before the Minister if it hadn't gone before the 17 Minister. I mean, mistakes can occur.

18 I mean, Mr. Jonathan Solomon, he 19 would not interact with the Minister and I think 20 it is fair to say he would be far down the chain.
21 So someone may have told Mr. Solomon that this 22 occurred and then he put it in a note. There 23 could have been a misunderstanding when someone 24 spoke to him.

25 I can't explain. All I can speak

1 to is that to my knowledge this issue did not go
2 before the Minister and that the first time that I
3 learned about this was right around the Christmas
4 break, right after Christmas.

5 MR. DAVID: Do you have any 6 knowledge, Mr. Fry, about anybody within the 7 political office of the Minister ever being 8 sensitized to the issue before you found out
9 in January?

10 MR. FRY: I don't think so. I
11 spoke to other members of the staff in the lead-up 12 to the inquiry and I don't think anyone -- I mean, 13 I definitely wasn't aware of the debate around 14 CSIS' visit.

15 Someone may have learned just 16 before the Christmas break, like the 20th or 21st, 17 about the CSIS visit. I mean, I heard some talk 18 to that effect. I think the first time that our 19 office was made aware was when I was made aware by 20 Mr. Pardy in early January.

21 MR. DAVID: When Mr. Pardy did 22 make you aware of this fact, that they had gone to 23 Syria, was he concerned about it? Was he 24 expressing concern about it? Was he expressing an 25 opinion about it to you?

1 MR. FRY: It is hard for me to 2 speculate. I don't know -- I mean, Mr. Pardy sort 3 of just gave me the information about the fact
4 that CSIS had been there. But he was actually -- 5 I mean, he was pretty clear in his -- the way it 6 was framed for me was, well, they were -- it was 7 almost like they were going anyways, and just 8 since they were there and the Arar case was an 9 item, an issue between our two countries, that it 10 was one of the items that was discussed. But in 11 fact it was framed to me as more of a visit that 12 had already been planned or that they were already 13 going to be making to Syria.

14 MR. DAVID: How did you react?
15 You are told by Mr. Pardy of this fact in 16 January, a couple of months after it has occurred.
17 How do you react to that, to the fact that you 18 were not briefed, that your Minister was not 19 briefed, and that you are finding out two months
20 after the fact?

21 What was your reaction?

22 MR. FRY: I think you can predict
23 my reaction, Mr. Commissioner. I mean, I was 24 unhappy. This was obviously a very important 25 case, high profile. You have seen e-mails where I

1 am asking to be briefed on almost a daily basis, 2 and here I find out about something relatively 3 significant -- I guess maybe the way it was framed
4 to me that made it less significant was: Well, 5 they were going anyways and they just happened to 6 talk about Mr. Arar. They didn't meet with 7 Mr. Arar." Maybe it was framed that way to 8 downplay the importance of it, but I was unhappy 9 and frustrated. This kind of thing should be 10 brought to our attention sooner and not two months
11 after the fact.

12 MR. DAVID: Did you pursue the 13 matter with anybody else, with your Minister, with 14 any other official within DFAIT?

15 MR. FRY: Well, Mr. Commissioner,
16 I think -- it is a regular occurrence in the jobs 17 that we have where Ministers get surprised by 18 issues, are not always briefed on issues, 19 sometimes someone decides not to brief us or tell 20 us. So, I mean, I think it is a regular 21 frustration in any Minister's office that things 22 happen that they are not really told about.

23 I mean, it happens to me in 24 my current job, it has happened to me throughout 25 my career that sometimes things just don't make

1           their way up, or some official doesn't think it is 2           necessary.

3                               So there had been other occasions
4           where things -- I'm not talking about the Arar
5           case, I'm talking about other cases, where things
6           had occurred that we weren't briefed about, so I
7           guess I would have chalked that up to just another 8           situation where either someone thought we had been 9           told or been briefed and hadn't. I don't recall 10          that I took any sort of punitive action. I guess 11          my reaction would have been to brief the Minister 12          right away and to brief other staff in our office 13          right away.

14                              MR. DAVID: Okay.

15                              Let's go now to December 12th. It 16          is your personal notes, and I would refer you to 17          page 12, there is an entry. Your personal notes, 18          page 12? It simply says "Arar", and I think it 19          says, "Call. Agree to meet."

20                              Do you recall what that entry 21          is about?

22                              MR. FRY: I think it was a call to 23          Mrs. Mazigh.

24                              MR. DAVID: Do you know for --

25                              MR. FRY: I mean these are sort

1 of sometimes me just reminding myself to do
2 different things.

3 MR. DAVID: Let's go to tab 5.
4 That would be the old tab 262.

5 It refers to the fact that your 6 Minister is meeting or going to meet the 7 Ambassador of Syria, Mr. Arnous.

8 In this document at tab 5 there 9 are two preliminary meetings and calls before the 10 actual meeting with the Ambassador. The first 11 concerns the fact that Minister Graham spoke with 12 Monia Mazigh and with Marlene Catterall. There 13 was a conference call prior to the Arnous visit.

14 Did you participate in that 15 conference call?

16 MR. FRY: Yes, I did.

17 MR. DAVID: Do you recall what 18 was discussed?

19 MR. FRY: This was the Minister's 20 opportunity to speak to Mrs. Mazigh directly, I 21 believe, and Marlene Catterall was also part of 22 that call, she being her Member of Parliament.

23 MR. DAVID: Okay. The very last 24 paragraph on the first page says:

25 "Minister Graham discussed

1                   the case with Mrs. Arar who 2                   asked how long her husband
3                   may be detained. The 4                   Minister replied that we did 5                   not know and did not have any 6                   control over the length of 7                   the process."

8                   Does that reflect, to your 9                   recollection, what was discussed?

10                  MR. FRY: Yes.

11                  MR. DAVID: Do you want to add 12                  anything else to that phone call?

13                  MR. FRY: All I would say here --
14                  I mean, I had been speaking with the family, and I 15                  know our consular officials were speaking with 16                  them on a sort of regular basis, and this was just 17                  an opportunity to -- I wanted to give -- part of 18                  this was for me to reassure Mrs. Mazigh that we 19                  were doing everything we could for her and for her 20                  husband. I knew that she could get the 21                  information and things that she needed from our 22                  consular people, but I wanted her to know that at 23                  the highest levels at Foreign Affairs, in the 24                  Minister's office, me, as one of his key advisors, 25                  that we were doing our very best to help her and

1 her husband and that -- I in fact arranged the 2 phone call so she could hear it directly from the 3 Minister that he was personally engaged on this 4 file and was taking personal attention to try to 5 help Mr. Arar.

6 MR. DAVID: On page 2, there is 7 also reference to a meeting with Sarkis
8 Assadourian and Marlene Catterall with yourself
9 and with Mr. Pardy.

10 Do you recall attending
11 that meeting?

12 MR. FRY: I don't actually recall
13 attending that meeting.

14 MR. DAVID: Okay. It says:
15 "Pardy and Fry briefed the 16 MPs on the case."

17 MR. FRY: Yes. I could have been 18 there. Generally when the department briefed 19 Members of Parliament we had a member of the 20 political staff there. I mean, I probably was 21 there, but I don't have any recollection of that 22 meeting per se. I think it would have probably 23 been generally a briefing to them on what we knew 24 up until this point.

25 MR. DAVID: Then there is

1 reference, finally, to the actual -- I believe
2 there was a telephone call between Minister Graham
3 and Mr. Arnous?

4 MR. FRY: No.

5 MR. DAVID: It was a meeting?

6 MR. FRY: We called him in, in the 7 diplomatic sense.

8 MR. DAVID: In the diplomatic 9 sense?

10 MR. FRY: It is a bit of a -- you
11 know, when a country is unhappy with the actions 12 of another country, you call in the Ambassador to 13 express your concern.

14 MR. DAVID: The concerns
15 being expressed by the Minister here were as 16 reflected in this document, basically unhappy
17 about the fact that Mr. Arar was being detained 18 and there was no trial?

19 I refer you to the middle -- or 20 just below, it says:

21 "Robert Fry asked if he had 22 any idea how long the process
23 may continue."

24 That is referring to the 25 investigation. Then the Ambassador replies.

1                   So you directly intervened in 2                   this meeting?

3                   MR. FRY:   Yes.   I mean, I -- I
4                   didn't always intervene.  On some occasions, if -- 5                   I mean, these are diplomatic meetings.  You have 6                   an Ambassador, you have a Foreign Minister, and 7                   different issues are raised.

8                   I think the Minister was -- 9                   Ambassador Arnous, in fact, had been very helpful
10                  and is a very -- was very helpful to us.  In fact, 11                  we got the sense that Ambassador Arnous was in 12                  fact trying to help us, was being very 13                  cooperative.

14                  But I guess I pressed him here
15                  to -- I think he was talking about the Syrians had 16                  their own process, that they had to investigate 17                  Mr. Arar and they were doing their own 18                  investigation.  He was talking in generalities and 19                  so I tried to press him, saying, "How long, 20                  Ambassador Arnous?  We would want to bring 21                  Mr. Arar back to Canada.  Can you give us any idea 22                  of how long it is going to be?"

23                  MR. DAVID:  We can move on now to 24                  tab 288, which is tab 6 in the newly redacted 25                  documents.  It is an entry for the 16th of January

1           2003. It is a briefing note actually on the 15th
2           of January, but it refers to a call on the 16th
3           between Minister Graham and the Foreign Minister
4           of Syria.

5                           I would like to bring you to 6           page 2 of the briefing note first before
7           discussing the actual call, Mr. Fry. There is a 8           concern -- it is the last bullet on page 2 here, 9           and the concern being expressed to Mr. Graham is:

10                           "I understand from recent 11                           reports that the Syrian 12                           authorities may have the 13                           impression that Canada has no
14                           wish to see Mr. Arar return 15                           to Canada. I would like to 16                           make it very clear that the 17                           Canadian government would 18                           like Mr. Arar to be returned 19                           to Canada."

20                           There seems to be an allusion 21           here in the message, in the briefing note to the 22           Minister, that maybe there is mixed messages 23           that are going to the Syrians. I just want to 24           know what was your appreciation of this issue at 25           this time?

1                   MR. FRY: We were advised that, I
2 think, reports coming back from Damascus, that the 3 Syrians were telling us that they felt like they 4 were getting mixed messages.

5                   MR. DAVID: Maybe it would be 6 useful, before you pursue your answer, if you go 7 to page 3 of the document, of the same tab, the 8 last paragraph on the page. It says:

9                   "CSIS has had discussions
10 with the Syrian authorities
11 concerning Arar."

12                   Then it says:

13                   "...informed the Ambassador 14 that, according to his 15 information, CSIS had 16 indicated to Syrian military 17 intelligence that they have 18 no wish to see Mr. Arar
19 return to Canada and are 20 quite content with the way
21 things are. CSIS has 22 informed the Department that 23 this is not the case, that 24 they only told the Syrians
25 that Arar was not an active

1 target or priority for them."

2 So that is really the context in 3 which this call -- or one of the contexts in which 4 this call is going to occur. I just want your 5 appreciation of this issue of mixed messages or 6 confused messages.

7 MR. FRY: Maybe I can give the 8 Commissioner a bit of context as well?

9 I understand the focus of this, I
10 mean the inquiry and everything is Mr. Arar, but I 11 would like just to get people to remember what was 12 happening in the world at this time.

13 This was the lead-up to the Iraq
14 war. So if you go back, in fact it might be 15 useful for the Commission to -- you can see how 16 the case of Mr. Arar and what was happening at the 17 same time and where the focus of Foreign Affairs 18 and the focus of the Minister was.

19 In October, for instance -- or 20 September was when President Bush went to the 21 Security Council, or went to the U.N. and made a 22 big speech about how they wanted to work with the 23 U.N. Then it was the big lead-up to the Security 24 Council Resolution where Iraq had to sort of 25 divulge -- you know, put everything on the table,

1 allow inspectors back in. Then there was sort of 2 the big deadline in December where if they didn't 3 submit all the reports by December, I think it was 4 7th or 8th -- so there was a lot of -- the Middle 5 East was very topical and it was in the news.

6 In fact, I think you may see that 7 the Minister's is actually advised in the call 8 that the subject or the main -- don't just talk 9 about Mr. Arar in your call. For the Syrians,
10 this is a very small issue. They are worried 11 about American invasion, they are worried about 12 war in Iraq. There are a lot of other things 13 going on in the world.

14 So in fact part of the Minister's 15 call he actually talks about some of these other 16 things which are much more topical for the Syrians 17 to eventually get to the case of Mr. Arar which, 18 to be frank, was the main subject, the main reason 19 why we were calling.

20 And, as you say, the main focus, 21 or the real message we wanted to get across, was 22 that the Minister of Foreign Affairs, speaking on 23 behalf of the Government of Canada, we wanted 24 Mr. Arar back and we wanted to dispel any 25 impressions that the Syrians had about mixed

1 messages from Canada, and that the Foreign 2 Minister -- the Foreign Minister was assuring 3 their Foreign Minister that this was the case.

4 The reason, I think, that this
5 was prominent was because we had just received 6 reports from Damascus, from the Syrians, I think 7 there had been a meeting with Ambassador 8 Pillarella where the Syrians had said a lot of 9 what is in this briefing note, that they were 10 getting mixed messages.

11 MR. DAVID: So you sat in on this 12 phone call and you heard the Minister address this 13 issue with his counterpart?

14 MR. FRY: Yes.

15 MR. DAVID: Was it around this
16 time or within this context that Mr. Pardy
17 informed you that CSIS had been to Syria in 18 November?

19 MR. FRY: I think I had learned a
20 little bit just prior to this phone call. If I 21 hadn't learned before -- I mean, obviously it is 22 laid out in this briefing note, but I think I
23 would have learned in the lead-up, in the days 24 before this, about the visit.

25 MR. DAVID: We move now to

1 tab 320. This is an entry for January 28th.

2 THE COMMISSIONER: Is this a good
3 time to break?

4 MR. DAVID: Sure.

5 THE COMMISSIONER: We will rise
6 for 15 minutes.

7 MR. DAVID: Thank you.

8 THE REGISTRAR: Please stand.

9 --- Upon recessing at 11:39 a.m. /
10 Suspension à 11 h 39

11 --- Upon resuming at 11:58 a.m. /
12 Reprise à 11 h 58

13 THE REGISTRAR: Please be seated.
14 Veuillez-vous asseoir.

15 THE COMMISSIONER: We want to make 16 our efforts to limit our breaks to the exact time.
17 We are running late today. I have arranged with 18 the staff that we will sit as late as 6:30, but we 19 will finish this witness today.

20 MR. DAVID: Thank you,
21 Mr. Commissioner.

22 THE COMMISSIONER: Let's go.

23 MR. DAVID: Thank you,
24 Mr. Commissioner.

25 Mr. Fry, if you could go to 1 tab 320. This is where we left off.

2 MR. FRY: Tab 320.

3 MR. DAVID: It is a series
4 of e-mails between Amnesty International and 5 yourself, Alex Neve and yourself. Mr. Neve is 6 expressing the desire -- and this is on page 2 of 7 the document, he wants to meet the Ambassador, 8 Ambassador Arnous. So there is back and forth 9 on that.

10 I guess my more general question
11 is not so much about the contents of these e-mails
12 as your relationship with NGOs and with Amnesty 13 International in this case. How does that fit in?
14 What was your approach in that regard?

15 MR. FRY: Well, Amnesty
16 International is a very credible and respected
17 NGO. Alex Neve, I have dealt with him on a 18 variety of issues. He was advocating on behalf of 19 helping Madam Mazigh and helping the family so I 20 did speak with him from time to time and listened 21 to what he had to say. They offered advice and 22 suggestions about things that we should do.

23 If you want to talk about NGOs
24 more generally, there is the whole range of NGOs.
25 You have some that are not very credible people,

1 smaller organizations, dissidents that want to 2 sort of disparage or talk negatively about a 3 particular issue or particular country, and they 4 will run out of people's basements but they just 5 call them the Canadian organization for so and so.
6 But you then have organizations highly respected
7 and credible like Amnesty and Alex.

8 MR. DAVID: Did you deal with any 9 other NGOs for the Arar fact line than Amnesty?

10 MR. FRY: Well, there were 11 individuals that -- like Mr. Riad Saloojee had 12 actually called me on one occasion, but frankly I
13 didn't really deal with him very often, except I 14 think I really met him for the first time was in 15 June.

16 When Madam Mazigh came in to meet
17 the Minister, she brought with her about four or 18 five organizations. I think the Canadian Labour
19 Congress was there, the Canadian Arab Federation, 20 Amnesty, and then there was some other 21 organizations. Is it Carey Pithers? I don't know 22 what organization she was from, but they were 23 helping her.

24 MR. DAVID: In the second message
25 you are saying to Alex:

1 "I would encourage you to
2 speak to the Syrian
3 Ambassador. He's been very 4 helpful."

5 That was your position, you felt
6 hat it was appropriate for Amnesty International 7 to be getting involved directly.

8 MR. FRY: Yes. I mean, they were 9 approaching us, Commissioner, telling us to do
10 this, telling us to do that. I was, in turn, 11 encouraging them to do some things they could do 12 that could be helpful, you know, speak with the 13 Ambassador and other things. I was trying to give 14 them a bit of direction.

15 As I said earlier, Ambassador
16 Arnous had been very helpful and cooperative and I
17 was encouraging them to go speak to him as well.
18 I thought a meeting with Madam Mazigh, Mr. Arar's 19 wife, would be useful.

20 MR. DAVID: Did you know Mr. Neve
21 from previous occasions before this?

22 MR. FRY: Yes, I had met him at 23 some -- yes. The Department of Foreign Affairs
24 has a consultation on human rights with all kinds 25 of NGOs and organizations and I had met him there.

1 MR. DAVID: Okay. If we could go
2 to tab 7, which is old tab 325. This is what is 3 called an "Action Memorandum to the Minister". It
4 is dated March 1st of 2003.

5 MR. FRY: Tab 7 of my documents?

6 MR. DAVID: Yes, the Robert Fry 7 collection.

8 MR. FRY: Okay.

9 MR. DAVID: Entitled "Action
10 Memorandum to the Minister." It is what is 11 referred to also as a deck, and there is a 12 reference to the existence of deck. That is in 13 the third paragraph, which says:

14 "You will recall that on 15 February 24 officials briefed
16 you and several members of 17 your staff on the matter and 18 distributed a deck detailing
19 the background and the 20 initiatives the department 21 would be taking to ensure 22 that there was closer 23 cooperation between 24 government agencies."

25 So the theme that is being

1 developed here is interdepartmental coherence.

2 MR. FRY: Yes.

3 MR. DAVID: That is referred to 4 extensively in this document.

5 Do you have any knowledge, any 6 contribution, to this theme and to this 7 initiative?

8 MR. FRY: Well, at this time
9 I would have strongly agreed with this initiative, 10 but to be fair, I never saw -- I don't recall 11 ever seeing this document or being made aware 12 that there was this process -- this process was 13 taking place.

14 I would agree that 15 interdepartmental coherence and cooperation would 16 have been a good thing.

17 MR. DAVID: So you would have had 18 occasion to read the contents of this tab?

19 MR. FRY: In preparation for 20 this inquiry --

21 MR. DAVID: In preparation for the 22 testimony.

23 MR. FRY: -- I have looked 24 through it.

25 MR. DAVID: So you did not have

1 knowledge of this initiative at this time --

2 MR. FRY: No.

3 MR. DAVID: -- when it was being 4 developed? You did not intervene in this regard?

5 MR. FRY: No. The other thing I
6 might point out is this is not in the form of an 7 Action Memo to the Minister that it normally would 8 be. It looks like a bit of a draft.

9 You have seen other examples of 10 memos to Ministers and they are laid out in a very 11 specific way. This is not. Maybe there is a 12 final version of this, but it is not signed by 13 anyone and it is just a -- it looks like it is the 14 content without the proper formatting.

15 I don't know if this actually ever
16 became a real memo to the Minister. I think I 17 would have seen it if it had come up to us.

18 MR. DAVID: So to your knowledge
19 you did not intervene in terms of your Minister 20 taking a position vis-à-vis the contents of this 21 memorandum?

22 MR. FRY: No. I mean Gar and I,
23 as I said, spoke on a regular basis, and I'm sure 24 the two of us talked about the importance of 25 interdepartmental cooperation or coherence,

1 especially in this case.

2 MR. DAVID: Okay. If I can bring 3 you now to tab 332. Now the date is March 4th and 4 the theme is the trip of the MPs, Ms Catterall and 5 Mr. Assadourian, to Syria.

6 MR. FRY: Yes.

7 MR. DAVID: There is a series of 8 e-mails. On the first page, one e-mail that comes 9 from you, it is going to Gar, and just below the 10 dotted line it says:

11 "Okay thanks, Gar.

12 I haven't really spoken
13 to either MP recently. They 14 may have decided to do this 15 on their own because we were 16 not getting back to them.
17 John McNee stalled me for the 18 longest time.

19 It may not be a bad thing 20 as this allows us to keep our 21 distance and make this a
22 Parliamentary initiative."

23 I just would like your comments
24 about this comment where you are suggesting you 25 seem to be inclined of qualifying the exercise as

1 a parliamentary initiative rather than as opposed 2 to perhaps an initiative of the Minister of 3 Foreign Affairs --

4 MR. FRY: What I might say
5 generally --

6 MR. DAVID: -- or the Government
7 of Canada?

8 MR. FRY: Gar Pardy and I, now we 9 are -- I guess this is March -- we are trying to 10 think up different ways to approach the Syrians 11 and to try to make some progress on this file now.
12 It has been four or five or six months. So one of 13 the -- I'm not sure if it was my idea or Gar's 14 idea, but we thought we would send a parliamentary 15 delegation.

16 Members of Parliament don't 17 necessarily speak on behalf of the executive, the 18 Government of Canada, and therefore we actually 19 don't have full control over them. I mean, 20 Marlene Catterall for instance, she was working to 21 help Mr. Arar but she is not a member of the 22 government, of Cabinet. So a parliamentary 23 initiative is something different than, you know, 24 Government of Canada or the Cabinet.

25 MR. DAVID: Okay. If I could

1 bring you now to tab 336, simply for the record.

2 This is a letter that you signed,
3 it is dated March the 6th, it is going to Marlene
4 Catterall, and it is simply a letter of support.

5 Is this a standard practice in 6 this kind of scenario?

7 MR. FRY: These types of -- I
8 mean, not too common that I would write letters 9 like this.

10 I think Gar had actually said
11 they required a letter to be able to have the 12 department pay for the trip of Ms Catterall and 13 Mr. Assadourian.

14 MR. DAVID: Okay. If we go now to 15 tab 349 as well as Exhibit P-99.

16 THE COMMISSIONER: Exhibit P-...?

17 MR. DAVID: P-99.

18 --- Pause

19 MR. DAVID: There is a reference
20 at tab 349, in the top message that is going from 21 Gar to you on the 19th of March, and Mr. Pardy
22 says:

23 "Robert, no new 24 developments."

25 Again, you just wanted to be

1           briefed on a regular basis in terms of the 2           situation in Syria.

3                                 "We are waiting for word from 4                                 Damascus for another visit to 5                                 Maher. Also Marlene and 6                                 Sarkis were to meet with the 7                                 Syrian Ambassador for lunch
8                                 today but so far no report."

9                                 So Mr. Pardy is reporting to you
10                                the fact that Ms Catterall and Mr. Assadourian 11                                were to meet and have lunch with the Ambassador of 12                                Syria, Mr. Arnous.

13                                If I bring you to P-99 now, this 14                                is a report that has been drafted by a DFAIT 15                                employee, Ms Myra Pastyr-Lupul, who is giving an 16                                account of this meeting. If I could bring you 17                                just to one excerpt of this account, and it is the 18                                second paragraph, it says:

19   "They learned that..."

20                                That is Catterall and Assadourian:
21                                "...initially during this 22                                case that CSIS officials told 23                                the Syrians that they have no 24                                interest in Arar. `The 25                                Syrians took this to mean

1                   that the CSIS have no
2                   interest in having Arar back.
3                   They may have meant that they 4                   have no security reasons to 5                   investigate Arar in Canada.
6                   Due to the miscommunication
7                   the Syrians believed that 8                   CSIS did not want Arar back 9                   in Canada and therefore 10                  decided to it detain him,
11                  keep him in Syria'."

12                   (As read)

13                   Were you aware of this message 14                  coming from the Ambassador at this time to the 15                  MPs? Were you made aware of that?

16                   MR. FRY: I wasn't aware of 17                  the specifics.

18                   I believe Ms Catterall would have 19                  told me that, you know, the Syrians claim they are 20                  still getting mixed messages from Canada. Upon 21                  hearing that I would have expressed a lot of 22                  frustration because, you know, going back to 23                  January --

24                   MR. DAVID: It is an issue that --

25                   MR. FRY: -- the Foreign Minister

1 had been very clear with the Syrian Foreign 2 Minister, and here we would be two months later 3 having the Ambassador tell this to one of our 4 Members of Parliament. I would have found that 5 very frustrating.

6 I don't recall the specifics. In 7 fact, the first time I learned about this notion 8 that they had no interest in Mr. Arar and the 9 Syrians interpreted that, I only learned that of 10 preparing for this inquiry, but the general notion 11 that there had been some mixed messages, of 12 course, I was aware of that at the time.

13 I mean, what I might -- this was 14 something that had been ongoing, I guess, since we 15 thought we had dealt with it in January and it 16 kept going. All I can say to that is sometimes on 17 these things we never knew where it was coming 18 from. Was it true that they were getting mixed 19 messages?

20 The other thing I think it is fair
21 to say was that the Syrians -- you know when you 22 are talking to someone, they like to throw it back
23 on you. So there was actually some speculation 24 that the Syrians were saying this, that they were 25 getting mixed messages, just to try to throw it

1 back on us. "Well, you guys are the problem, you
2 are giving mixed messages." So there was a
3 variety of theories.

4 But to have, two months later,
5 having the Ambassador telling our Member of 6 Parliament, this was frustrating and we hoped to 7 solve it with a trip by the Members of Parliament.

8 MR. DAVID: Certainly in 9 January you understood the mixed message issue to 10 be in part attributable to CSIS, I mean in the 11 sense that CSIS was the identified communicator to 12 Syria back in January? That is the report that 13 you got from --

14 MR. FRY: Yes, we understood, but 15 I wasn't sure that that was the source of the 16 mixed communication.

17 MR. DAVID: Certainly that is the 18 message again coming from the Ambassador in March, 19 it is also identifying CSIS as being --

20 MR. FRY: Yes.

21 MR. DAVID: -- the party involved
22 in the mixed messaging.

23 Were you aware of any other mixed
24 message issue involving any other Canadian law 25 enforcement or security agency, or any agency for 1           that matter?

2                           MR. FRY:  I was not aware of any 3           and I would inquire on a regular basis.

4                           I guess the other thing, either 5           the Syrians are making this up or else there is 6           some communication that is causing a mixed 7           message.  You know, why two months later is this 8           still taking place?  Are there ongoing discussions 9           or was this still the result of one discussion a 10          long time ago?  I didn't know.

11                          MR. DAVID:  The fact remains, in 12          March you were not reappraised of the issue in 13          terms of the Arnous declaration to the MPs?  That 14          was not brought to your attention?

15                          MR. FRY:  Could you -- I don't 16          understand.

17                          MR. DAVID:  What I mean is, the 18          MPs sit down, have a lunch with Ambassador Arnous, 19          they are getting this message.  You were not 20          informed of that message at this time?

21                          MR. FRY:  No.  I think the way I 22          would have been informed was Marlene saying:  The 23          Syrians are still getting mixed messages, we need 24          to do something about this.  I would have advised 25          her that she should speak to Wayne Easter and find

1 out if there were other messages coming, because I
2 could only speak for Foreign Affairs.

3 MR. DAVID: Let's go now to 4 tab 388. Now we are in April of 2003 and there is 5 an issue of a letter being issued by Minister 6 Graham to his counterpart in Syria seeking 7 Mr. Arar's release and the language that that 8 letter could or possibly should include.

9 At this tab 388, Mr. Fry, we see 10 that there is a version, called the first version, 11 V.1, and it is the second paragraph. The language 12 that is being suggested to your Minister is that:

13 "Canadian officials have 14 determined that Mr. Arar has 15 not contravened any Canadian 16 laws and since arriving in 17 Canada with his family many 18 years ago has been a good
19 citizen of this country."

20 Were you in any way involved in 21 the drafting of this language that your Minister 22 was -- it was being proposed he would sign off on?

23 MR. FRY: No, I believe that this 24 was Mr. Pardy had drafted this. He or his staff 25 had put this letter together.

1 MR. DAVID: Okay. The top message
2 now, again coming from Gar to you, the second 3 paragraph says:

4 "Robert, Ms Catterall was 5 hopeful of obtaining a letter
6 from Mr. Easter. Have you
7 heard if she was successful?
8 Gar."

9 Were you in any way involved in 10 that process, and did you have any knowledge of 11 her push to get a letter from Minister Easter?

12 MR. FRY: Yes, and in fact I may 13 have suggested it to her, that she should --

14 We were trying to find ways to 15 solve any notion of mixed messages, and the 16 Foreign Minister was getting ready to write a 17 letter, had said it verbally, we thought maybe the 18 way to solve this would be to get something from 19 the Solicitor General. So she had approached 20 Minister Easter at this time.

21 Later on, I don't know the 22 date of this, I did also approach Minister
23 Easter's office.

24 MR. DAVID: Why is it, Mr. Fry, 25 that at this time, in April, you would be

1           suggesting to Marlene Catterall to go to 2           Mr. Easter rather than do so yourself?

3                         MR. FRY: Well, Ms Catterall is a 4           Member of Parliament, he is a parliamentary 5           colleague. She is the Member of Parliament for -- 6           Mr. Arar was her constituent. I can't speak to 7           Mr. Easter directly. I can speak to his office
8           and his staff, but she, as a Member of Parliament, 9           would have better access to him and could make the 10          plea directly.

11                        MR. DAVID: If I bring you now to 12          tab 366, we will go to the second version, which 13          is the final version that Minister Graham would 14          have signed off on.

15                        In the second paragraph, last 16          line, last sentence, it says:

17                                 "Let me again assure you that 18                                 there is no Canadian 19                                 Government impediment to 20                                 Mr. Arar's return to Canada."

21                        So this is the final language that 22          was suggested to your Minister.

23                        Were you involved in any way in 24          that drafting, in that language?

25                        MR. FRY: I believe I was.

1 MR. DAVID: Okay. There is 2 clearly a --

3 MR. FRY: Can you point to me
4 where we are?

5 MR. DAVID: Sure. It is the 6 second paragraph.

7 MR. FRY: Okay.

8 MR. DAVID: It is the 9 last sentence.

10 MR. FRY: I see. Okay.

11 MR. DAVID: Could you explain your 12 involvement in that process, the development of 13 the language?

14 MR. FRY: All I can -- I mean, a 15 draft would have come up and we would have 16 discussions in terms of crafting and editing the 17 language. This would have been sort of the final 18 result of the letter that we put in front of the 19 Minister.

20 MR. DAVID: In your assessment, is 21 this language stronger or weaker than the first 22 version that we referred to already at tab 388?

23 MR. FRY: Well, there was no
24 intention to sort of diminish the strength of the 25 language. I think there may have been some

1 changes for clarity. Like, if you look at some 2 of the things that -- I mean, I wouldn't advise 3 the Foreign Minister to say things like, you know, 4 that "he has not broken any laws" -- where is 5 that: has not contravened any Canadian laws. He 6 and his family have been good citizens of this 7 country.

8 I mean, that is not Ministerial.
9 Can the Minister really say those kinds of things?

10 I mean, I couldn't tell him
11 whether Mr. Arar had really broken -- had he done 12 something like, you know, drinking and driving or 13 anything like that.

14 I mean, I think we were just 15 trying to get some more precision in the language
16 rather than increase it or decrease the strength 17 of the -- I mean, the notion we were trying to 18 get across was that we wanted to bring Mr. Arar 19 back to Canada and this was the view of the 20 Government of Canada and there was no impediment 21 to his return.

22 MR. DAVID: Who were you dealing 23 with in terms of the language that was finalized, 24 that was agreed upon?

25 MR. FRY: Well, I only can sort of

1 talk to you generally. On letters like this you 2 would get drafts, and then if we wanted to make 3 changes I would sometimes go back to senior 4 people, say in the Middle East Bureau, to get 5 their views. Gar, I would go back to Gar, and see 6 what he thought about this. Sometimes we would 7 even bring in, sort of, the legal section to get 8 their sort of view before we put the Minister's 9 name on this.

10 MR. DAVID: Were you aware,
11 Mr. Fry, that other government agencies such as 12 the RCMP or CSIS were involved in the process of 13 coming up with acceptable language that Minister 14 Graham would be signing off on?

15 MR. FRY: At this time?

16 MR. DAVID: At this time.

17 MR. FRY: No, I wasn't.

18 MR. DAVID: Okay. We go to 19 tab 395.

20 MS McISAAC: Mr. Commissioner, I
21 found that rather difficult, because the only 22 evidence -- I mean, Ms Catterall said she thought 23 they were involved.

24 The way the question has been put 25 leaves the impression that they were involved,

1           though Mr. Fry, who was directly involved, says he 2           doesn't know that they were involved.

3                           I would think it would be helpful
4           if we had the question clarified a bit better.

5                           MR. FRY: I don't think they were 6           involved, to be honest. I think this was just a 7           matter between consular affairs, the Minister's 8           office and senior officials. I don't think they 9           were consulted on this letter and I don't -- to my 10          knowledge, they weren't.

11                          MR. DAVID: Okay.

12                          THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

13                          MR. DAVID: Tab 395. This is the 14          MPs' trip report to Syria. I refer you to the 15          first message at the top. There is reference to 16          the fact:

17                                       "Further to the report below 18                                       and the apparent unhappiness
19                                       of Ms. Catterall
20                                       O/MINA/Fry..."

21                                       Which is the Office of the 22          Minister.

23                                       Fry is you?

24                                       MR. FRY: Yes.

25                                       MR. DAVID: And:

1                    "...would like a more 2                    complete read out of what the 3                    Syrian intelligence would 4                    have told her and how this 5                    corresponded to the most 6                    recent information we, in 7                    this government, have about 8                    Mr. Arar. We would need a
9                    complete report from Damascus
10                    on what the Syrians told 11                    Ms Catterall about Mr. Arar
12                    and how much of it we believe 13                    to be accurate."

14                    So if you could just give us the 15                    context of this request that seems to be emanating 16                    from you?

17                    MR. FRY: I believe Ms Catterall 18                    came back -- either it was through reading the 19                    report myself or in speaking with Ms Catterall, 20                    who claimed that -- you know, was unhappy. You 21                    can see the nature of the report. She was unhappy 22                    because she thought that we hadn't given her all 23                    the information before she went over there.

24                    I mean, I think it was a bit 25                    traumatic. You are really faced with the reality

1 of the situation when you are in a Syrian military
2 interrogation room and you are faced -- Mr. Arar
3 is there in front of you.

4 To this day I don't really know
5 what the Syrians told her, other than I guess some 6 of the things that we had already seen in the 7 so-called confession. So I don't know if -- I was 8 trying to figure out whether it was just the 9 seriousness of the situation and that she had -- I 10 know she sort of had an emotional reaction to it, 11 or whether there were some things, some outlandish
12 things that were told to her. The Syrians, you 13 know, they could have said anything for all I 14 know, true and not true.

15 So here through our departmental 16 assistant I'm asking for Damascus to report if 17 they know why Ms Catterall was unhappy and what 18 was it, what did the Syrians say that really 19 shocked her?

20 MR. DAVID: Were you concerned
21 that perhaps the Minister's office had been not 22 informed, fully informed, fully briefed, about the 23 information that perhaps Canadian officials had in 24 terms of Syrian information?

25 MR. FRY: No. I mean, I -- and I

1 think the Commission, I mean, is faced with this 2 too. In my dealings with Ms Catterall I always 3 had to be very careful. I had a high level top 4 secret security clearance. Ms Catterall -- and 5 this is the difference between government and 6 Member of Parliament -- I couldn't always tell her 7 everything because I would be in breach of the 8 National Security Act.

9 So I always had to walk a fine
10 line. The same thing in my dealings with 11 Mrs. Arar. I mean Gar was under the same 12 difficulties. We had to walk a fine line between 13 what we could tell them and what we would say 14 which could be in breach of our national security 15 obligations.

16 I don't know, I would be 17 speculating here as to -- I know, I think,
18 Ms Catterall has testified that she thought that 19 there were some things that we didn't know, but I 20 think that would be incorrect. I think we didn't 21 tell some things to her only because some of these 22 things were highly confidential and it was not 23 within my power to. I had to be careful with what 24 I could divulge to her.

25 MR. DAVID: There is a reference

1 at the second paragraph in the top message:

2 "Could we set up a quick
3 meeting between you two,..."

4 That is Gar Pardy and I would 5 say Dan Livermore, Robert, you, and myself,
6 Pierre Guimond, "on Tuesday", and that would be 7 April 29th.

8 Do you recall that meeting?

9 MR. FRY: I don't recall it.

10 MR. DAVID: Okay. Let's go to 11 tab 404. This is a letter from Ms Mazigh to the 12 Minister, Minister Graham, seeking a meeting.

13 There is a reference to 14 information from you. This is in the first 15 paragraph. It says:

16 "...I talked with your Senior 17 Policy Advisor Mr. Robert 18 Fry, and he suggested to me 19 that a meeting can be 20 arranged depending on the 21 outcome of the Canadian 22 parliamentary delegation to 23 Damascus."

24 Is that an accurate quote or an 25 accurate reflection of what you would have told

1 Ms Mazigh? That is number one.

2 MR. FRY: Maybe a bit of context?

3 MR. DAVID: Sure.

4 MR. FRY: Ms Mazigh was calling me
5 at least on a weekly basis. I didn't always speak
6 to her. I was dealing with a lot of other things 7 as well and I knew that it was the role of the 8 consular section to deal with her and the family.
9 But I did speak with her from time to time to 10 reassure her that the Minister and that I were 11 doing everything we could to try to help Mr. Arar.

12 So in one of those conversations I
13 think she was demanding -- she, from day one,
14 demanding a meeting, demanding that the Minister 15 get on a plane to fly to Syria, some of those 16 kinds of demands. I think what I would have been 17 telling her at this time was that, "Ms Mazigh, 18 let's wait. We are sending a delegation of 19 parliamentarians. Let's see how that goes.
20 Depending on how that goes then we will look at 21 getting a meeting with the Minister."

22 Again, for some context, in 23 consular cases families demand meetings with 24 the Minister. They think that is going to solve 25 all their problems and they just want to rush in

1 to a meeting with the Minister. It is part of 2 my job and Gar's job to advise them that we are 3 doing everything that we can and that rushing 4 into a meeting is not necessarily going to solve 5 the issue.

6 MR. DAVID: If we could go now to 7 tab 443? That is in volume 5. This is the actual 8 meeting, it is on June 12th between Minister 9 Graham and Monia Mazigh.

10 There is reference in this summary
11 of the fact that there is a letter in the works 12 from your Minister. That is referred to in the 13 fourth paragraph halfway through. It says:

14 "The Minister is currently 15 preparing a letter to the 16 Syrian Foreign Minister..."

17 So in June, Mr. Fry, we had seen
18 the April version, the version 1 and 2. Is this 19 the same letter that is being contemplated at 20 this point?

21 MR. FRY: No. The letter in 22 April was the letter that we sent with the Members 23 of Parliament.

24 MR. DAVID: With the MPs.

25 MR. FRY: Right. So they

1           took that letter and were able to deliver it.
2           It was to show -- because, as I have said,
3           Members of Parliament are not necessarily members 4           of the executive, so we wanted to show that the 5           Minister agreed with them and supported them on 6           their visit, which was why we did that letter at 7           that time.

8                               Here we are talking about a
9           second letter. In fact, we were -- in May, and I 10          know you have lots of background on this, but we 11          were talking about it, first, a joint letter
12          between the Foreign Minister and the Solicitor
13          General, and that is what we were sort of talking 14          about here.

15                              MR. DAVID: Okay.

16                              MR. FRY: They were suggesting 17          some language that we should put in that letter, 18          because again it was all about trying to tell the 19          Syrians that Canada wanted him back, we were 20          speaking with one voice and we wanted to make sure 21          that there was no misunderstanding.

22                              MR. DAVID: So was it your 23          understanding that the drafting of this more 24          recent letter from your Minister involved
25          negotiations with other Canadian agencies?

1 MR. FRY: At this time?

2 MR. DAVID: At this time.

3 MR. FRY: Well, because we wanted
4 the Solicitor General to sign on, I knew there
5 would have to be -- when you do a joint letter 6 there has to be discussions between the 7 departments. I was also talking to Minister
8 Easter's office to try to get that letter 9 together.

10 MR. DAVID: Okay.

11 THE COMMISSIONER: Excuse me for 12 a second.

13 --- Pause

14 THE COMMISSIONER: Thank you.
15 Go ahead.

16 MR. DAVID: On page 2, still at 17 tab 443, there is a reference to the fact that:

18 "Robert Fry..."

19 It's the last sentence.

20 "...spent a few extra minutes
21 with Dr. Mazigh and her 22 entourage, to see if they 23 have anything further to 24 discuss."

25 Do you have any recollection in

1           that regard?

2                           MR. FRY:  Yes.  Well, the 3           Minister had to rush to Question Period, and in 4           some cases he would -- he didn't want to interrupt 5           the meeting, there was still myself and other 6           senior officials from the Department of Foreign 7           Affairs, so we stayed behind to talk to the group 8           a little bit.

9                           MR. DAVID:  Okay.  I refer you, 10          Mr. Fry, to your personal notes, and that would be 11          pages 14 and 15, that address the meeting that you 12          had with Mrs. Arar and your Minister -- I should 13          say Ms Mazigh.

14                           I don't want to go through the 15          contents of your notes but, first of all, can 16          you identify that pages 14 and 15 deal with 17          that meeting?

18                           MR. FRY:  I think this is -- yes, 19          I do believe this to be that meeting.

20                           MR. DAVID:  Okay.  You have had a 21          chance to reread these notes?

22                           MR. FRY:  I have, but not -- not 23          within a -- not today.

24                           MR. DAVID:  Okay.  Would you like 25          to add anything to your notes about this meeting?

1                   MR. FRY: One of the things
2                   about it, sometimes my notes are things that 3                   people are asking, sometimes they are just on what 4                   was being said, other times it is on sort of 5                   things that I think we should or I need to do.

6                   So you see me talk of a "Joint 7                   letter from SolGen and DFAIT" and that I think she 8                   would have been saying "No, we need a letter from 9                   the RCMP that says he has no criminal record".

10                  She did meet with the Syrian 11                  ambassador. "Irwin Cutler willing to act on 12                  Mr. Arar's behalf. Need a coherent position from 13                  the Government of Canada. North American Arab 14                  community very concerned. Another phone call,
15                  possible phone call to the Syrian Foreign 16                  Minister.

17                  Yes, I don't really have anything 18                  more to add.

19                  MR. DAVID: Okay. Then let's go
20                  to tab 8 of your documents, which is old 442.
21                  This is a message that is coming in from Alex Neve 22                  as a follow-up to the meeting that you had with 23                  Monia Mazigh?

24                  MR. FRY: Yes.

25                  MR. DAVID: He is reporting to you

1 the fact that he is aware that the Minister is 2 planning to send a letter to his Syrian 3 counterpart?

4 MR. FRY: Yes.

5 MR. DAVID: He is addressing the 6 contents of that letter, and he is saying, in the 7 second paragraph:

8 "I understand there was 9 discussion about this in the 10 meeting and that current 11 thinking is to indicate to 12 the Syrians that in Canada's 13 view there is 'no impediment'
14 to Maher Arar's return to 15 Canada. I believe that Monia
16 made a strong plea to the 17 Minister to consider making
18 it clear that Canada has 'no
19 evidence' that Maher Arar has 20 been involved in acts of a 21 criminal nature, including 22 terrorist activities."

23 So Mr. Neve is making the point, 24 at the following sentence:

25 "It is my understanding that

1                   the latter is the case, and 2                   that the Canadian government 3                   is not, in fact, aware of any 4                   such evidence. As such I
5                   echo Monia's plea..."

6                   So he is clearly seeking stronger 7                   language that that is being proposed?

8                   MR. FRY: Yes.

9                   MR. DAVID: So this was being 10                  discussed. Do you recall you responding to this 11                  message at this time?

12                  MR. FRY: I don't recall
13                  responding. Again, I receive lots of phone calls 14                  and e-mails from Alex on some of these things.
15                  But yes, the general tenor was there was 16                  discussion on how we could make a strong letter.

17                  From my point of view, there was 18                  no use sending a letter that was similar to the 19                  one we had just sent two months ago. So if we 20                  were going to do another letter from the Minister 21                  we had to -- I mean, that is why we are trying to 22                  work on a joint letter. Because we were being 23                  told -- I mean, even Mr. Neve and Madam Mazigh -- 24                  that we needed something from the security folks, 25                  from the RCMP, from them, because that is all the 1           Syrians would listen to. They were saying that 2           and so we wanted to get a joint letter. That is 3           what we had been working on.

4                         MR. DAVID: Okay.

5                         MR. FRY: Just another letter 6           from the Foreign Minister I didn't think would 7           be useful.

8                         MR. DAVID: Another letter from 9           the Foreign Minister with basically the same 10          language, so no additional point being made here.

11                        MR. FRY: Right.

12                        MR. DAVID: Speaking about the 13          language, I refer you now to P-117, which are the 14          relevant documents identified for Wayne Easter.
15          If you could go to tab 75, and it would be 6.6 -- 16          75.0006, the sixth tab. We have a message coming 17          from Pierre Guimond, from your office, going to a 18          bunch of people, but essentially addressed to Gar
19          Pardy, saying:

20                                 "Minister's advisors have 21                                 reviewed your memo..."

22                                 The memo in question is the 23          June 5th memo to Minister Graham?

24                        MR. FRY: Right.

25                        MR. DAVID:

1                    "...and draft letter from 2                    Minister Graham to Syrian FM
3                    Shara'a and we would like to 4                    see the following change ...
5                    made to the body of the 6                    letter."

7                    The change being suggested is:

8                    "I assure you that there is 9                    no evidence he is involved in 10                    terrorist activity...."

11                    The suggestion is that you receive 12                    the concurrence of the SolGen, RCMP and CSIS in 13                    this regard.

14                    Were you involved in this 15                    furthering of the language at this point? The 16                    memo has gone to the Minister on June 5th, the 17                    draft letter is attached to this memo on June 5th, 18                    the draft June 5th letter simply refers to the 19                    fact that the Government of Canada has no 20                    impediment to Mr. Arar's return, and the 21                    Minister's office, your office, is now returning 22                    the ball and seeking more robust language, I would 23                    suggest to you?

24                    MR. FRY: Yes.

25                    MR. DAVID: Were you involved in

1           that enterprise?

2                           MR. FRY:  Mr. Commissioner, if you 3           look at the date on it, June 17th, in fact we had 4           been involved in drafting -- trying to get a joint 5           letter or drafting a new letter since early May.
6           So here we are a month and a half later.  We had 7           been going back and forth with language and, as I
8           said, a letter solely from the Foreign Minister 9           saying the same thing that was said in April was 10          of no use and so we were trying to either 11          strengthen the language but, even better, to have 12          a joint letter.

13                           There was a lot of -- I mean this 14          is just one instance, but there was a lot of talk 15          of all different types of language.  I mean, we 16          were open to discussion.  It didn't have to be 17          exactly these words.  There could have been -- we 18          were hoping to have a bit of a back and forth with 19          the Solicitor General's Department.  I mean, if 20          they have some problem with one word, well let's 21          fix one word.  If they didn't want to say it is 22          just terrorist activity but they wanted to -- so 23          there was a lot of discussion.

24                           I know the inquiry has just this 25          in front of it here, I guess some of that may have

1           been verbal, but there was a lot of talk
2           throughout the month of May of different language
3           we could use. This was just one example where I 4           went to the departmental assistant and said, "We 5           would like to use this."

6                           In some ways I was sort of 7           throwing out the gauntlet, saying, "This is what 8           we are going to do. Stop us if there is a 9           problem." Or I was hoping they would come back 10          with some alternative they could live with.

11                       MR. DAVID: Okay. Were you
12          involved in direct negotiations with Mr. Easter's 13          office on the language?

14                       MR. FRY: I did speak to Minister 15          Easter's office a few times, as I say, in May, 16          with -- because Gar was sort of going through the 17          official channels, the departmental channels. He 18          was talking to his counterparts. I was going to 19          the Minister's office, because I knew, if the 20          Minister agrees to sign something or if we could 21          come at it from both ends we could maybe get this 22          done, and I also knew Marlene Catterall was also 23          approaching Minister Easter. We were sort of 24          trying to approach from all ends to try and get a 25          joint letter with language that everyone could

1 live with.

2 MR. DAVID: Do you recall the 3 response that you were getting from the political 4 office of Minister Easter?

5 MR. FRY: They were sympathetic
6 and I think interested in trying to work with us 7 at the ministerial level. You know, we were 8 trying to work on some language.

9 MR. DAVID: So the sense that you
10 got from basically your counterparts within 11 Minister Easter's office is that they were 12 receptive to --

13 MR. FRY: Yes.

14 MR. DAVID: -- what you were 15 seeking in terms of content?

16 MR. FRY: Well, they were 17 receptive to the idea of a joint letter and to -- 18 let's work on the wording, so we were working on 19 different things.

20 MR. DAVID: Were they receptive to 21 the more robust version of the claim with regard 22 to no evidence?

23 MR. FRY: I think -- I mean, just 24 like I would do at Foreign Affairs, my counterpart 25 in Minister Easter's office would -- you know, he

1 would check with, you know, his senior officials 2 in SolGen and the others to try and get them to 3 sort of agree if it was certain types of language.
4 I think, you know, he tried to do that.

5 MR. DAVID: So you are saying 6 that basically at the political level there was 7 some receptivity to what you were trying to obtain 8 in terms of --

9 MR. FRY: Yes, that was my sense.

10 MR. DAVID: Let us now go to 11 tab .0008, which is in the same binder just the 12 eighth tab. Here at page 3, Mr. Fry, page 3 of 13 the document, there is a response that is coming 14 back to DFAIT. That is on the next date, on 15 June 18th. It is being communicated to DFAIT via 16 Scott Heatherington, who is the ISI Director, or 17 was at the time, and he is relaying to you the 18 reaction on the part of both the RCMP and CSIS 19 and to the language that they would be comfortable 20 with.

21 I was wondering if you have any 22 comments about that language.

23 MR. FRY: Well, I know when I got 24 this message I either thought that the person who 25 proposed it was a little naive to think that this

1 would be helpful to Mr. Arar or that they were 2 sort of shutting the door on us.

3 I mean, one thing that did occur
4 in my conversations with Minister Easter's office,
5 as I said, there was sort of initial receptivity;
6 but then in a further conversation I was told that 7 there was now a national security investigation in 8 the case of Mr. Arar and that the Minister's 9 office was, you know --

10 I mean the way it was told to me
11 is that when RCMP or someone or CSIS tell the 12 Minister's office there is a security
13 investigation, then they don't need to say 14 anything else to the Minister's office. It is 15 basically a way of bringing down the veil and then 16 the Minister's office basically has to be 17 hands-off because there is now an investigation 18 and from a political point of view you need to 19 stay away.

20 MR. DAVID: So that message that 21 you interpreted as being, "Let's move on. We are 22 not going to ever agree to this," when did that 23 message come to you, Mr. Fry?

24 MR. FRY: I think at the end
25 of May in one of my conversations I was told by

1 Minister Easter's office that there was now a 2 national security investigation in the case of 3 Mr. Arar and as a result of that, you know, this 4 is the only language they could agree to.

5 MR. DAVID: So this is certainly 6 previous to the responses coming to you from Scott 7 Heatherington?

8 MR. FRY: Yes, it is previous 9 to this.

10 MR. DAVID: Okay. If we go now to 11 tab 10 in the same collection, we have a letter 12 that is drafted by Mr. Loepky, who is the Deputy 13 Commissioner of Operations of the RCMP.

14 Again, there is comment on his 15 part on the proposed letter. If I could just 16 bring you to the second paragraph of his letter, 17 he says:

18 "We want to assure you..."

19 This is going to Michel D'Avignon, 20 Director General of the Department of the 21 Solicitor General.

22 Do you know this person?

23 MR. FRY: No, I don't.

24 MR. DAVID: So Mr. Loepky says:

25 "We want to assure you that

1 the RCMP has no intention of 2 interfering with Mr. Arar's
3 consular rights. We do have 4 however major concerns with 5 the misleading statement made 6 in paragraph two of the 7 attached letter..."

8 That is:

9 "I assure you that the 10 Government of Canada has no
11 evidence Mr. Arar was 12 involved in any terrorist 13 activities..."

14 Which is basically your 15 suggestion.

16 MR. FRY: It was one of the 17 suggestions.

18 MR. DAVID: But if we go back 19 to the June 17th message that is being sent from 20 your office --

21 MR. FRY: Right.

22 MR. DAVID: -- that is the exact
23 same language --

24 MR. FRY: Yes, it is.

25 MR. DAVID: -- that is being

1 suggested.

2 Were you informed of the contents
3 of this letter? Were you aware that this was in 4 such a formal sense the RCMP's response?

5 MR. FRY: No, I was not.

6 MR. DAVID: When did you first see 7 this document?

8 MR. FRY: I saw it for the first 9 time in sort of preparing for this inquiry.

10 MR. DAVID: Okay.

11 MR. FRY: The one thing I can say
12 about the language -- I mean, if I would have seen 13 this I would have actually been disappointed, 14 because the whole idea was to try and negotiate
15 some language. It wasn't to just take, you know, 16 word for word what someone had said and say, "That 17 is unacceptable," and then that is it. I mean, we 18 were supposed to be trying to work something out.

19 MR. DAVID: I bring you now --

20 MS McISAAC: Mr. Commissioner,
21 just for the record -- and I apologize for this -- 22 there are still redactions in this document which 23 are unnecessary. If it is compared with the 24 version that is at page 41 of P-19, the Garvie
25 report, I believe you get the entire text. As I

1 say, I apologize for that.

2 THE COMMISSIONER: That's okay.
3 No problem. We have seen that redacted part.

4 MR. DAVID: Thank you.

5 THE COMMISSIONER: That is the 6 part that refers to there is a national security
7 investigation.

8 MS McISAAC: That's correct.

9 MR. DAVID: Thank you.

10 I would like to file a document at 11 this point.

12 This is an e-mail, Mr. Fry, that 13 is dated July 4, 2003 that is going from you to 14 Alex Neve.

15 This would be P-136?

16 THE COMMISSIONER: Exhibit P-136.

17 EXHIBIT NO. P-136: E-mail
18 dated 07/04/03 from Robert
19 Fry to Alex Neve

20 MR. DAVID: Thank you.

21 This is an e-mail dated July 4, 22 2003 that is going from you to Alex Neve. It says 23 in the first paragraph:

24 "As was requested in the 25 meeting we had with

1 Ms. Mazigh we have been 2 attempting to have all
3 government agencies adopt one
4 position in the case of 5 Mr. Arar in order to be able 6 to approach the Syrians with 7 one voice. Our attempts to 8 do this take time and frankly
9 have not been very successful 10 to date.

11 On the issue of our 12 letter to the Syrian FM, we 13 have also tried to insert the 14 stronger language that was 15 discussed at the meeting,
16 i.e. 'that there is no
17 evidence that Mr. Arar was 18 involved in terrorist 19 activity in Canada'. We also 20 want sign-off from the 21 concerned departments on this 22 language - so far this too
23 has been unsuccessful. In 24 fact, tougher language
25 alternative has been

1 proposed."

2 That is in reference, obviously,
3 to Mr. Heatherington's message to you, I guess?

4 MR. FRY: Yes. I mean, I'm trying 5 to walk a fine line. I didn't write very many 6 e-mails like this in my time because I am actually 7 being very frank with Alex --

8 MR. DAVID: That is not to say you
9 are not frank in general?

10 MR. FRY: No. But again, I am 11 walking a fine line here between violating my 12 obligations to maintain a certain amount of 13 secrecy in national security, but while being very 14 frank with Alex and the family about -- I mean, 15 this is the result of mounting frustration on our 16 part. I would say that after two months of trying 17 to negotiate some sort of letter or text we are 18 now -- we are farther behind now because we have 19 proposed language that talks about a national 20 security investigation, whereas initially, I mean, 21 it wasn't as hard as that.

22 So I'm sort of telling him without 23 being specific that, you know, things have not 24 only not gone that well but it has been more 25 difficult.

1                   Now we have letters on the record
2                   and e-mails on the record with people saying that 3                   the Minister shouldn't do that but should do this.
4                   So there is contrary advice being given to the 5                   Minister.

6                   MR. DAVID:  If you take the 7                   before-last paragraph, you go on to say:

8                                 "Canadian security officials 9                                 continue to have questions 10                                about Mr. Arar and rather 11                                than dissipate over time, 12                                these have only increased in 13                                number and severity."

14                   This is the feeling that you are 15                   getting in terms of the national security 16                   component to the issue?

17                   MR. FRY:  Yes.  This is my sort of 18                   cagey way of sort of saying that -- I mean, this 19                   is sort of my expression in what I think -- 20                   without violating my obligations under the 21                   National Security Act or whatever, secrecy, to 22                   sort of say that, you know, often things will -- 23                   as more information gets out and people sort of 24                   get more comfortable with an issue -- and I guess 25                   the example I told you about, my conversations

1 with Easter's office, where all of a sudden I'm 2 told after six months, I mean, this is -- you 3 know, in November of 2002 we are told that he was 4 a person of interest, now in May of 2003 two weeks
5 from another conversation I'm told that there is 6 now a national security investigation in the case
7 of Mr. Arar.

8 So that is what I'm sort of saying 9 here that, you know, rather than dissipate it is 10 increasing in severity because now there is a 11 national security investigation I'm told.

12 MR. DAVID: Your reference in the 13 last paragraph says:

14 "...our manoeuvring room is 15 getting narrower by the day."

16 Any specific reference?

17 MR. FRY: It would just be my 18 manoeuvring room in terms of having a letter -- 19 well, first of all, a joint letter for both 20 Ministers to sign doesn't look like it is going to 21 happen. Even a letter from the Minister now -- 22 and this is where I get into that -- is even more 23 difficult, because now I have officials and I 24 have -- you know, when you have contrary advice to 25 say to the Minister "This is what you should be

1           saying," you know, it becomes harder to sort of go 2           against that advice, to not take that advice.

3                       MR. DAVID: Okay. Let's go to 4           tab 466 now. The timeframe is basically the 5           beginning of July, July 3rd to July 7th. That is 6           tab 466.

7                       The theme covered in this series
8           of e-mails -- and I'm not going to go through them 9           with you, it is simply to do with the fact that 10          Senator de Bané is -- it is being proposed that he 11          go to Syria as a representative or as an emissary
12          for the Prime Minister of our country.

13                      My only question to you in that 14          regard, putting you in that context, were you 15          involved with the development of that scenario, 16          the de Bané trip?

17                      MR. FRY: Yes, I was. I mean, 18          again, Gar and I were a bit of a team on these 19          things, and I don't -- in fact, the idea behind 20          the trip was around Mr. Sampson. We were starting 21          to hear -- Gar was working on this case as well.
22          That was the main focus of Mr. de Bané's trip and 23          we were going to try to send a letter and send 24          someone to Saudi Arabia because we thought we 25          could get Mr. Sampson out.

1                   So then Gar and I talked about,
2           "Well, who should we send?" and it might even have 3           been my idea that we send Senator de Bané, because 4           of his knowledge of the region, very able 5           diplomat. You have seen him. very knowledgeable
6           and he is one of the best. He is able to open 7           doors and talk in a very diplomatic way. I have 8           known Senator de Bané for 17 years.

9                   So Gar and I talked. We thought 10          about he should be the one we would send. Then 11          one of us said, "Well, hey, since he is going to 12          be in the region, why don't we get him to go to 13          Syria as well, see if he can go visit the Syrians, 14          possibly visit Mr. Arar?" Then we talked about 15          getting a letter from the Prime Minister since the 16          other -- trying to get a letter from both 17          Ministers or even just the Foreign Minister now 18          wasn't working very well. We said, "Well, let's 19          try for a letter from the Prime Minister." Again, 20          it is ratcheting it up. It is moving the -- know 21          you, a letter from the leader of the country 22          basically to the other, to the President, is 23          significant. It is a symbol or a signal to the 24          country.

25                   MR. DAVID: We certainly have seen

1 the contents of the Prime Minister's letter. It
2 contains the language now that I have heard many,
3 many times, that I know off by heart, that there
4 is no --

5 MR. FRY: Impediment.

6 MR. DAVID: -- Canadian government
7 impediment.

8 Is it your testimony, Mr. Fry,
9 that the transition from being a letter issued 10 from your Minister to the Prime Minister was 11 caused or was explained by the fact that you were 12 not able to bolster the language with the 13 complicity of the other agencies?

14 MR. FRY: I would say since we 15 were having difficulty with the other letter, you 16 know when you sort of run into a bit of an 17 obstruction or: Well, let's try something else.
18 Then this idea of, well, what better than a letter
19 from the Prime Minister? It doesn't get much 20 higher than that. So then we moved on to this 21 other option.

22 MR. DAVID: Okay. Your Minister,
23 Minister Graham, was he aware, was he apprised 24 of this de Bané initiative and was he approving 25 that process?

1 MR. FRY: I think he was. He 2 would have been aware that we were sending 3 someone, that we were sending Senator de Bané. He 4 wouldn't have been involved in sort of the 5 details.

6 In fact, as I have testified,
7 the real focus or the main focus was William 8 Sampson. Then we thought, well, since he is 9 there, let's try this for Mr. Arar as well, 10 because that was another heated -- hot file that 11 we were trying to solve.

12 MR. DAVID: Going now to tab 467.
13 Again the issue is the background to the Senator's 14 trip. I just want to refer you to on page 1 there 15 is a reference to the Graham letter and to the 16 fact that it is no longer necessary. In fact, the 17 top message coming from Gar says:

18 "Pierre, this is now 19 overlapped with the 20 appointment of the Prime 21 Minister's Personal Envoy.
22 Should have most matters
23 sorted out by Thursday and 24 then we can decide if the 25 letter from Mr. Graham will

1 be required."

2 So we see in these
3 communications that your Minister's letter is not 4 going to be going forward and it is now the Prime 5 Minister's letter.

6 MR. FRY: Yes.

7 MR. DAVID: Was your Minister made
8 aware of the transition in the letters being sent?

9 MR. FRY: From him to --

10 MR. DAVID: To the Prime Minister.

11 MR. FRY: -- the Prime Minister?

12 I don't think so. I can't say
13 for sure.

14 MR. DAVID: Was your Minister 15 aware that there was originally a plan that he 16 send a letter?

17 MR. FRY: Yes. Yes, he was aware
18 of that, because in the meeting with Ms Mazigh 19 there was a lot of talk about that letter and what 20 the letter should say and about different 21 variations of language we could use.

22 I mean, we were trying to 23 accommodate the security or the intelligence -- I 24 guess the RCMP and CSIS is a better way to 25 describe it -- their concerns with some of the 1 language, basically overarching, you know,

2 declaration that he has -- you know, that we 3 wanted to have versus, you know, one that 4 basically wasn't any stronger than the one that we 5 had sent before.

6 MR. DAVID: Okay. Moving now to 7 tab 470, Mr. Fry. This is an entry for the 11th 8 of July -- actually, it concerns what is going to 9 be taking place on the Friday, which was a 10 briefing session for the benefit of Senator
11 de Bané for his trip to Saudi Arabia and Syria.

12 Mr. de Bané has testified in this 13 regard and explained to us that there were many 14 consular officials, many officials from the 15 Department of Foreign Affairs, and I understand 16 that you were present at this meeting.

17 MR. FRY: Yes, I was.

18 MR. DAVID: Do you recall taking 19 notes at this meeting?

20 MR. FRY: No, I don't think I
21 took notes.

22 MR. DAVID: Okay. There has been 23 testimony heard and I propose to try to summarize 24 as accurately as possible, but Senator de Bané's 25 testimony is to the effect that Mr. Pardy would

1           have informed him that essentially at one point
2           the United States authorities, the government
3           authorities, had basically offered the possibility 4           to Canada of returning Mr. Arar to Canada, and 5           this return was tied in to the idea, to the notion 6           that Mr. Arar was to be charged and detained in 7           Canada. Mr. de Bané, Senator de Bané, testified 8           to the effect that this is what was being 9           communicated to him by Mr. Pardy, that this was 10          information given at this briefing session by 11          Mr. Pardy.

12                           So my question to you is: Do you 13          recall any such message and the contents of such a 14          message, if one was delivered?

15                           MR. FRY: My recollection is 16          that -- I mean, this would have been a briefing 17          and you can see in the briefing note, A-10 is the 18          Minister's boardroom.

19                           My recollection is that Senator 20          de Bané was basically told what we had sort of 21          already heard, was that the Americans had 22          contacted the Canadian authorities and had said:
23          If Mr. Arar comes back to Canada will he be 24          detained? Would he be charged? The answer was 25          no. So that is what he was basically told.

1 MR. DAVID: That fact that the 2 Americans had communicated to Canadian 3 authorities, that information, was that something 4 that you were aware of before this briefing?

5 MR. FRY: Yes. I was aware that 6 there had been some discussions between 7 authorities and that at some point there had been 8 someone's -- if Mr. Arar comes back to Canada, 9 would he be detained? Would he be charged? The 10 answer to that had been no.

11 MR. DAVID: Okay.

12 MR. FRY: I mean, that was 13 consistent -- what had been told to Senator
14 de Bané would have been consistent with what I 15 already had heard and know.

16 MR. DAVID: Simply for the record
17 I bring you to PCO tab -- that would be 18 Exhibit P-48 in volume 1 and it is tab 20. We 19 have the Prime Minister's letter that is dated 20 July the 11th. That you will find on the third 21 page.

22 MR. FRY: Which tab?

23 MR. DAVID: Tab 20.

24 MR. FRY: Thank you.

25 MR. DAVID: If you go to page 3

1       you will find the Prime Minister's letter. This 2       was his first letter. So we see that the exact
3       same language that was adopted in the Prime 4       Minister's letter was the end result of your 5       attempts --

6                       MR. FRY: Yes.

7                       MR. DAVID: -- in terms of your
8       Minister's letter.

9                       I think at this point, 10       Mr. Commissioner, we could break for lunch and 11       perhaps resume at 2 o'clock, if I may be so bold?
12       Thank you.

13                      THE COMMISSIONER: We will rise
14       until 2:00.

15                      THE REGISTRAR: Please stand.

16       --- Upon recessing at 12:58 p.m. /

17                      Suspension à 12 h 58

18       --- Upon resuming at 2:01 p.m. /

19                      Reprise à 14 h 01

20                      THE REGISTRAR: Please be seated.
21       Veuillez vous asseoir.

22                      MR. DAVID: Mr. Fry, we left off
23       with the Prime Minister's letter to Syria, and so 24       I'd like to now refer you to your personal notes.
25       If you could go to page 23. There's an entry -- I

1 believe it's around July 21, 2003, more or less
2 July 21, and there's an entry:

3 "- mixed signals to Syrians"
4 Must be related to Arar, I would 5 imagine?

6 MR. FRY: Yes, I may have been 7 writing down what someone had said, you know, just 8 that we were sending mixed signals to the Syrians.

9 MR. DAVID: No specific 10 recollection?

11 MR. FRY: I can't. I would need 12 the date.

13 MR. DAVID: July 21 is the date 14 that we have.

15 MR. FRY: July 21?

16 MR. DAVID: Yes.

17 MR. FRY: No, I don't know what --

18 MR. DAVID: Okay. Let us move on 19 to tab 502, which is the new tab 12.

20 THE COMMISSIONER: 502?

21 MR. DAVID: 502.

22 THE COMMISSIONER: What volume?

23 MR. DAVID: Volume 6. But you
24 shouldn't be thinking in terms of volumes any 25 more, Mr. Commissioner, you have to thinking in 1 terms of new tab 12.

2 THE COMMISSIONER: New tab 12.

3 MR. DAVID: New tab 12. I'm being 4 scolded because I'm still thinking the old way.

5 THE COMMISSIONER: I can't imagine
6 who would scold you.

7 MR. DAVID: I don't know. Tab 12
8 refers to a number of messages. There's an idea
9 here of setting up a phone call between Minister 10 Graham and the Foreign Minister of Syria. There's 11 also an idea of calling in Mr. Arnous for a 12 meeting with Minister Graham.

13 The context in which this is 14 occurring has to do with a press conference that 15 is being held on August 7 by Alex Neve and Monia
16 Mazigh, and actually, I should have brought you -- 17 let's go to tab 496 in the previous volume.

18 THE COMMISSIONER: We're back into 19 volumes?

20 --- Laughter / Rires

21 MR. DAVID: Okay. Tab 11, I'm 22 sorry.

23 So tab 11, Mr. Fry, just to put 24 you in context again. If you go to page 5 of 8 -- 25 you'll see in the bottom, there's the page

1 numbers. Page 5 of 8. The bottom third. There's 2 a reference:

3 "The following is a rough
4 transcript based on closed
5 captioning of a press
6 conference concerning Maher
7 Arar on, CTV-N 11h,
8 2003/08/07."

9 And there's a reference to, again,
10 various declarations from Monia Mazigh or Alex
11 Neve on the 7th of August.

12 And if you go to page 6 of 8,
13 you'll see in the second paragraph, second 14 sentence, Monia Mazigh is speaking and she says 15 the following:

16 "The syria human rights
17 community in london says my 18 husband has been beaten. He 19 has been beaten on the soles
20 of his body, and beat with 21 shredding cables. They say
22 he would be squashed into a 23 car tire so his head is 24 touching his toes. This is 25 very consistent with what the

1 u.S. State department says
2 happen in syrian prison."

3 And the next paragraph, again it's 4 Ms Mazigh who's speaking, and about halfway down
5 there's also a reference to various torture
6 allegations, and she's quoted as saying:

7 "The Committee of human 8 rights of syria based in 9 london... has confirmed my 10 husband has been actually 11 betten, he has been whipped
12 with cables on the base of 13 his feet and other parts of 14 his body. The committee is 15 saying that he is being put 16 into the inside of a tire so 17 that his head will be 18 touching his feet. The 19 torture that is being 20 described that my husband is 21 receiveing is conforming to 22 the precipitation that the 23 american department is 24 describing for the conditions
25 in syria."

1                   So on the 7th of August, there is 2                   this press conference being held, and I suggest to 3                   you that tab 12 is a response -- there is a 4                   concern now about these allegations, confirmed -- 5                   in other words, there seems to be confirmed 6                   reports about the torture that was being practised 7                   on Mr. Arar.

8                   So if we go now to -- coming back 9                   to tab 12, let's go to pages 9 and 10 --

10                  MR. FRY: All I can say to that,
11                  Commissioner, is that, I mean, this was a press -- 12                  I mean, the Syrian Human Rights --

13                  MR. DAVID: London-based Syrian --

14                  MR. FRY: Yes. I mean, when we 15                  talked about NGOs earlier, who knows what this 16                  organization is, right? I mean, a bunch of 17                  dissidents? I mean, any sort of information we 18                  would look at, but -- and you never dismiss 19                  anything outright, but, I mean, just because some 20                  organization like this makes some allegation, you 21                  know -- I think this is the first time actually 22                  that we have any sort of specific allegations
23                  that -- about Mr. Arar being tortured in Syria, 24                  and this is a long time after he was first 25                  detained.

1 MR. DAVID: If you go to page 10
2 of 10 of this tab --

3 MR. FRY: Which tab would that be?

4 MR. DAVID: That's tab 12 of 5 your -- the Fry documents.

6 MR. FRY: Okay. The last -- page
7 10 of 10?

8 MR. DAVID: Yes, the last page.
9 The top message is coming from Mr. McIntyre, and 10 it's going to a number of people, and it's dated 11 August 7, the same date as the press conference,
12 and it says:

13 "As it has not been possible
14 to arrange a phone call with 15 Syrian FM Shara this 16 afternoon, MJM is calling in 17 Syrian ambassador at 16:30 to 18 register our serious concerns
19 about the report that 20 Mr. Arar has been tortured
21 and to call on the Syrians to 22 honour past promises and 23 reinstate consular access
24 forthwith."

25 And the second paragraph refers to

1 the fact that we're going to continue to arrange
2 the call between Graham and the Foreign Minister.

3 So were you aware that this was 4 going on at this time in response to the torture
5 allegations --

6 MR. FRY: Well, we were very 7 concerned -- we had an organization claiming to 8 have information about Mr. Arar being tortured and 9 we were asking for confirmation from our people in 10 Damascus, and as you can see here, we were calling 11 in the ambassador -- MJM is John McNee, who was 12 the Assistant Deputy Minister for the Middle East.
13 He was calling in the Syrian Ambassador to 14 register our concern. There was talk of trying to 15 get a phone call.

16 I mean, it was getting a lot of 17 attention in Canada. Mr. -- you know, the media 18 were asking us questions about this. And so we 19 were trying to, you know, get confirmation, find 20 out more, and we were also trying to express our 21 concerns with the Syrians, even though, as I said, 22 I mean, these were just -- this was a report from 23 an NGO out of London.

24 MR. DAVID: But you were 25 attempting to respond to the allegations?

1 MR. FRY: Yes. We were trying to 2 get more information and we were trying to respond 3 and show that we were concerned with what we 4 heard.

5 MR. DAVID: And were you
6 personally involved in those steps, in the 7 steps --

8 MR. FRY: Well, around -- I --
9 around this time, I actually left on holidays 10 around this period in early August. So when the 11 first -- when the reports first came out, I think 12 it was July, actually, when the Syrian human 13 rights report came out, and I was not present 14 in -- on these particular days, I was away. I was 15 on holidays, actually.

16 MR. DAVID: Do you recall when you
17 returned from holidays?

18 MR. FRY: I would have left in 19 early August and would probably have returned, I 20 think, about the third week in August, maybe 21 around the 20th.

22 MR. DAVID: Okay. And were you
23 sensitized to these allegations and to these 24 claims, the actual reports of torture?

25 MR. FRY: I think the initial

1 report actually came out when I was still there, 2 in July, but I wasn't -- in terms of -- it was 3 probably my suggestion that we look at some sort 4 of phone call and, you know, how do we raise this 5 with the Syrians? But I wasn't there, you know, 6 at this particular -- you can sort of see that 7 actually Dan Costello is dealing with it because 8 I'm not there.

9 MR. DAVID: Would you have 10 discussed the matter with Mr. Pardy for his 11 insight and input?

12 MR. FRY: I would have, and I -- 13 I'm not sure if this has been redacted or not, but 14 it was also discussed in Damascus. There's a part 15 where -- we have a report from Damascus, in fact, 16 where we raise it with them. I don't think I can 17 talk to that.

18 MR. DAVID: Okay. Let's see -- 19 maybe if I refer you to a document, it will help.

20 MR. FRY: Okay.

21 MR. DAVID: If you want to go to 22 tab 13, which is old tab 507, and I could bring 23 you to page 3 of the document -- of the tab. This 24 is the August 14 consular report, and -- I'm 25 sorry. It's -- yes, page 3. If you go to page 3

1 of the document --

2 MR. FRY: Of tab 13?

3 MR. DAVID: Of tab 13, correct.

4 This is reporting about a visit on August 14 with 5 Mr. Arar?

6 MR. FRY: Mm-hmm.

7 MR. DAVID: And the third
8 paragraph refers to the language about torture,
9 and it says:

10 "He was able to express
11 himself freely at times and
12 he indicated that prison
13 conditions had been more
14 difficult in the past than 15 now. He mentioned he did not
16 wish to have adverse media
17 publicity as he felt this
18 would only harm his case. ...
19 He confirmed that he had not 20 been beaten nor tortured. He 21 also said he had not been 22 paralysed. When asked to 23 explain he could not find 24 another word for it. He also 25 said his long detention had

1 destroyed him mentally. He 2 indicated that as far as he
3 know he was not receiving a
4 worse treatment than 5 given to other prisoners."

6 So there was this consular report.
7 Do you recall seeing this consular
8 report dated August 14?

9 MR. FRY: I don't because I was 10 away at this period. I would have seen it later, 11 after -- upon my return.

12 If I might just move back a little 13 bit --

14 MR. DAVID: Sure.

15 MR. FRY: -- Commissioner, just 16 for some context.

17 So, beginning of July, we're now
18 sending Senator de Bané, and the main reason -- 19 we're sending him, in the case of Mr. Sampson, but 20 also to Syria on behalf of Mr. Arar with the 21 letter.

22 Just for some context, and this is 23 actually still current, I mean, that's also when 24 the case of Ms Kazemi, in Iran, took place, in 25 early July 2003. So we were -- our office was

1       dealing with -- Ms Kazemi's case had just blown
2       up, where she had basically been killed in custody
3       in Iran, you had Mr. Sampson's case, and you also 4       had Mr. Arar's case. All three, very high-profile 5       consular cases.

6                   And then partway through -- so
7       this was happening in July. Partway through July, 8       we had this report that came out from this human 9       rights organization out of London, so we were 10      trying to -- there was lots of media attention and 11      questioning and we were trying to figure out the 12      best way to address this. We couldn't -- we 13      weren't just going to ignore it, but we also -- I 14      mean, this is an organization -- I mean, we don't 15      know who they are, they're making these 16      allegations.

17                   So then you've taken me through 18      some of the things that we did to try to respond 19      to that, and one of those things was demand a 20      consular visit with Mr. Arar to confirm for 21      ourselves what was taking place. And this is the 22      report here.

23                   As I've said, I was away in the 24      beginning, the first part of August, and so I 25      would have seen this later on, but not at that

1 time.

2 MR. DAVID: Okay. And you said
3 that before leaving for your vacation, you had 4 heard of the issue, the allegations of torture?
5 You were sensitized to the human rights report
6 from London --

7 MR. FRY: Yes, I believe I was 8 aware of the report.

9 MR. DAVID: Now, either before 10 leaving for your vacation, or on return from your 11 vacation, did you have discussions with Mr. Pardy
12 concerning the issue of potential torture at this 13 time, during this time period --

14 MR. FRY: I believe we had 15 discussed the issue of the report and, in fact,
16 Mr. Pardy didn't put too much stock in the report.
17 I think he -- in fact there's an e-mail we might 18 be able to direct the Commission to.

19 MS McISAAC: Tab 486 I think 20 you're thinking of.

21 MR. FRY: Where -- I mean, I think
22 he said the same thing to me verbally, where Myra 23 Pastyr-Lupul actually writes an e-mail where she 24 says -- this is 486, page 2 of 12. She says:

25 "I showed this to Gar two

1 weeks ago and he does not 2 believe there is substance to 3 these allegations. We have 4 no reason to believe that 5 Maher is being tortured,
6 although we cannot prove that 7 he is not being mistreated,
8 since we have had no consular
9 access since April."

10 I mean, these are the similar 11 kinds of things that Gar would have told me as 12 well, that, I mean, you've got to take these kind 13 of organizations with a grain of salt. I mean, 14 you never know who they are. Sometimes they're 15 sort of dissidents for the country and it's in 16 their interests to criticize them.

17 MR. DAVID: Okay. So this, what 18 you just referred to is dated August 6. Is that 19 correct?

20 MR. FRY: Yes.

21 MR. DAVID: The e-mail from Myra 22 Pastyr-Lupul?

23 MR. FRY: Yes.

24 MR. DAVID: And you were on 25 vacation at this time?

1 MR. FRY: I was. But I just 2 referred to it because Gar was saying -- I think 3 he said similar things --

4 MR. DAVID: Giving his 5 assessment --

6 MR. FRY: Yes.

7 MR. DAVID: -- of what was coming
8 out of the London-based organization.

9 So you clearly did have 10 discussions with Mr. Pardy on the torture issue in 11 this time period?

12 MR. FRY: We had discussions about 13 the report --

14 MR. DAVID: About the allegations?

15 MR. FRY: Yes.

16 MR. DAVID: And my question next
17 is, and we've touched upon this briefly this 18 morning, what other time was that discussed that 19 you recall specifically, discussions about 20 torture, allegations of torture in Syria, between 21 yourself and Mr. Pardy?

22 MR. FRY: You mean surrounding 23 this report, or in general?

24 MR. DAVID: No, in general.

25 MR. FRY: Well, I mean, if you're

1 referring to whether, did Mr. Pardy tell us -- I 2 heard about Mr. Pardy's testimony before the 3 Commission and whether he said to us at other 4 times that he thought Mr. Arar was being tortured, 5 and the answer to that is no.

6 I mean, I have tremendous respect
7 for Gar Pardy. I mean, if I was trapped somewhere
8 in the world, he's the guy I'd like trying to help 9 to get me out. I mean, Gar -- he did a job that 10 not many professional diplomats want to do. He 11 was head -- he was Director General for the 12 consular section of Foreign Affairs, and I think 13 for 20 or 25 years, he was helping Canadians from 14 around the world -- bring them home.

15 I mean, he deserves the Order of 16 Canada to be honest. For all the things that he 17 did to help bring people back from when they're 18 in -- not just medical conditions but people that 19 were detained.

20 I say this because I don't like to 21 be in a position where I have to contradict him, 22 but, Commissioner, I mean, he did not raise with 23 me that he believed Mr. Arar was being tortured.

24 MR. DAVID: Until this time
25 period?

1 MR. FRY: Well, at this time, we 2 discussed the report, and he didn't put too much
3 value in the report. But we still had to deal
4 with the report. We weren't going to ignore it.
5 And so we did -- there are measures we took.

6 MR. DAVID: And was it ever
7 discussed between yourself and somebody else
8 within DFAIT, other than Mr. Pardy?

9 MR. FRY: What was discussed?

10 MR. DAVID: The issue of potential
11 mistreatment --

12 MR. FRY: Whether Mr. Arar --

13 MR. DAVID: -- to Mr. Arar?

14 MR. FRY: All I can say to that, I
15 mean, it's hard to say. I mean, over the course 16 of a year, when we talked about the case, whether 17 at some point did we discuss, you know, his 18 treatment.

19 I mean, we were relying on reports 20 from the consulate -- sorry, from the consul in 21 Damascus, and the reports we were getting back was 22 that Mr. Arar was -- you know, obviously no one 23 would be feeling very well in the conditions 24 that -- you know, being held in detention, away 25 from their family, unjustifiably for all this

1 time. But the reports we were getting back on a 2 consistent basis was that we were getting access 3 to him, this was unprecedented, we were getting in 4 to see him on a regular basis, that he was happy 5 to see us, that he looked reasonably well, and 6 this was -- we were getting regular reports to 7 that effect.

8 So although the detention was 9 not -- you know, he was not pleased with this -- 10 at no time were we getting reports that anyone 11 suspected he was being tortured.

12 MR. DAVID: Raising the 13 possibility of torture? That he was raising the 14 possibility that Mr. Arar was being tortured?

15 MR. FRY: Who was raising it?

16 MR. DAVID: That Mr. Pardy. You
17 were not getting reports --

18 MR. FRY: No. No one raised the 19 issue with me, or the Minister's office, that they 20 suspected --

21 MR. DAVID: So again to your 22 knowledge, to the best of your knowledge, there 23 was nobody else within your office, within the 24 political office, that was getting reports from 25 Mr. Pardy or anybody else within DFAIT that there

1 was the possibility that Mr. Arar was being 2 tortured?

3 MR. FRY: That's correct, we did
4 not. I mean, we had to rely on them for this 5 advice.

6 MR. DAVID: Okay. Moving on to 7 tab 505. I think that we'll be fairly brief here, 8 because, as I understand it now, that you were on 9 vacation.

10 This is a scrum or a news
11 conference that Mr. Graham is giving, and it's 12 dated August 14, so it's the same date of the 13 consular report that we've just reviewed.

14 If you go --

15 MS McISAAC: Excuse me. Tab 405?

16 MR. DAVID: Oh, okay. This is the 17 405/505 issue? We will one day get this right, 18 Mr. Commissioner.

19 THE COMMISSIONER: Go ahead.

20 MR. DAVID: So what seems to be 21 405 in your volume is a reference to a transcript
22 of a news conference given -- or a news briefing 23 given by Mr. Graham, and towards the -- above the 24 last paragraph, there's reference to the fact that 25 Mr. Graham is quoted as saying:

1 "Our consular officials have 2 assure us that he's in good
3 physical condition. He 4 personally, totally rejects
5 all allegations of torture.
6 He was interviewed
7 independantly by our consular
8 officials and he has stated
9 that his condition is better
10 than it was before we started 11 to intervene on his behalf."

12 You were not involved in 13 Mr. Graham's briefing in this regard?

14 MR. FRY: No, I wasn't.

15 MR. DAVID: Do you know who was?

16 MR. FRY: I believe it was the 17 Minister's Chief of Staff, Dan Costello, was part 18 of that, but there may have been other members of 19 his staff as well.

20 MR. DAVID: And your belief that 21 possibly Mr. Costello was involved in the briefing 22 comes from where?

23 MR. FRY: From him.

24 MR. DAVID: From Dan Costello?

25 MR. FRY: Yes. I mean, Minister

1           Graham testified to this. I don't think it was -- 2           you could really qualify it as a briefing. I
3           think the Minister was sort of -- I mean the main 4           focus of this was Mr. Sampson. Mr. Sampson had 5           just been released after almost three years and he 6           was just released at the beginning of August. So 7           that's what all the media attention was about.

8                         But at the same time the question 9           of the human rights report we figured could come 10          up in his scrum, and so there was, I think, a 11          quick sort of update on -- because we had just 12          received a consular note, I believe, that they had 13          been in to see Mr. Arar.

14                        MR. DAVID: Okay. And Mr. Graham 15          has well described the circumstances in which that 16          briefing took place, so that's fine.

17                        Let's go now to September 24, and 18          that would be tab 14 in the Fry documents. That 19          is old tab 576.

20                        Again, it's a series of e-mails.
21          There are three e-mails he referred to, and 22          basically the Minister, Minister Graham, is saying 23          that it would be a good thing if there was a trial
24          in Syria to deal with the Arar situation.

25                        You commented -- if you go to page

1           2 of the e-mail, it says:

2                           "Monia spoke with Robert Fry 3                           last night and was told that 4                           this is the ""strategy"" of 5                           MINA in prep for his meeting
6                           with the Syrian Foreign
7                           Minister."

8                           So on one point, you know, the 9           Minister is quoted on -- if you go to the first 10          page, you'll see the Minister is quoted as saying:

11                           "...we are pleased that the 12                           trial is going forth, as this 13                           will be an opportunity for 14                           Maher Arar to defend himself 15                           in court."

16                           And you're saying to Monia, you 17          know, she's concerned because -- she has concerns
18          about the quality of justice in Syria --

19                           MR. FRY:    Right.

20                           MR. DAVID:  -- and what will 21          happen to her husband, and you're giving sort of 22          an explanation here why the Minister would be 23          taking this position publicly.

24                           Could you just please explain what 25          the strategy -- you're referring to strategy and

1           what that was?

2                           MR. FRY:    Sure.  I mean, I would 3           be careful -- I mean, this is fourth hand, I 4           think, being reported --

5                           MR. DAVID:  And so I ask for your 6           version, Mr. Fry.

7                           MR. FRY:  I believe -- I mean, the 8           circumstances surrounding this is the Minister -- 9           there would have been a news report that the 10          Minister had said that we are pleased that a trial
11          is going forth and that Arar is going to get a 12          chance to defend himself, and Ms Mazigh would have 13          called me, you know, she would have been angry, 14          why is the Minister saying he's pleased that a 15          trial is going forth?

16                           And so I was trying to settle her 17          down a little bit by saying, look, I mean, our 18          first preference is to bring Mr. Arar home.  And 19          our strategy had been to push them to release him
20          to us, to tell them that there was no reason why 21          he couldn't come back to Canada and for them to 22          release him back to Canada, but if they're not 23          going to do that, rather than just leave him in 24          some limbo, he's been detained for almost a year, 25          without -- you know, the Minister had always --

1           our secondary choice had always been to press them
2           to say, "Well, okay, if you're not going to 3           release him to us, at least let him know what he's 4           been charged with and give him a chance to defend 5           himself in a transparent judicial process."

6                        I think earlier -- there were 7           actually some reports out of Damascus talking 8           about, that they were going to try him in a civil 9           court versus a military one. There was a bit of 10          back and forth on that.

11                      So I think all I would have told 12          her was, well, since they're not going to release 13          him, at least if they give us a chance to have an 14          open judicial process where we can have observers, 15          and I think we had actually started to make 16          arrangements for him to have a lawyer, or the 17          family had been making arrangements for him to 18          have a lawyer, and then arrangements to send an 19          observer to observe the trial, this was sort of 20          our second-best choice.

21                      So I think that's what had been 22          part of my conversation with Ms Mazigh, and I 23          would have also told her at this time that we were 24          hoping to meet with the Syrian Foreign Minister at 25          the U.N. later that month.

1 MR. DAVID: That is correct. And 2 that brings us to tab 580, which is in reference
3 to the Minister's meeting at the U.N. General
4 Assembly in New York with the Foreign Minister, 5 Shara'a, of Syria.

6 MR. FRY: You said 580?

7 MR. DAVID: 580, yes.

8 THE COMMISSIONER: Volume?

9 MR. DAVID: That's still in volume
10 6, I believe -- yes, 6. It's the last tab.

11 THE COMMISSIONER: Thank you.

12 MR. DAVID: I don't know if it's 13 really necessary, Mr. Commissioner, that you have 14 to look at it --

15 THE COMMISSIONER: I've got it.

16 MR. DAVID: Okay.

17 Were you in New York with the 18 Minister at this time?

19 MR. FRY: Yes.

20 MR. DAVID: And were you present
21 when he met Foreign Minister Shara'a?

22 MR. FRY: Yes.

23 MR. DAVID: So you witnessed the 24 conversation between both men?

25 MR. FRY: Yes.

1 MR. DAVID: We've heard evidence
2 from Mr. Graham that the Foreign Minister assured
3 him that they would do their best -- he would do 4 his best to bring to a positive conclusion
5 Mr. Arar's fate in Syria. Do you recall that 6 assurance being given to your Minister?

7 MR. FRY: I do.

8 MR. DAVID: And could you just 9 maybe give us your appreciation of what was said 10 and the message that was being given?

11 MS McISAAC: Mr. Commissioner,
12 I've instructed the witness that he can give the 13 general gist of the messages conveyed, but is not 14 to get into details of the conversation.

15 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay. Thank
16 you. Thank you, Ms McIsaac.

17 MR. DAVID: So with that "mise en 18 garde".

19 MR. FRY: I guess I would say
20 that -- I mean the way that the Minister 21 characterized it, that the Foreign Minister was 22 quite, seemed to show a willingness to try and 23 help. There was another individual that was not 24 so helpful at that same meeting.

25 MR. DAVID: That other individual,

1           less helpful, was in the company of Foreign 2           Minister Shara'a?

3                         MR. FRY:   Yes, he was -- we don't 4           know who he was, or what he was, but he was 5           sitting beside the Foreign Minister.

6                         MR. DAVID:  Was he admonished by 7           the Foreign Minister Shara'a?

8                         MR. FRY:   No, he was not 9           admonished.

10                        MR. DAVID:  All right.

11                        MR. FRY:   In fact, I -- I'm at 12           a -- you know, I don't know if this is general or 13           not, but, I mean, the point that the other 14           individual was making was that, in fact, all the 15           media attention, and I think referring to the 16           recent press conference by Ms Mazigh, was actually 17           going to make things more difficult and, in fact, 18           was interfering with -- well, I don't think 19           "interfering" is actually the right word.

20                        MR. DAVID:  Counterproductive?

21                        MR. FRY:   Counterproductive, and 22           was making it so they weren't going to release
23           Mr. Arar any time soon.

24                        MR. DAVID:  That there was no
25           intention to release him?

1 MR. FRY: Well, that if this
2 continued -- I mean, he made it very clear that 3 the publicity and the activities that Mrs. Mazigh
4 was taking was counterproductive and they weren't 5 happy with that, and if they weren't happy with 6 that then they were in no mood to help us.

7 MR. DAVID: In any way, to your 8 recollection, did the Foreign Minister try to 9 correct the situation in terms of those comments?

10 MR. FRY: No, he didn't.

11 MR. DAVID: On the 1st of October, 12 and I don't have a document to bring you to, but 13 your Minister telephoned or met, I'm sorry, the 14 Secretary General Moussa of the Arab League, and 15 they met in Ottawa, and we've heard testimony from 16 Mr. Graham that he sought his assistance in his 17 push to have Mr. Arar released.

18 My question is, were you there and 19 were you present during this discussion?

20 MR. FRY: Yes, I was.

21 MR. DAVID: Could you, again, just 22 give us your best recollection of what --

23 MR. FRY: As the Minister said,
24 this was one amongst many issues that we raised 25 with Mr. Moussa, who is head of the Arab League,

1 former Foreign Minister of Egypt. I mean, the 2 discussion was around Middle East peace. There 3 was still a lot of, you know, suicide bombings and 4 things in Israel and the Palestinian Territories, 5 talking about Iraq, but we definitely raised the 6 issue of Mr. Arar and the Minister, in fact, was 7 very forceful in terms of telling Mr. Moussa that 8 this reflected very badly on the Arab world and 9 that could he help in some way.

10 MR. DAVID: Okay. Coming down to 11 Mr. Arar's release, which followed in the next few 12 days, October 4, I believe, Minister Shara'a 13 phoned Minister Graham, who was in Rome at that 14 time. Were you with Minister Graham at that time
15 in Rome?

16 MR. FRY: No, I was in Ottawa. I
17 received a phone call saying that Minister Shara'a 18 wanted to reach the Minister. So then I was -- I 19 contacted the Minister in Rome. He was at a 20 meeting in Rome. And told him that -- you know, 21 found out whether he was available to take the 22 call, and I then set up the call, set up a
23 three-way call with Minister Shara'a.

24 MR. DAVID: And were you, again,
25 participating in that conversation? Did you hear

1           what was discussed?

2                           MR. FRY: I was on the call and,
3           again -- well, I mean, the gist of the 4           conversation was that we are, you know, going to 5           be releasing Mr. Arar in the next little while.

6                           MR. DAVID: Okay. And were you
7           tasked in any way to follow up on that call?

8                           MR. FRY: I spoke to -- I believe 9           I spoke to Ms Catterall, to make sure that she was 10          aware, because we were trying to make sure 11          anything that was happening, that we were keeping 12          her up-to-date.

13                          But I also -- I was a bit torn, 14          because until we had him in our custody and, in 15          fact, until we knew he was freed, I didn't want to 16          get people's hopes up.

17                          So it was difficult for me to sort 18          of -- I didn't want to -- because I didn't want to 19          say too much and have people rushing around until 20          we knew we had him back. So I was very careful, 21          and I think I spoke to Marlene Catterall and to 22          Monia, but just to tell them very -- you know, we 23          don't have him yet, but we're optimistic.

24                          We didn't -- there was nothing in 25          the days leading up to that -- this call was sort

1 of out of the blue, and we thought he might be 2 calling to say, "oh, we are going to be trying him 3 in a civil trial, in a transparent trial," and,
4 you know, our wildest dreams were that he was 5 going to say we're giving him back to you, and 6 they were fulfilled. So we were very excited.

7 But until we had him for sure, we 8 weren't going to do too much with that. This was 9 a Saturday. I think it was Saturday, October 4. I 10 think. We'd have to look at. That's 2002.

11 MR. DAVID: That's 2002.

12 MR. FRY: So I'm not sure the 4th 13 would be -- yes, so that was a Saturday. I would 14 also have spoken to the officials in our Middle 15 East branch at Foreign Affairs, Jillian Stirk, I 16 think is the person I spoke to, Director
17 responsible for Syria, and told them to let me 18 know as soon as, you know, we had any word whether 19 we actually had Mr. Arar back in our custody.

20 MR. DAVID: We go now to tab 597.
21 If you could -- that would be in volume 7. So I 22 think we have to change volumes here.

23 Can you identify with this 24 document? It's a statement -- it seems to be a 25 statement by Mr. Graham. Were you involved in the 1           drafting of this statement here?

2                       MR. FRY: I think I would have 3           commented or provided some help in the drafting of 4           it, yes.

5                       MR. DAVID: Okay. And it's simply 6           the confirmation that he has been released?

7                       MR. FRY: Yes. I think what we 8           did is on Sunday, we got -- I got a call at 3:30 9           in the morning, and I was very -- for once I was 10          very pleased to receive a call in the middle of 11          the night -- telling me we have him, and he's in 12          our custody and he's with Mr. Martel.

13                      So they were fiercely making 14          arrangements to get him out of the country and get 15          him on a plane, and once we knew he had cleared 16          Syrian air space and he was out of the country, we 17          put the Minister on a -- he was in Rome so we put 18          him on a call with Canadian journalists, and I 19          think this is part of -- I mean, he would have put 20          it in his own words, but this would have been part 21          of his opening statement to the Canadian media to 22          tell them that we -- Mr. Arar was now free.

23                      MR. DAVID: All right. And we 24          come now to your personal notes, pages 16 and 17, 25          Mr. Fry -- I mean, 16 to 18, actually. And if you

1           could just turn that up?

2                           This is an entry for October 7.

3                           MR. FRY:   Personal notes.

4                           MR. DAVID:  I'd like to deal now
5           with these three pages in some detail.

6                           I believe they concern a briefing 7           that was provided to you and many others by 8           Mr. Leo Martel from the Damascus embassy
9           concerning conversation that he had with Mr. Arar 10          in the context of his return to Canada and that 11          Mr. Martel was providing you and many others with 12          a briefing.

13                          Do you recall attending such a 14          briefing?

15                          MR. FRY:   Yes.

16                          MR. DAVID:  And from your office, 17          from the political office, was there anybody else
18          in attendance?

19                          MR. FRY:   I believe there was 20          someone from Communications.

21                          MR. DAVID:  Okay.

22                          Have you had occasion to review
23          your notes about this meeting?

24                          MR. FRY:   I have.

25                          MR. DAVID:  Okay.  And is there

1 anything that you'd like to correct in these notes
2 in terms of reflecting accurately what you recall 3 from the meeting?

4 MR. FRY: I think the one thing I
5 said here about him being moved to Sednaya after 6 the MP visit is incorrect.

7 MR. DAVID: Could you just for the 8 record --

9 MR. FRY: So page 16.

10 MR. DAVID: Yes.

11 MR. FRY: The second page.

12 MR. DAVID: Right-hand side?

13 MR. FRY: Right-hand side. Sort
14 of --

15 MR. DAVID: The fourth bullet.

16 MR. FRY: The fourth bullet.

17 MR. DAVID: It says:

18 "Moved to Sednaya..."

19 MR. FRY: I don't know if I was 20 mistaken, or in fact the person who was saying 21 this was mistaken, but here I'm saying that he was 22 moved after the MP visit, which was in April, and 23 I think he was only moved in August. I believe 24 that --

25 MR. DAVID: Okay.

1 MR. FRY: So that would be
2 incorrect.

3 MR. DAVID: I don't intend on 4 bringing you through these three pages in any 5 detail. We've heard much testimony about this 6 meeting. But I just want to assure myself that 7 you have gone through these notes, Mr. Fry. If 8 not, I'd do it with you now, but I just want to 9 make sure that they, in your opinion, accurately
10 reflect what was relayed to you by Mr. Martel?

11 MR. FRY: If I can just go through 12 them quickly?

13 MR. DAVID: Absolutely.

14 --- Pause

15 MR. FRY: I think that was -- my 16 notes accurately reflect what I was told at that 17 time. What I understood at that briefing.

18 MR. DAVID: Okay. Did you meet
19 Mr. Martel in any way in this time period, 20 privately or in another occasion than this one?

21 MR. FRY: No, this was the one
22 occasion I had to meet with him.

23 MR. DAVID: So this is the only
24 time that you obtained information from Mr. Martel 25 concerning Mr. Arar's treatment?

1 MR. FRY: No, I did -- there
2 were -- and I think the documents show that, where 3 I communicated directly with Mr. Martel later on.
4 But at this time, no.

5 MR. DAVID: Okay.

6 MR. FRY: I think that was -- I
7 mean, he told us everything he had, so there was 8 no real need to have another meeting.

9 MR. DAVID: And I'd like to bring 10 you to one entry, just because I need your 11 clarification, that's at page 17, right-hand side, 12 third bullet. It says, and I believe, or maybe 13 you want to read it.

14 MR. FRY: The one: "Pres waiting 15 for call from PM"?

16 MR. DAVID: Right. Do you know
17 what that refers to?

18 MR. FRY: Well, I believe I was -- 19 we were told -- either Leo was told, or Mr. Arar
20 was told, that the President of Syria hadn't 21 replied to the Prime Minister's letter because 22 they were waiting for a call from the Prime 23 Minister.

24 MR. DAVID: We know the Prime 25 Minister's letter was issued on July 11.

1 MR. FRY: Yes.

2 MR. DAVID: It was delivered by 3 Senator de Bané the third week of July. So is 4 this entry referring to the fact that -- with 5 regard to the follow-up to that letter at that 6 time?

7 MR. FRY: Yes. I think what I'm 8 saying -- what I was told at this time was that -- 9 someone told me, either Leo was told this, or 10 Mr. Arar was told this and he relayed it to Leo, 11 that the Syrians had said at one point that their 12 President was waiting for a call from the Prime 13 Minister of Canada.

14 MR. DAVID: Okay.

15 And would this have, to your 16 understanding, have delayed his release, the fact 17 that the Prime Minister didn't follow up with a 18 call to the President of Syria? Was that the 19 insinuation of this comment or ...

20 MR. FRY: No. I mean, that wasn't 21 my understanding, that this had been a delay, but 22 it may have been just a matter of -- I can't 23 speculate, counsel.

24 MR. DAVID: Okay.

25 MR. FRY: I mean, we know the

1 Prime Minister had sent a letter in July. We were 2 in fact waiting for a response from the Syrians.

3 It may be just a matter of fact.
4 Because I think you've seen the documentation that 5 we were making preparations for a call, so it may 6 have been relayed to the Syrians at some point.
7 You know, because, before you do these calls,
8 there's a lot of back and forth between officials, 9 so it may have simply been that the Syrians had 10 been preparing for a call from the Prime Minister.

11 MR. DAVID: Okay. I bring you now
12 to tab 643. And if you could go to the last page, 13 the fourth page, and it's simply -- we need your 14 clarification here. Are these your notes? Is 15 this your handwriting?

16 MR. FRY: It is.

17 MR. DAVID: And what are these 18 notes, what do they relate to?

19 MR. FRY: I believe these are the 20 notes I took after the meeting with Mr. Arar and 21 Monia on October 29, or -- either I took these 22 notes during that meeting or right after.

23 MR. DAVID: So you're saying that 24 they refer to what basically Mr. Arar told you --

25 MR. FRY: Yes.

1                   MR. DAVID:  -- about his treatment
2           in Syria?

3                   MR. FRY:  In that -- when Mr. Arar
4           met with Minister Graham, we had a bit of a small 5           get-together.  It was Maher, Monia, myself, and 6           Minister Graham in his office.

7                   I mean, to be respectful, I didn't 8           want to take a lot of notes.  In fact, we may have 9           even discussed not taking notes -- Mr. Arar may 10          have asked us, you know, not to take notes, we 11          just want to have a discussion.  I mean, we were 12          very sympathetic to his plight.  He had just come 13          back from a year's detainment and everything that 14          goes with it.

15                  So, you know, I felt -- I didn't 16          feel it was appropriate for me to be sitting there 17          jotting down every note that he was saying.  We 18          wanted to have a discussion.

19                  So I may have taken sporadic
20          notes, or I may have tried to take some notes 21          afterwards just to, you know, remember what was 22          said in that discussion, and I think these may be 23          them.

24                  I looked at them -- I actually 25          only saw them recently, and when I was looking at

1           them, they seemed to me to be -- these could have 2           been the notes that I took.

3                           MR. DAVID:   Okay.

4                           Do you have any comments?  Do you
5           want to correct anything these notes contain?

6                           MR. FRY:   I think they're very 7           similar to the notes I took -- I mean, very 8           consistent with what Mr. Martel told us.

9                           I mean, some things that are 10          different here is about George.  I mean, I don't 11          really -- I don't really remember -- I mean, 12          maybe -- I think something about George being 13          nemesis, George may have been one of the prison -- 14          one of the guards.

15                           And the other things are all 16          things that I think the Commission is well aware 17          of, you know, his conditions of detainment, the 18          fact that he was beaten, you know, mental strain, 19          treated the same as other prisoners, wanted to 20          thank -- thank George.  Something about asking us 21          to tell the media that that's not true.  Not 22          everything in the media was true as reported.
23          Move to Sednaya, quite angry.  I think that's all 24          I --

25                           MR. DAVID:   Okay.  We can go now

1 to tab 625, which is also tab 16 in the Fry
2 documents, and this concerns the meeting that you
3 had with the Minister with Monia Mazigh and Maher 4 Arar.

5 My first question is, following
6 this meeting -- you were in attendance at this 7 meeting. There were two meetings, as you've 8 described. There was a more public meeting and 9 then there was a private meeting that was held 10 before, I believe?

11 MR. FRY: Yes.

12 MR. DAVID: Wherein there was just 13 yourself, the Minister, and Ms Mazigh and Mr. Arar 14 that were present?

15 MR. FRY: Yes.

16 MR. DAVID: Okay.

17 After both these meetings, do you
18 recall meeting Mr. Lockyer in a private setting 19 wherein you revealed to him certain information
20 concerning CSIS?

21 MR. FRY: I didn't meet him in a
22 private setting. It was at the general meeting 23 that I believe he alleges that this took place.

24 MR. DAVID: Okay. And do you
25 recall speaking to Mr. Lockyer at this time?

1                   MR. FRY: Mr. Lockyer was part of 2 the discussion that we had. As you said, we had a 3 small group, the four of us, and then we moved to 4 a larger boardroom where there were probably 20
5 people and the discussion continued there for a 6 while and then the Minister had to leave.
7 Mr. Lockyer was present at that larger meeting.

8                   MR. DAVID: Okay. And do you
9 recall making any sort of revelation to 10 Mr. Lockyer about CSIS and Syria?

11                   MR. FRY: I don't really recall
12 making any particular declaration to Mr. Lockyer.
13 I'm familiar with what you're talking about 14 because I know it appeared in an affidavit --

15                   MR. DAVID: That's right.

16                   MR. FRY: -- and it appeared 17 elsewhere. I think the only thing I can say to 18 that is, maybe I confirmed to them at that time 19 that there had been a CSIS visit, but I must 20 say -- I mean, to me, this was no news to anybody.
21 I mean, as far back -- I mean, this was October.
22 As far back as March, I mean, the Syrian
23 ambassador, who had been involved in this for a 24 long time, I mean, you showed me the briefing -- 25 the memo, where he had told members of Parliament,

1 Marlene Catterall, Sarkis Assadourian, and had 2 told a lot of people that CSIS had been to Syria.

3 So, I mean, I don't understand why 4 it's such a big -- it's a big item that merited an 5 affidavit, but, I mean, I could have at that time 6 confirmed, if somebody had said something about 7 CSIS, I could have confirmed, yes, it was my 8 understanding that CSIS had visited Syria.

9 MR. DAVID: Just to answer your 10 question, I think that my understanding of why it 11 became an issue in an affidavit was in terms of 12 whether the information was publicly available, 13 released information or not, so ...

14 MR. FRY: Right.

15 MR. DAVID: It was in that context
16 I think that there was reference.

17 Do you recall where you learnt and 18 when you learnt of the fact that CSIS had gone to 19 Syria? Was that from Mr. Pardy in January?

20 MR. FRY: Yes, it was in Mr.
21 Party's --

22 MR. DAVID: Do you recall why it
23 was relevant to tell Mr. Lockyer -- give that 24 information to Mr. Lockyer at this time, that is, 25 at the time of your meeting in October?

1                   MR. FRY: I don't. I don't recall
2 why it was relevant. It really wasn't the focus 3 of that discussion. I mean, the discussion was, 4 Mr. Arar having just come back, sort of dealing 5 with him and how do we deal with what the 6 Syrians -- his treatment and what they had done.

7                   I mean, my recollection may have 8 been that it had come up and I had confirmed it, 9 and I didn't realize that it was such an important 10 thing that someone like me had confirmed that, but 11 obviously it was, and -- I mean, to me, it's an 12 example, and I guess it's an example to the 13 Commission, about, that the difficult line that 14 myself and Gar Pardy often had to walk, about what 15 things we could talk about and what things we 16 couldn't talk about.

17                   I mean, we were on the front line.
18 I was talking to Monia Mazigh, I was talking to 19 Alex Neve, Gar was talking to the families as 20 well, and I'm talking to Marlene Catterall and I'm 21 trying to be forthcoming and trying to do what we 22 can to tell them that we're trying to help, and at 23 the same time, there are restrictions on me in 24 terms of what things I can and can't say, and 25 there's an example for you of where I, you know,

1 I'm accused of having made a -- gone too far.

2 MR. DAVID: Okay. Mr. Fry, the 3 last question with regard to tab 16. If you look 4 at the front page, the first page, there are two 5 manuscript entries at the bottom. Can you just 6 tell us if that is your handwriting?

7 MR. FRY: Could you repeat the tab
8 number?

9 MR. DAVID: Tab 16 of the Fry
10 documents, yes.

11 MR. FRY: Yes, this is my 12 handwriting.

13 MR. DAVID: Okay. And it says:
14 "Public inquiry can help.
15 Look at the best way to deal
16 with these cases."

17 Is that what --

18 MR. FRY: Yes, that's correct.

19 MR. DAVID: And then:

20 "Sol Gen needs to ..."

21 MR. FRY:

22 "... comment publicly about 23 leaks."

24 MR. DAVID: Okay.

25 MR. FRY: This would have been

1           around all those leaks, you know, with Juliet
2           O'Neill, and the leaks that were coming out from a 3           variety of sources about the case.

4                         MR. DAVID:   Okay.

5                         Let's go to your personal notes,
6           and I bring you to page 4 --

7                         MR. FRY:    Just to clarify, the 8           reason I'm even saying that was that, it's not up 9           to the Minister of Foreign Affairs to be 10          commenting on these, because the media would have 11          been asking him for comment.  I was sort of saying 12          SOLGEN has to deal with this, not us.

13                        MR. DAVID:   Okay.

14                        MR. FRY:    Sorry, which tab?

15                        MR. DAVID:   Page 4 of your 16          personal notes.

17                        MR. FRY:    Okay.

18                        MR. DAVID:   If you could identify 19          for us what these relate to.  I believe it would 20          be the October 29 meeting, but I'm not quite 21          certain.

22                        MR. FRY:    So just on page 4.

23                        MR. DAVID:   Just page 4, yes.

24                        MR. FRY:    Well, I may have been 25          watching -- may have been watching the press

1 conference. Some of the things I'm sort of 2 jotting down are things that Mr. Waldman or 3 Mr. Arar may have said during the press
4 conference.

5 So it's, I mean, some notes on 6 what was being said. I think this was actually 7 not part of my -- it wasn't in my personal 8 notebook. It was sort of on separate pieces of 9 paper.

10 If you look at the top, it's like,
11 you know, Mr. Arar saying he couldn't say 12 everything. "They made him sign a document.
13 Appreciated visits, but couldn't talk. Had 14 several -- lost 40 pounds. Was held at the 15 Palestinian branch of the Syrian Intelligence. On 16 September 19-20, around there, another Canadian 17 arrived. Doesn't know why they have him there.
18 On September 28 moved back to Damascus. Stayed 19 there for a week."

20 So I think this is what Mr. Arar
21 was saying in his press conference on November 4.
22 And then there are some other things here. Here's 23 me saying: "Didn't thank the government or 24 Foreign Minister, but he thanked the MPs." That 25 was, you know, when Mr. Arar was sort of thanking

1 the Members of Parliament. You know, then he's 2 raising some of the questions that he raised.
3 "Why did this happen to me? Wants the truth to 4 come out in a public inquiry. Wants to clear his 5 name. Doesn't want this to happen to other 6 Canadian citizens. Canada's reputation on the 7 line."

8 And then Steve Watt, I think one
9 of the lawyers, was talking about the complicity
10 of the U.S. government, "demand public inquiry, 11 price of human rights versus terrorism."

12 MR. DAVID: Okay.

13 So that would be basically a
14 reference to the November 4 press conference?

15 MR. FRY: And then here I think 16 it's about Almalki whereas "he knew his brother, 17 met him in the mosque, sold him computers, casual 18 relationship."

19 MR. DAVID: Okay.

20 Let's go to tab 634, the date is 21 October 31. Now you're getting involved in 22 seeking clarifications about different versions
23 that concern the allegations of torture.

24 If you go to the third paragraph,
25 Mr. Fry, the first page, it says:

1 "Torture allegation is 2 inconsistent with statements
3 made by Arar to Martel during 4 meeting on August 14 in 5 Damascus ... and on October 6
6 while en route to Canada.
7 Please confirm info in ref
8 messages and Arar's comments
9 during travel back to Canada
10 following his release. It 11 would also be helpful to have 12 your assessment of the 13 conditions of detention, 14 which could be considered as 15 "degrading" or "inhuman", 16 e.g., the small size of 17 prison cell, long periods of 18 darkness and any other
19 relevant information. Please
20 provide your notes of this 21 meeting, as requested by 22 MINA/Fry."

23 So could if you just explain to us
24 why this is going forth at your request?

25 MR. FRY: Well, I guess we went

1 from jubilation, when we finally -- we freed
2 Mr. Arar, Gar Pardy and myself and a lot of other 3 people at Foreign Affairs, Leo and the ambassador, 4 who worked so hard to get him out, we got him out,
5 and then it's a one-day good news story and then 6 it's all about, you know, the horrible things that 7 happened to him and, you know, how the Canadian 8 government didn't respond properly.

9 Part here -- what I've seen I
10 guess in -- there's a chronology that was put out 11 by Amnesty, or what took place with Mr. Arar. And 12 in that chronology, on October -- August 14, they 13 say that -- in their chronology it talks about 14 Mr. Arar saying he basically told us at that 15 consular meeting that he had been tortured, and I 16 knew, at this point, that the same day Minister 17 Graham had been out in the news, in the media, 18 saying, "We met with Mr. Arar today and he told us 19 he hasn't been tortured."

20 So I was faced with a situation
21 where the media was going to say, "Well, Mr. Arar 22 says he told you, and your Minister, Minister 23 Graham, went out and said the exact opposite.
24 What's going on? Is he -- you know, did he lie -- 25 is he lying to Canadians?" I mean that was the 1 type -- that's the world that I function in with 2 the media.

3 So I can see this coming. I can 4 see that, you know -- because he hasn't had his 5 press conference yet, but we know he's going to do
6 his press conference, and I'm worried about a 7 situation where we're going to have: "Mr. Arar 8 says, he told you, and you, Minister, told 9 Canadians on August 14 that he didn't tell you.
10 You know, who's lying? Who's telling the truth?"

11 So I'm trying to figure out, you
12 know, I'm asking -- I'm going right to the source, 13 which is unusual, I'm going back.

14 First I'm going through the proper
15 channels, in Foreign Affairs, but I eventually go 16 directly to Mr. Martel and say check all your 17 notes. I mean, everything that -- we want to know 18 exactly what was said because we were told, and 19 the Minister was told, that Mr. Arar did not say 20 this and now we know he's going to come out and 21 say this. You know, we need some clarity as 22 someone -- who's right? Who's wrong? Is there 23 some confusion? Is there some misinterpretation?

24 So part of, I think, what you're 25 leading me through now is part of my trying to get

1 to the bottom of this, if I can, to avoid this 2 problem.

3 MR. DAVID: Okay. And just for 4 the record, if you go to tab 630, we see that 5 you're sending out a message concerning the 6 fact -- in reference to the meeting that you had 7 on October 29, this is a message coming out the 8 next day, where you're just reminding people, 9 let's keep our meeting and the contents of the 10 meeting with Mr. Arar confidential because there 11 seems to be an issue -- some information was 12 leaked.

13 MR. FRY: Yes. I mean, we -- we 14 all committed to Mr. Arar, when he came in, that 15 what he said to us was going to stay in this room
16 until he chose to divulge it at a press 17 conference. I mean, they're all professionals in 18 this room. The head of Legal, the head of --

19 And the next day, Kirk Petrovic is 20 reporting that Mr. Arar has told the Canadian 21 government -- I believe this is what it was, that 22 he had been tortured. This had not yet come out 23 yet.

24 So Mr. Arar called me, and he was 25 very unhappy and he felt betrayed because he had

1 told us these things in confidence and now he 2 hears about it the next day in the newspaper.

3 I was very embarrassed and this 4 was a pretty harsh e-mail from me to the -- 5 Colleen Swords is the head of the Legal Division
6 at Foreign Affairs, Konrad Sigurdson is the head
7 of Consular, John McNee is the ADM, Middle East,
8 and I'm telling them, you know, Mr. Arar is really 9 unhappy and I hope none of you guys said anything 10 to anyone.

11 I didn't believe they did, but I
12 was trying to figure out, how did this get out?
13 Because the Minister didn't talk. We didn't talk.
14 These people didn't talk. And so I was writing to 15 them to say, you know, we've got to be very 16 careful here.

17 I wanted them to know that 18 Mr. Arar was unhappy because of what had happened 19 and I, in fact, reassured Mr. Arar too, and to the 20 best of my ability, it didn't come from us. We 21 don't know how this got out into the news.

22 MR. DAVID: Okay. And to follow
23 up on your request dated October 31 for precisions
24 from Mr. Martel, we have at tab 640 the comments 25 coming from Mr. Martel, and they are dated

1 November 3, and these are the precisions that -- 2 and it's the last paragraph that really refers to 3 what Mr. Arar had told him? So that's simply for 4 the record.

5 And then we go to the press
6 conference per se, which is on the next date, 7 which is October 4. And we've seen your notes in 8 that meeting.

9 So did you note inconsistencies
10 between what you were hearing at the press 11 conference and the private meeting that you had 12 with Mr. Arar on October 29?

13 MR. FRY: No. I think it was 14 quite consistent. I mean, the only concern was 15 the issue of whether he had said on August 14th to 16 Leo Martel that he had in fact been tortured. Leo 17 was saying this was not the case and in his press
18 conference he was saying he did.

19 But he didn't spend a lot of time
20 on it at the press conference. In fact, it didn't 21 become the huge issue that I thought it could 22 become at this time, at this point anyway.

23 MR. DAVID: Okay. Again, for the 24 record, pages 5 and 6 of your personal notes.

25 If you could just identify those

1 two pages? I believe that they are your comments
2 on the press conference.

3 MR. FRY: Where are we?

4 MR. DAVID: Personal notes,
5 pages 5 and 6.

6 MR. FRY: I think the only other
7 thing I might say, because I think you have asked 8 me a very general question about whether 9 everything he said in his press conference was 10 consistent with everything he said with us in 11 private? I would have to probably look a little 12 more closely before I -- there may be a couple 13 other things in there about, you know, some other 14 detail.

15 So I want to be careful giving a 16 blanket statement that everything is exactly the 17 same. Maybe I will have an opportunity to look at 18 both again and see exactly what was said in the 19 press conference and compare it.

20 MR. DAVID: Are you willing to 21 accept that by and large the two scenarios were 22 fairly consistent?

23 MR. FRY: Yes. I would say they 24 were fairly consistent, yes.

25 MR. DAVID: Okay. So coming

1 now to pages 5 and 6 of your personal notes.
2 Just just for purposes of identification, if 3 you could just tell us they do refer to the 4 press conference?

5 MR. FRY: Yes. I think this is 6 the continuation of the press conference. Yes.

7 MR. DAVID: Okay. Let's go to 8 tab 649 for an entry, again I believe on 9 November 4th, the day of the press conference.
10 These are entitled, "Arar Talking Points". They 11 are for your Minister?

12 MR. FRY: Yes.

13 MR. DAVID: There is also 14 reference to these at page 9 of your notes, so if 15 you want to just refer to that? It is the same 16 document actually.

17 Did you draft these 18 talking points?

19 MR. FRY: I did.

20 MR. DAVID: Okay.

21 MR. FRY: It is unusual for me to 22 draft talking points specifically in this form for 23 the Minister. But again, it was part of the 24 concern around this notion of that you are going 25 to have the Minister having said one thing on

1 August 14th and now Mr. Arar was saying he had 2 told us the opposite. So I was trying to give the 3 Minister -- the point was to give the Minister 4 some context how he could respond if he was asked 5 about that.

6 MR. DAVID: You are referencing
7 his statements on August 14th that were now 8 understood to be mistaken about the briefing that 9 he had obtained, that there were no allegations 10 of torture?

11 If you go to the before last 12 paragraph, where the Minister is clarifying, and 13 it is the second sentence:

14 "All I can say is that my 15 statements in August
16 represent what was reported
17 to me and what my officials
18 and I believed to be the case
19 at that time."

20 MR. FRY: Yes.

21 MR. DAVID: So it is just a matter
22 of clarifying --

23 MR. FRY: Yes. I mean, he was 24 basically -- what he said in August was what he 25 was advised. I think the only slight nuance is

1           that in August he talked about meeting him
2           independently.

3                           MR. DAVID: Right, independent 4           assessment or --

5                           MR. FRY: Yes. We spent a lot of 6           time trying to figure out where that came from. I 7           think there was a bit of a -- someone talked 8           about, you know, that Mr. Arar spoke more freely 9           than usual. That may have been transmitted to the 10          Minister in the term of, you know, that he had an 11          opportunity to -- Leo had an opportunity to speak 12          to him sort of one-on-one.

13                          MR. DAVID: Okay. If you 14          could just help us understand page 7 of your 15          personal notes? There is an entry at the very 16          top that says:

17                                    "No specific allegations last 18                                    summer."

19                                    Or it seems to say that.

20          --- Pause

21                          MR. DAVID: These unfortunately 22          are not dated.

23          --- Pause

24                          MR. FRY: Yes. I'm not really 25          sure what these are. These could have been just

1 sort of general -- just notes in terms of --

2 MS McISAAC: Could they not be a
3 carry-on from the previous page?

4 --- Pause

5 MR. FRY: I mean, I think I'm 6 saying that there were specific allegations for 7 the first time last summer, which was the Syrian
8 Human Rights report. We were always sceptical
9 about, you know, how freely he could talk. I
10 think, yes, I am commenting about that August 14th
11 meeting.

12 MR. DAVID: Okay. Going now to 13 tab 740, and that would be in volume 8, Mr. Fry.

14 This is a briefing note that is 15 going to your Minister. It deals with two issues.
16 One is the criticism that was being addressed to 17 the Consular General in New York. I don't want to 18 deal with that in any way.

19 It is the first issue, it 20 is dealing with the contradictions between the 21 August 14th consular report and the contents 22 of the press conference. So this briefing note is 23 addressing certain contradictions that were 24 apparent.

25 My only question to you in this

1 regard: Was this a result of your investigation, 2 the briefing note that you were -- the 3 investigation in the sense of the clarifications
4 that you had sought from Damascus?

5 MR. FRY: Yes. I mean, this is 6 actually an example of -- I mean, this issue, as 7 you could tell, started around -- I mean, we 8 started inquiring at the end of October.

9 MR. DAVID: That's right.

10 MR. FRY: Now three weeks later we 11 get a briefing note, so it is a bit sort of -- it 12 probably started there and eventually -- I mean, 13 it shows you how these things can take time to get 14 up to us.

15 So I think this briefing note was 16 sort of the official departmental position on this 17 apparent contradiction.

18 MR. DAVID: Okay. If we can go
19 back now to tab 650, and that is in volume 7.

20 This refers to the fact that 21 your Minister is seeking clarifications from 22 Secretary Powell as to the identity of the 23 Canadian source that would have sent information
24 to U.S. authorities.

25 Did you sit in on this phone call

1           between Minister Graham and Secretary Powell?

2                           MR. FRY:   Yes, I was present.

3                           MR. DAVID:  I bring you now to 4           pages 3 and 4 of the same tab.  Again, these are 5           just allegations concerning the press conference 6           and that DFAIT is advising the Ambassador in 7           Damascus that they want an investigation into the 8           allegations of torture.

9                           At tab 700 at page 3 you have the 10          reply from Damascus.  That would be in volume 8.
11          The reply is coming in on November the 10th?

12                           Any comment about that?

13                           MR. FRY:   Where were you looking?

14                           MR. DAVID:  Page 3.

15                           MR. FRY:   Yes.

16                           MR. DAVID:  That would be the top 17          message on November 10th.

18                           MR. FRY:   So basically our embassy 19          is saying that they sent a diplomatic note to 20          them, but that there is no real response?

21                           MR. DAVID:  That's right.

22                           MR. FRY:   I may have seen this.  I 23          mean, there is not much there.

24                           MR. DAVID:  Okay.  We can go now
25          to tab 725, and that is --

1 MR. FRY: The second bullet I
2 think is talking about someone else here.

3 MR. DAVID: Okay. An entry for 4 November 17th and 18th, Mr. Fry, at tab 725.
5 These are e-mails between Leo Martel and yourself
6 concerning the allegations of torture. There is a 7 series of four e-mails there.

8 MR. FRY: Yes.

9 MR. DAVID: My only question is:
10 This is now mid-November, or almost late November.
11 Again, the issue of torture allegations is being 12 followed up by yourself at this time.

13 Why is it still an issue? Why is 14 it still a concern?

15 MR. FRY: I think it is -- I 16 initially started following up after the meeting
17 with Mr. Arar.

18 MR. DAVID: Right. That is 19 October 29th --

20 MR. FRY: October 29th, 30th --

21 MR. DAVID: And you send your 22 e-mails --

23 MR. FRY: -- back and forth.
24 And, you know, I tried to get the best information
25 I could from Damascus.

1                   Then there was the press
2                   conference and, I guess, the whole issue around -- 3                   I think what happened was I was expecting a 4                   blowout on November 4th during the press
5                   conference and it didn't occur. There were other 6                   discussions.

7                   Later on, though, we started to 8                   get questions again about this inherent 9                   contradiction, so I was again back on the case
10                  trying to get some more clarity because I wasn't 11                  satisfied with what I had already gotten.

12                  I think now I am going directly to 13                  Leo, where initially I actually went through the 14                  department, went through the proper channel. This 15                  time I sort of end-runned everybody and I went 16                  straight to Leo.

17                  MR. DAVID: Okay. Again for the 18                  record, your Minister had requested Mr. Powell to 19                  do certain verifications and we have the follow-up 20                  on December 2nd. That would be Exhibit P-105.

21                  There was a phone call between 22                  Secretary Powell and Minister Graham on 23                  December 1, 2003. Did you sit in on this call,
24                  Mr. Fry?

25                  MR. FRY: Yes, I believe so.

1 MR. DAVID: The report speaks
2 for itself.

3 I would like to refer you now --
4 and this is seeking clarification -- to pages 2
5 and 3 of your personal notes. There is reference 6 to a phone call being set up.

7 MR. FRY: Yes.

8 MR. DAVID: If you could 9 just explain if you recall what reference that 10 was in?

11 MR. FRY: These would be back when 12 Mr. Arar was first detained, so they would be a 13 year earlier. This would be 2002.

14 MR. DAVID: Okay.

15 MR. FRY: This is set up phone
16 calls, so set up phone call to the Syrian Foreign 17 Minister, you know, either charge him or release 18 him? Short form some of the things that we 19 were -- part of what we were asking the Syrians to 20 do.

21 MR. DAVID: If you could go to the 22 next page, page 3 of your notes. In the middle 23 there is a bullet that says:

24 "Canada using rogue states to 25 interrogate people."

1                   Can you explain that reference?

2           It's about halfway down.

3                   MR. FRY: Well, I think this part 4           of the press conference -- or, because it is -- 5           you know, I'm saying, "Why did this happen to 6           you?" Then the answer is, "Can't answer. Need a 7           public inquiry." "Do you believe complicity of 8           Canadians?" "Need public inquiry to answer."

9                   So these are sort of some of the 10          questions that were asked and these were the 11          responses we were getting.

12                   "Petrovich" is Curt Petrovich.
13          He was saying, "Canada unwilling to take you 14          back." Then "Consul" -- this would be our consul 15          in New York:

16                               "...said surprised they would 17                               deport. Powell and Cellucci 18                               said Canadian officials were 19                               helpful."

20                   So this is all around -- now I
21          think -- I mean, the first page is 2002. Here I 22          think we are back into 2003, because now we are 23          talking about the public inquiry. So these two 24          pages I think are two separate time periods.

25                   MR. DAVID: I understand that

1           these were loose pages.

2                       MR. FRY:    Yes.

3                       MR. DAVID:  They were not part of 4           your notebook and they were not dated so we are 5           just trying to seek clarification.

6                       MR. FRY:    So when I'm saying,
7           "Canada using", someone else was saying that.  I'm 8           not saying that.  I'm saying someone in a press 9           conference or someone was accusing Canada of using 10          rogue states to interrogate people.  This is not 11          me saying that.

12                      MR. DAVID:  Thank you, Mr. Fry.
13          Those are my questions.

14                      THE COMMISSIONER:  Mr. Waldman, do 15          you want to start now, or would you like to take 16          the break first?

17                      MR. WALDMAN:  It would be 18          easier if we took the break so I could organize 19          my papers.

20                      THE COMMISSIONER:  Okay.  How long 21          do you think you will be?

22                      MR. WALDMAN:  An hour.

23                      THE COMMISSIONER:  Do you have any 24          idea, Ms McIsaac, how long you will be?

25                      MS McISAAC:  I don't think I will

1 be more than 15 minutes.

2 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay. We will 3 rise for 15 minutes.

4 THE REGISTRAR: Please stand.

5 --- Upon recessing at 3:13 p.m. /

6 Suspension à 15 h 13

7 --- Upon resuming at 3:30 p.m. /

8 Reprise à 15 h 30

9 THE REGISTRAR: Please be seated.

10 Veuillez vous asseoir.

11 EXAMINATION

12 MR. WALDMAN: If I could ask the 13 Registrar to give the witness P-85, tab 40. It is 14 the loose documents, volume 5, tab 40.

15 Just while we are waiting for you 16 to get it, this is a set of notes, including 17 yours, of different people who were at the 18 debriefing. So it is tab 40.

19 This is the October 7th debriefing
20 of Mr. Martel. I have gone through all of them, 21 and it seems that they are all quite consistent --

22 MR. FRY: Sorry. I don't think I
23 have the right -- tab 40 for me is some Deputy 24 Commissioner operations --

25 MR. DAVID: Volume 5.

1 THE COMMISSIONER: Volume 5 of
2 Exhibit P-85.

3 MR. WALDMAN: P-85.

4 MR. FRY: It's volume 2 I have.

5 MR. WALDMAN: Sorry. Maybe I
6 wasn't clear.

7 MR. FRY: Okay.

8 MR. WALDMAN: If we go through 9 these, the first one -- these are different people 10 who attended the meeting, These are notes by 11 someone by the name of Peter McRae who attended 12 this.

13 It says nine lines from the 14 bottom:

15 "Mental torture, beaten
16 occasionally, stopped
17 interrogating after two 18 weeks."

19 We will go on and just go through 20 them -- those are the same notes.

21 John McNee, page 4, "mental 22 cruelty" -- if you go page 2:

23 "Mental cruelty, angry,
24 slapped around in first two
25 weeks."

1 THE COMMISSIONER: Are we on 2 page 4 or page 2?

3 MR. WALDMAN: It's page 4.

4 THE COMMISSIONER: Thank you.

5 MR. WALDMAN: I think what 6 happens, Mr. Commissioner, is you get the 7 transcriptions and then you get the notes.

8 THE COMMISSIONER: I see.

9 MR. WALDMAN: So page 4 is the 10 transcription of those notes.

11 THE COMMISSIONER: You are talking 12 about the fourth and fifth lines, "mental torture, 13 beaten occasionally."

14 MR. WALDMAN: Page 4,
15 transcription of notes from John McKee. It says, 16 page 2:

17 "Mental cruelty, beaten
18 occasionally, angry, slapped
19 around." (As read)

20 Then I think there is -- I can't 21 read -- then there is your notes, which we have 22 already looked at, where it says, on the second 23 page of your notes, which is page 12 of 14:

24 "Beaten occasionally but
25 nothing too serious. Slapped

1 for first two weeks. Stopped
2 interrogating him. When 3 Sampson case comes up, was 4 asked about him." (As read)

5 Then I would like to take you
6 to -- what is it -- tab 508. Exhibit P-42, 7 volume 6 of 9, which we have been told are the 8 Martel notes taken after his interview in August 9 of 2003, where it says:

10 "Present condition - I have 11 not been paralyzed - not 12 beaten - not tortured.
13 Very beginning very little.
14 3 x 6 x 7.
15 Sleeping on ground. Mentally 16 destroyed."

17 Do you see that?

18 MR. FRY: Yes.

19 MR. WALDMAN: Then I would like to 20 take you back to the actual report of the consular 21 visit, which is one tab previous, tab 507, page 3
22 of 4.

23 So in this paragraph, he says:

24 "`The press will know the 25 truth...'. He confirmed he

1                   had not been beaten Nor 2                   tortured. He also said he 3                   had not been paralysed."

4                   I put to you, Mr. Fry, that if you 5           look at all the other documents, and indeed what 6           you were told at the debriefing, all these notes 7           from yourself and from the other officials are 8           consistent with Mr. Martel's notes, which indicate 9           that during the first two weeks, in fact, Mr. Arar 10          was beaten.

11                   Is that correct?

12                   MR. FRY: Mr. Martel did advise us
13          when he came back of this, that Mr. Arar had told 14          him he had been beaten in the first few days or 15          first two weeks.

16                   MR. WALDMAN: The first two weeks.
17          Right. So Mr. Martel advised you that on 18          August 14th Mr. Arar had told him that he had been 19          beaten during the first two weeks?

20                   MR. FRY: No. He told us this -- 21          the information he was transmitting to us on 22          August 7th was a result of his -- he travelled 23          back with Mr. Arar.

24                   THE COMMISSIONER: On October 7th.

25                   MR. WALDMAN: October 7th. He

1           said October 7th.

2                           MR. FRY:   October 7th.  The notes
3           that you read from Peter McRae, John McNee and 4           myself all relate to his debrief on October 7th.

5                           MR. WALDMAN:  Right.  And 6           October 7th he told you that Mr. Arar had told him 7           that he was beaten during the first two weeks?

8                           MR. FRY:   Yes.

9                           MR. WALDMAN:  That is consistent 10          with his notes of the August 14th meeting, which 11          are in tab 508, which is where he said:

12    "At the beginning very 13    little."

14                           MR. FRY:   I think he says, "not 15          beaten - not tortured."

16                           MR. WALDMAN:  "Very beginning, 17          very little.  3 x 6 x 7."

18                           MR. FRY:   Yes, it says "very 19          beginning, very little".

20                           MR. WALDMAN:  "Sleeping on 21          ground."

22                           MR. FRY:   I don't know.  This is 23          the first time I am actually seeing these.

24                           MR. WALDMAN:  So is it not fair to 25          say that in fact Mr. Martel's account of what

1 Mr. Arar told him is consistent with what Mr. Arar 2 said to a very large extent, because indeed during 3 his press conference Mr. Arar stated that it was 4 during the first two weeks that he was beaten 5 during interrogations. That is consistent with 6 these notes of your October 7th debriefing.

7 MS McISAAC: Would you like
8 to have the text of the press conference in front 9 of you?

10 MR. FRY: Sure.

11 MR. WALDMAN: Well, is it disputed
12 at all that Mr. Arar said during the press
13 conference that he was beaten --

14 THE COMMISSIONER: Unless the 15 witness would like it.

16 Would you like it?

17 MR. FRY: Sure. Could I have 18 that.

19 MR. WALDMAN: I know we have an 20 unofficial transcription. Tab 645? Thank you.
21 --- Pause

22 MR. WALDMAN: No, that is not it.
23 That is the question and answer.

24 I'm sorry, Mr. Commissioner, I
25 wasn't prepared for this tab because I thought it

1 was not something that would be --

2 THE COMMISSIONER: Somebody will 3 find it.

4 --- Pause

5 THE COMMISSIONER: I would have 6 thought Maître David would know the tabs by now.

7 --- Pause

8 MR. WALDMAN: Tab 693 someone is 9 saying.

10 Tab 693, volume 8. The 11 statements about his treatment in Syria begin at 12 the top of page 4.

13 You might want to take a minute
14 to read it.

15 --- Pause

16 MR. FRY: Okay.

17 MR. WALDMAN: Would you not agree
18 with me that Mr. Arar's position, as stated in his 19 press conference, was that he was beaten during 20 interrogations during the first two weeks. During 21 that time he was also subjected to mental torture 22 by being forced to listen to other people being 23 tortured, and also by being threatened with 24 ongoing torture if he didn't cooperate, and that 25 for the next 10 months he was held in a 3 by 6 by

1 7 cell.

2 Now, if you look at the notes that 3 I have just taken you to, is it not fair to say
4 that what Mr. Martel told you on the October 7
5 debriefing before Mr. Arar's meeting with the 6 Minister is, to a very large extent, consistent 7 with what Mr. Arar is saying in that statement?

8 MR. FRY: What Mr. Martel told 9 us on October 7th is consistent with what Arar 10 later said?

11 MR. WALDMAN: Yes. In other 12 words, you --

13 MR. FRY: Yes, I think so. Where 14 were we again with the notes of the --

15 MR. WALDMAN: P-85, tab 45.
16 Volume 5. Sorry. Have to make sure I get the 17 right number. Tab 40.

18 MR. FRY: Tab which?

19 MR. WALDMAN: Forty. Four-zero.

20 --- Pause

21 MR. FRY: Yes, I think -- I mean, 22 everyone reports that, you know, basically that he 23 had been beaten in the beginning during the first 24 two weeks. I think most people -- and that is 25 what we were told by Mr. Martel on October 7th.

1 MR. WALDMAN: Right. He also 2 described the mental torture, if I'm correct.

3 MR. FRY: Yes. In fact, my 4 notes say:

5 "Beaten occasionally but
6 nothing too serious. Slapped
7 for first two weeks. Stopped
8 interrogating him. Tire not 9 true or electric shock.
10 Beating with wires. Mental 11 torture. Brain destroyed."

12 As you just said.

13 MR. WALDMAN: Right. I
14 think there is also a description of the 3 by 6 by 15 7 cell?

16 MR. FRY: Yes.

17 MR. WALDMAN: Right.

18 MR. FRY: All these notes, all
19 these say that the story of the tire wasn't true, 20 but that, yes, he was beaten occasionally over the 21 first two weeks.

22 MR. WALDMAN: Right. Mr. Arar
23 clearly stated in the section you just read that 24 although he was threatened with the tire, which 25 would be the mental torture, he was never put on

1 the tire.

2 That's correct?

3 MR. FRY: That's correct.

4 MR. WALDMAN: So is it not fair
5 to say that to a very large extent what Mr. Fry
6 told you in the October 7th debriefing --
7 Mr. Martel told you in the October 7th debriefing, 8 was consistent with what Mr. Arar said November 4, 9 2003?

10 MR. FRY: I guess the only slight 11 distinction was the word "occasional" versus 12 "intense". Mr. Arar talks about "intense 13 beatings", and in my notes and in Mr. McRae's 14 notes it talks about being beaten occasionally. I 15 mean, it's all relative, I guess.

16 MR. WALDMAN: That's fine. If we 17 go back to tab 507, this is the briefing note of 18 the October 14th consular visit.

19 MR. FRY: Okay.

20 MR. WALDMAN: I will read it to 21 you:

22 "...was able to express
23 himself freely at times and
24 he indicated that prison
25 conditions had been more

1                   difficult in the past than
2                   now. He mentioned he did not
3                   wish to have adverse media
4                   publicity as he felt this
5                   would only harm his case.
6                   `The press will know the 7                   truth when I return home'.
8                   He confirmed he had not been 9                   beaten nor tortured. He said 10                  he had not been paralysed.
11                  When asked to explain he 12                  could not find another word 13                  for it. He also said his 14                  long detention had destroyed 15                  him mentally."

16                                Is it not fair to say this is 17                  really an inaccurate -- or not consistent with 18                  either the notes that make up tab 509 or what 19                  Mr. Martel told you when he came back for the 20                  debriefing on October 7th. Specifically, there is 21                  no mention here of the beatings, albeit 22                  occasional, number one.

23                                Number two, there is no mention of 24                  the size of the prison cell, 3 by 6 by 7, and the 25                  10 months he spent there. And there is no mention

1 of the mental torture.

2 So is it not fair to say this -- 3 would you not agree with me that this is not a 4 completely accurate account of either the notes in 5 tab 508 or what he told you on October 7th?

6 MR. FRY: I mean, the difficult 7 thing for me, counsel, is that we are sort of 8 blending two different issues together here. We 9 are talking about October 7th, where Mr. Martel 10 travelled with Mr. Arar back and got a full 11 account of what happened, and then debriefed us, 12 and here we are talking about August 14th, which 13 is three months earlier, where Mr. Martel had just 14 met with Mr. Arar and was briefing us on what he 15 had heard at that particular meeting.

16 So I'm having trouble, because you
17 are sort of blending the two together.

18 MR. WALDMAN: But Mr. Martel's
19 notes, which are at tab 508, which were taken 20 contemporaneous --

21 MR. FRY: Yes.

22 MR. WALDMAN: -- clearly have the 23 same -- you just agreed with me -- have the same 24 information to what you were told, in fact, on 25 October 7th? It describes the cell, it describes

1           him been beaten at the beginning and it describes 2           him being mentally destroyed?

3                       MR. FRY: I don't want to be 4           obstinate, but I would think these notes are more
5           consistent with what is actually in this note 6           here, though I would agree that some things are 7           slightly different.

8                       As you point out, he says 3 by 6 9           by 7 cell, and then in the note he says "the 10          prison conditions have been difficult". He talks 11          like that. He doesn't reference that specifically 12          in the report he does back to us.

13                      I think the handwritten notes are 14          more consistent with the actual note he gives 15          back -- report he sends back to Ottawa.

16                      MR. WALDMAN: Except that he says
17          he had not been beaten, when the handwritten notes 18          say he had been beaten occasionally, "at the very 19          beginning, very little." Number one.

20                      Number two, don't you think it 21          would important to put the precise prison
22          conditions, 3 by 6 by 7. I will get to it in a 23          second, but in testimony we heard from an 24          international law expert it was clearly suggested 25          that holding someone in a 3 by 6 by 7 cell for

1           10 months without having access to the light is 2           mental torture.

3                         MR. FRY:    Right.

4                         MR. WALDMAN:  So don't you think 5           it would have been important before the Minister 6           went out on a line and said Mr. Arar has not been 7           tortured, to have a more fuller account consistent 8           with the briefing notes that are at tab -- or the 9           notes that are in tab 508?

10                        MR. FRY:    I mean, I'm not 11           that comfortable trying to comment on what 12           Mr. Martel wrote and then reported back to us.  I 13           mean, who am I to sort of say what he did or 14           didn't do properly?

15                        You are right to say that he said, 16           "has not been paralysed, not beaten, not 17           tortured," and that is what is in the note.  "He 18           confirmed that he had not been beaten nor 19           tortured, he also said he had not been paralysed."

20                        You are right to say though that 21           the 3 by 6 by 7 is not in this note.

22                        I don't really feel in a position
23           to comment on what Mr. Martel did or didn't do.
24           All I saw was this.

25                        MR. WALDMAN:  But this became the

1 matter of a whole series of e-mails going back and 2 forth about trying to determine whether there is 3 an inconsistency between what Mr. Arar had said
4 with respect to the August 14th visit --

5 MR. FRY: Right.

6 MR. WALDMAN: -- and what
7 Mr. Martel had said. What I am trying to suggest 8 to you is that, in my view, the problem is not so 9 much in what was said. The notes indeed are 10 consistent with what Mr. Arar is saying, which was 11 that he was beaten at the beginning --

12 MR. FRY: But the notes don't 13 say that.

14 MR. WALDMAN: Yes, it does. It 15 says, "not tortured. Very beginning - very 16 little."

17 MR. FRY: Okay. But I don't know
18 what that relates to. I guess you could say it 19 relates to what is above, but I -- you are going 20 to have to ask Mr. Martel.

21 MR. WALDMAN: Yes, we intend to 22 ask him that.

23 Okay. I would like to ask you to 24 go to tab 650, P-42, tab 650, which is this 25 Powell -- volume 7 of 9.

1                   So this is the conversation with 2           Secretary of State Powell that you were present 3           when Minister Graham was there. I'm just going to 4           read to you the third line and following of the 5           first paragraph:

6                                 "In response to the 7                                 Minister's request for 8                                 assistance in determining who 9                                 in the Canadian government 10                                might have conveyed 11                                information to American 12                                authorities concerning 13                                Mr. Arar, Secretary Powell 14                                undertook to look into the 15                                matter immediately."

16                                So that is your recollection of 17           what happened, there was a request to try and find 18           out who had given information?

19                                MR. FRY: Yes.

20                                MR. WALDMAN: I find this a bit 21           strange and confusing, given that we know in the 22           Garvie report that there was a memo. The Garvie 23           report is at P-19, page 30?

24                                MR. FRY: Page 30?

25                                MR. WALDMAN: I don't know if you

1 are familiar with this or not, that is why I'm 2 taking you to it.

3 MR. FRY: No, I'm not really.

4 MR. WALDMAN: Well, not with the 5 Garvie report.

6 MR. FRY: No.

7 MR. WALDMAN: With the 8 specific memo.

9 Mr. Pardy, when he became aware
10 that the RCMP might have been involved in sharing 11 information with the Americans, posed a list of 12 questions to the RCMP and on October 18, 2002 got 13 this memo back, which is reproduced at page 30.

14 MR. FRY: Mm-hmm. Okay.

15 MR. WALDMAN: So in this memo it 16 is clearly indicated. The answer to the second 17 question is:

18 "U.S. authorities learned of 19 ARAR through a sharing of 20 information between RCMP
21 investigators and U.S.
22 authorities. ARAR was 23 connected to an ongoing RCMP
24 investigation..."

25 Were you not aware of this memo or

1           this information before November 5, 2003?

2                       MR. FRY: I think what we were 3 asking Powell for was, they claimed someone from 4 Canada had given the green light and we were 5 asking him to tell us who.

6                       MR. WALDMAN: Okay. So just to 7 clarify, you were aware for a long time that -- 8 when did you become aware that in fact Mr. Arar
9 came to the attention of the American authorities
10 as a result of information-sharing with the RCMP, 11 which is in this October 18th memo?

12                      MR. FRY: I think I would have 13 become aware of the fact that there had been 14 information-sharing probably -- that had been 15 brought -- I mean, the position had always been 16 that there was a constant information-sharing 17 between the United States and Canada on many, many 18 issues and that this was just one issue where 19 there had been information-sharing. I probably 20 would have become aware that there was 21 information-sharing in this particular case
22 sometime late November or December. I'm guessing, 23 I don't remember exactly, but it would have 24 been -- yes, 2002, late 2002.

25                      MR. WALDMAN: But this memo goes

1           on further and says, in the fourth answer, that 2           after Mr. Arar was detained by the Americans the 3           U.S. asked for information that was provided by 4           the RCMP.

5                                So were you aware of that as well?

6           MR. FRY:   Which question are you 7           pointing me to?

8           MR. WALDMAN:  The question is:

9                                "Did the U.S. approach
10                               Canadian authorities 11                               regarding the possibility of 12                               ARAR's deportation?"

13                               It is the second last question.

14           That answer --

15           MR. FRY:

16                                "U.S. authorities requested
17                               the RCMP provide information 18                               that might assist in the 19                               filing of criminal charges
20                               against ARAR.  U.S.
21                               authorities made enquiries as 22                               to the level of interest the 23                               RCMP had in pursuing ARAR
24                               criminally.  They also made 25                               enquiries as well as the

1 RCMP's ability to refuse
2 ARAR's entry into Canada.
3 The U.S. authorities were 4 advised that the RCMP was 5 interested in ARAR from a
6 criminal perspective. They 7 were also advised that where 8 ARAR is a Canadian citizen,
9 the RCMP could not refuse his 10 entry into Canada."

11 Your question is...?

12 MR. WALDMAN: That during this 13 time while Mr. Arar was in detention in the United 14 States there were conversations going back and 15 forth between the RCMP -- so it wasn't just a 16 general information-sharing.

17 MR. FRY: Right.

18 MR. WALDMAN: By October 18, 2002
19 at least Mr. Pardy was aware that during the time 20 Mr. Arar was in detention there was direct 21 communication between the RCMP and, we now know, 22 the FBI --

23 MR. FRY: Right.

24 MR. WALDMAN: -- about Mr. Arar.

25 MR. FRY: Mm-hmm.

1 MR. WALDMAN: I just want to make 2 sure whether you were aware of that --

3 MR. FRY: I was aware in a general
4 sense that there had been information-sharing.
5 Some of these specifics about had there had been 6 talk back and forth, as I sort of testified to you
7 about when I talked about Senator de Bané about 8 saying that, I was aware that the U.S. had asked 9 Canada if they could charge Mr. Arar, if he would 10 be detained if he came back to Canada.

11 So I was aware of the some of the 12 generalities. I don't recall seeing this specific 13 memo, but I was probably aware in the November 14 2002 area, or maybe a bit sooner, that there had 15 been, but definitely not until after Mr. Arar was 16 in Syria.

17 I guess my priority at that time
18 was no longer how he got there, but what are we 19 going to do about it? Now that he is there, how 20 are we going to make sure he is safe and how are 21 we going to get him back?

22 MR. WALDMAN: I just want to be 23 clear as to whether you knew that there was 24 information-sharing going on while Mr. Arar was in 25 detention, because the way this question in

1           tab 650 reads that I took you to, it would seem 2           that you were asking whether the Canadian 3           government had conveyed information to the 4           Americans concerning Mr. Arar, which is something 5           that your department was aware about --

6                           MR. FRY:    Right.

7                           MR. WALDMAN:   -- a year previous.

8                           It didn't make any sense to me 9           that on November 5, 2003, at a meeting where 10          moments are precious, you would be asking 11          Secretary of State Powell a question to which we 12          had the answer on October 18, 2002.

13                          MR. FRY:    Well, I mean, I see what 14          you are getting at, that you are saying why are we 15          asking for something that we already knew the 16          answer to?

17                          I mean, all I can say is that 18          perhaps whoever drafted the note has not drafted
19          it exactly -- is not accurate in terms of how it 20          is being drafted.

21                          We asked four specific questions
22          of Powell.  Even if there were some things that -- 23          I mean you are saying that maybe we suspected we 24          sort of knew the answer to, still, we formally 25          wanted to put four questions to him and get his

1 formal answer to that.

2 MR. WALDMAN: You started saying 3 that perhaps the question was --

4 MR. FRY: Well, it may be --

5 MR. WALDMAN: -- not whether 6 information had been shared but whether somebody 7 had given the green light?

8 MR. FRY: No. Did I say that?

9 MR. WALDMAN: I thought you
10 started saying that a few minutes ago.

11 MR. FRY: No. I was just going to 12 say the person who drafted this -- I mean, what 13 happens with these is that there is sort of -- you
14 have a phone call with Secretary of State Powell
15 and you have the Minister talking on the phone, 16 and then there are sort of officials listening in 17 on the conversation, and Powell is doing the same 18 thing on his side, so someone is taking notes and 19 then writes sort of a report. So I mean sometimes 20 they're not always exactly -- they don't always 21 reflect exactly what was said.

22 I don't know what the answer to 23 your question is. I mean, what you're putting to 24 me is that we're asking something that we should 25 have already known, is that --

1 MR. WALDMAN: And that a year ago,
2 according to the documents, Gar Pardy was told on 3 October 18, 2002, that the RCMP had shared
4 information with the Americans during Mr. Arar's
5 detention.

6 MR. FRY: I'd have to refresh my 7 memory on the exact questions that we asked.
8 You're quoting to me the summary, which is sort of 9 the top part of this C-4 note.

10 We asked four specific questions
11 of Powell, and -- maybe I could pull those -- 12 maybe someone could direct me to those four 13 specific questions.

14 MR. WALDMAN: Actually, one of the 15 questions is redacted, although I think it comes 16 out in the e-mail.

17 THE COMMISSIONER: I think we have 18 them all in public form.

19 MR. WALDMAN: In the e-mail.

20 MR. FRY: So the first question 21 was:

22 "Who provided the U.S.
23 government with the 24 information used in making
25 the decision to deport

1                                   Mr. Arar?" (As read)

2                                   So we were asking Powell for a 3                                   specific name.

4                                   If you'll recall Minister Graham's
5                                   testimony, he talked about how Powell and Cellucci 6                                   always talked about, "Talk to your guys, they 7                                   know." And we always used to say, "Well who 8                                   knows? Give us a name. Tell us who."

9                                   So the first question was, it 10                                   wasn't sort of information-sharing that occurred, 11                                   it was, "Who provided the U.S. government with 12                                   information used in making the decision to deport
13                                   Mr. Arar?"

14                                   So I think the important part is 15                                   about, it's not information-sharing in terms of 16                                   Mr. Arar in general, it's information to deport 17                                   him, and we wanted specifics.

18                                   So even if you're right to say 19                                   that we partially -- had a partial answer to that, 20                                   I think we wanted to formally put that question to 21                                   Powell.

22                                   MR. WALDMAN: I just want to be 23                                   clear about two things, because my concern was 24                                   whether you were -- I was very concerned because 25                                   when I read this, I said, you mean to say the

1 Minister and his assistants weren't aware a year
2 after the October 18 memo that during the time
3 Mr. Arar was in detention, that there was 4 information going back and forth between the 5 United States?

6 And I just want to be clear on 7 your answer --

8 MR. FRY: We were aware that there
9 was information-sharing back and forth.

10 MR. WALDMAN: While he was in 11 detention? Because you're giving us a vague, 12 general answer.

13 MR. FRY: Yes.

14 MR. WALDMAN: Because we know that 15 there's information-sharing going back and forth 16 all the time.

17 MR. FRY: Yes.

18 MR. WALDMAN: This is much more
19 specific because, on October 18, 2002, you were -- 20 the Department was advised that there was 21 information-sharing while he was in detention, 22 going back and forth.

23 And I want to know whether you 24 were aware of that, or whether -- because it would 25 make more sense to ask the November 5, 2003

1 question, if weren't aware of it than if you were.

2 So, were you aware?

3 MR. FRY: Not while he was in -- 4 we would not have known --

5 MR. WALDMAN: No, I'm not 6 talking --

7 MR. FRY: -- but after the fact.
8 I mean, I -- it's difficult. I don't know if -- 9 in fact, I thought the information would have 10 occurred before he was even in detention, the fact 11 that some of the information that the Americans 12 had may have -- the information-sharing had 13 resulted in them having some of this information 14 before he was in detention --

15 MR. WALDMAN: That's part of what 16 that document says, that some of it occurred 17 before.

18 MR. FRY: Right. In other words
19 more while he was --

20 MR. WALDMAN: While he was in
21 detention --

22 MR. FRY: I guess that would have 23 come to my attention at some point in 2002. But I
24 wouldn't have -- I mean, to be honest, I wouldn't 25 have spent a lot of attention with that, because

1 from my point of view now, I mean, this is water
2 under -- I mean, this -- you know, this is for a 3 public inquiry.

4 Our focus was on his well-being 5 and getting him back and how it happened or where, 6 I was curious, and we wanted to know. But we 7 didn't always get all the details on that.

8 MR. WALDMAN: You didn't get all
9 the details. And I'm really concerned to know
10 whether you got that specific detail, which I 11 think is a pretty important detail to know, that 12 there was conversations while he was in detention, 13 and I just want to know whether you got that 14 detail?

15 MR. FRY: I can't recall,
16 Mr. Waldman, whether I was told that there would 17 have been information-sharing while he was in 18 detention.

19 MR. WALDMAN: So I would assume 20 that it wouldn't have been something that you
21 would have passed on -- if you can't recall 22 whether you even got it, it wouldn't have been 23 something that was passed on to the Minister by 24 you?

25 MR. FRY: No. I guess the only

1           thing -- and I know I was vague, but I guess what 2           I would say is that we knew there had been 3           information-sharing between the RCMP, the 4           Americans, obviously prior, you know, prior to him
5           being detained, or that there had, in a general 6           sense, been information-sharing which had been the 7           cause of his -- the fact that they had detained 8           him in New York. But the specifics around when 9           that occurred, I can't recall whether I was told 10          about that, and if I didn't know, I wouldn't 11          have -- I couldn't have briefed the Minister to 12          that effect.

13                           MR. WALDMAN: Okay. Could I ask 14          you, please, to turn to P-42, volume 2, tab 130?
15          It's the record of the first consular visit. I 16          gather there's a more unredacted version at 17          Exhibit 92.

18                           THE COMMISSIONER: At Exhibit 19          which?

20                           MR. WALDMAN: Ninety-two, I've got 21          a note here. But let's just stick with this for 22          my purposes.

23                           MR. FRY: Which tab are we?

24                           MR. WALDMAN: Tab 130. Volume 2.
25          It's an October 23 memo. Have you found it? Yes.

1 MR. FRY: Yes, I have it.

2 MR. WALDMAN: I just want to --
3 have you seen this? This is a C-4 consular report
4 about Mr. Arar after his first visit.

5 MR. FRY: Right.

6 MR. WALDMAN: So you testified
7 that you would have had access to these.

8 MR. FRY: Yes.

9 MR. WALDMAN: Do you recall
10 reading this one?

11 MR. FRY: Yes, I do.

12 MR. WALDMAN: So I just want to 13 take you to paragraph 3:

14 "3. Arar was brought to the 15 office at 10:30 and meeting
16 with Martel lasted
17 approximately one-half hour.
18 It was not possible to see 19 where exactly Arar was being 20 detained. After shaking
21 hands, Arar was shown a seat
22 at a distance. Questioning
23 started along the lines of 24 your instructions but it was 25 obvious subj was not free to

1 answer all of the questions.
2 Conversation took place in 3 English and was translated
4 into Arabic immediately.
5 Notes were taken at all times
6 by Syrians.
7 4. Subject appeared to be 8 healthy but this is difficult
9 to assess. He looked 10 resigned and submissive.
11 Numerous eye signals seemed 12 to indicate he was not free
13 to speak out. At least this 14 is the impression we had."

15 I don't want to read the whole 16 fifth paragraph. If I could ask you to go to the 17 fifth line:

18 "When prompted further for 19 answers, the Syrians told him
20 in Arabic he was not to 21 answer those questions."

22 So this is the first consular 23 visit that you read?

24 MR. FRY: Right.

25 MR. WALDMAN: And you testified

1           that you read this and you didn't have any 2           concerns about the well-being of Mr. Arar after 3           reading this.

4                       MR. FRY:  I think what I said was 5           I -- I mean, I wouldn't have seen it right away, I 6           would have seen it in the following days.

7                       I would have been verbally briefed
8           by Gar Pardy, and what I would have wanted to know 9           was, you know, how is he?  You know, what's our 10          assessment?  What's the assessment of the people 11          on the ground?  What's your assessment, Gar, as 12          somebody who's been doing this for 25 years?

13                      In fact, our consular people were 14          quite upbeat, to be honest.  I was getting a 15          positive response from people by saying, hey, 16          well, first of all, the Syrians acknowledged they 17          have him.  Which is news.  It's unprecedented.
18          Generally the Syrians won't even acknowledge they 19          have someone.  Then I was being told, we're 20          getting in to see him, we're getting consular 21          access.  And when we got in to see him, yes, he 22          was disoriented and, you know, consistent with 23          someone who's been thrown all over the -- you 24          know, detained in the U.S. for a while, then 25          thrown to the other side of the world and now held

1 in detention. You know, we were able to shake
2 hands with him, which is a -- you know, I think 3 those are the kinds of things you do, shaking 4 hands, getting a chance to touch the person's hand
5 to see if anything has been done to them.

6 Leo Martel is someone on the 7 ground that's -- we have to rely -- all I can do 8 is rely on that assessment, and it was reported to 9 us by Gar it was a positive -- we got to see him, 10 he looks okay, and, you know, we're going to 11 continue to try to get in to see him.

12 MR. WALDMAN: I think we all 13 acknowledged there were two positives that came 14 out of the meeting. One was (a) they acknowledged 15 him and (b) you got to see him.

16 But I guess I'm concerned about 17 your evaluation that, based upon this consular 18 note, it would seem to suggest that he was fine.

19 And I think Mr. Martel, in the 20 note, is making it clear that "subject appeared 21 healthy but it's difficult to assess. He looked 22 resigned and submissive. And eye contact seemed 23 to indicate he was not free to speak."

24 Which was confirmed later on in 25 the note where when he tried to say things he was

1 told that he couldn't. So I'm asking you whether,
2 would you agree with me, that this was at least a 3 pretty strong indication that there could be -- 4 regardless of the positive, that there should be 5 serious concerns about Mr. Arar's well-being based 6 upon this first consular note, and it was not 7 reasonable to assume at that time that at least in 8 terms of his physical condition and his mental 9 condition he was fine.

10 MR. FRY: I guess all I can answer 11 to you is that -- I mean, I was relying on the 12 advice -- I wouldn't have dissected this note word 13 for word, and I'm really not an expert to be able 14 to say that, you know, things -- you know, someone 15 who is trained in these matters may be able to 16 tell that someone who looks resigned and 17 submissive, that's a sign of something, or they're 18 not free to talk -- you know, these are 19 indications that -- I think that's what you're 20 saying to me, is these things should have jumped 21 out.

22 I'd been at Foreign Affairs for 8
23 months. I'm not an expert in consular matters or 24 matters of detainment. So, I mean, a quick 25 perusal of this for me -- I mean, "Subject appears

1 to be healthy. Looks resigned and submissive." I 2 mean, obviously not free to talk because there's 3 big Syrian security guards around him. But I 4 couldn't -- I wouldn't have been able to draw any 5 more conclusions than that.

6 MR. WALDMAN: Do you recall your 7 conversation with Mr. Pardy about this note?

8 MR. FRY: Well, my conversation
9 with Mr. Pardy about our first consular visit was 10 that, hey, we got in to see him, he looks okay, 11 the Syrians have acknowledged they have him -- the 12 fact that we get in to see him is, in 13 consular-speak, a very positive sign, because it 14 means that the Syrians know that you're seeing 15 your person and it becomes very difficult for them
16 to do things to people when you're allowed to go 17 and see them.

18 So the spin I got, Mr. Waldman, 19 was always that, this is good news, and we're 20 actually optimistic that we've actually got in to 21 see him.

22 MR. WALDMAN: I'd like to know a
23 bit about your understanding of torture, because 24 this became an issue in these e-mails going back 25 and forth and all of that.

1                   So could you tell us what you
2 understand, I mean, given that you were asking 3 people whether Mr. Arar was tortured, what was --

4                   MR. FRY: I was asking people?

5                   MR. WALDMAN: Whether Mr. Arar had 6 been tortured --

7                   MR. FRY: Where is that --

8                   MR. WALDMAN: In these e-mails
9 that went from you to Mr. Martel?

10                  MR. FRY: Right.

11                  MR. WALDMAN: You were asking what 12 the reports --

13                  MR. FRY: Well, I was asking what 14 had been said. I wasn't asking about torture. I 15 was asking for a report on what had been said.

16                  MR. WALDMAN: I think the e-mails 17 talk about the allegations of torture and whether 18 they're consistent with --

19                  MR. FRY: The August 14 back and 20 forth.

21                  MR. WALDMAN: Yes.

22                  MR. FRY: Well, I mean, my concern 23 was what had been said. Did he say that to you?
24 That's what my back and forth was.

25                  MR. WALDMAN: Could you tell us

1           what your understanding of torture is, or if you
2           don't feel comfortable --

3                         MR. FRY: Well, I think torture -- 4           you know, you could have a wide definition of 5           torture and, I mean, it almost may be different -- 6           I know the Convention against torture has a 7           particular definition. I mean, I'm sure there's 8           legal definitions of it. But, I mean, I think 9           there's also -- there's a particular -- you know, 10          people can define torture in different ways.

11                        MR. WALDMAN: Okay, so we'll leave 12          that. You're not a legal expert on that.

13                        MR. FRY: No, I'm not.

14                        MR. WALDMAN: So you acknowledge 15          that you're not an expert on torture?

16                        MR. FRY: No, I'm not.

17                        MR. WALDMAN: So you leave that to 18          the lawyers. Okay.

19                        But I want to ask you a bit 20          about -- you told us something not consistent with 21          something Mr. Pardy told us, because he had 22          suggested he told everybody horizontally and 23          vertically about his suspicions about torture.

24                        But I want to ask you about 25          whether you had been -- Mr. Pardy was the only

1 person who might have been suspicious about this.
2 I mean, you -- we see throughout all of these 3 notes that you were in communication with people 4 like Alex Neve, and in numerous e-mails, he was 5 raising his concerns about the possibility of 6 torture. Is that fair to say? That in 7 conversations with you and in e-mails, Mr. Neve
8 said that he was concerned that there was a risk
9 of torture for Mr. Arar?

10 MR. FRY: I don't recall. Maybe 11 you could show me somewhere Mr. Neve said that to 12 me.

13 MR. WALDMAN: Well --

14 MR. FRY: I don't think Mr. Neve
15 raised in e-mails to me that he thought Mr. Arar 16 was being tortured, but I could be ...

17 MR. WALDMAN: Okay, we'll have to 18 find them. I didn't think it was going to be a 19 matter of dispute so ...

20 And your testimony is you never 21 read the October 22 -- you never saw the 22 October 22 letter that Amnesty International 23 sent --

24 MR. FRY: No.

25 MR. WALDMAN: -- that raised the 1 concerns of torture?

2 MR. FRY: No.

3 MR. WALDMAN: But you did tell us
4 that you were aware in general terms about the bad
5 human right record in Syria. Is that fair?

6 MR. FRY: Yes.

7 MR. WALDMAN: So given your 8 knowledge of the bad human rights -- I want to ask 9 you -- record in Syria, were you aware, for 10 example, that there was another Canadian who had 11 been detained in Syria, were you aware of his 12 case, Mr. El Maati?

13 MR. FRY: I would have learned of 14 that later on. In the matter of Mr. Arar, I would 15 have learned that there had been -- that there was 16 Mr. Almalki that was detained in Syria, that there 17 was Mr. Al Bushi that had been detained in Syria, 18 and also Mr. El Maati, but I believe he was in 19 Egypt.

20 MR. WALDMAN: Yes, but 21 Mr. El Maati was -- you began in January of 2002.
22 Is that correct?

23 MR. FRY: February 2002.

24 MR. WALDMAN: February 2002, 25 right.

1                   And you told us that one of your 2                   responsibilities was to liaise with Mr. Pardy
3                   about important consular cases?

4                   MR. FRY:   Yes.  Not all consular 5                   matters, but I did deal with him on some consular 6                   cases.

7                   MR. WALDMAN:  So you didn't have 8                   any opportunity to deal with Mr. Pardy on the 9                   El Maati file, because Mr. El Maati was in 10                  detention during all of this time.  He was 11                  detained in November of 2001, if I'm not mistaken.

12                  MR. FRY:   Right.

13                  MR. WALDMAN:  And he was in Syria
14                  for a period of time and then he was in Egypt.
15                  You didn't have any dealings, or were not aware of 16                  the El Maati case?

17                  MR. FRY:   It came to my attention
18                  later on during the discussions about Mr. Arar.

19                  MR. WALDMAN:  Because there's 20                  information in the material that we have that the 21                  RCMP were aware about, that there were allegations 22                  of -- that Mr. El Maati was making allegations of 23                  torture while he was in Syria as early as July or 24                  August of 2002, and Mr. Pardy testified to that 25                  effect.  Were you not aware of that?

1 MR. FRY: No, I was never -- I
2 mean, to explain a little bit, I mean, the 3 Minister's office, like I said, there's a lot of 4 consular cases, a lot of Canadians detained around 5 the world, but very few actually made their way up
6 to the Minister's office. We allowed this -- I
7 mean, we allowed the Consular division of Foreign 8 Affairs deal with these matters.

9 The matters of -- I mean, when 10 Mr. Arar was detained in Syria, then we started 11 asking questions about other people that may have 12 been there.

13 MR. WALDMAN: So, if I understand
14 you correctly, it's the high-profile cases that 15 get a lot of public attention that become the 16 focus of concern in the Minister's office?

17 MR. FRY: No, I don't think it's 18 that. I think that -- like I said, a lot of 19 things -- Ministers' attention are focused on a 20 lot of different issues.

21 At this particular time we were 22 trying to keep Canada out of a war in Iraq, we 23 were trying to prevent a war in Iraq, so a lot of 24 the Minister's attention was focused around the 25 U.N., around dealing with Secretary Powell, the

1 Security Council, dealing with our ambassador at 2 the U.N., dealing with the Department of National 3 Defence.

4 I mean, there's lots of pressures
5 on the Minister, and I'm not trying to diminish 6 other consular cases, but this -- frankly the 7 Minister couldn't always be focusing on all 8 consular matters.

9 MR. WALDMAN: But if I understood
10 your evidence this morning correctly, I think you
11 told Mr. David that your interest in Mr. Arar's 12 case was piqued by repeated inquiries from the 13 media about Mr. Arar. Is that fair?

14 MR. FRY: It first came to our 15 attention through media inquiries.

16 MR. WALDMAN: And the consistent 17 media inquiries was a matter that kept it in 18 your -- as a matter of concern for the year as 19 well because it was one of those cases where the 20 media concern continued for the whole year. Is 21 that fair to say?

22 MR. FRY: I would say that also 23 the particular facts around the case of Mr. Arar 24 were another reason why it was on the Minister's 25 radar screen, because you have a Canadian citizen

1           who, while travelling through the U.S., is 2           detained in the U.S. and shipped to a third
3           country.

4                           I mean, that's -- that strikes
5           fear in the hearts of many Canadians, especially 6           Canadians of Muslim or Arab origin. So the 7           particular facts around this case are, in fact, 8           what made it even -- such a high-profile case, not 9           just because we had media banging down the door.

10                          MR. WALDMAN: Yes, but at the 11           beginning, it was the media that brought it to 12           your attention --

13                          MR. FRY: The first time it was 14           brought to our attention was through a media
15           inquiry, the Minister's attention.

16                          MR. WALDMAN: So the media getting 17           involved in a case is not always a bad thing. Is 18           that fair to say, that in Mr. Arar's case, it was 19           the media attention that brought this case to your 20           attention?

21                          MR. FRY: Yes, but whether that -- 22           I mean, whether it's a good thing or a bad thing, 23           I think you'll have to talk to -- I mean, 24           others will -- I think people have different 25           points of view as to whether lots of media

1 attention on a case actually helps the case or 2 hurts the case.

3 MR. WALDMAN: Okay. Thank you.

4 I'd like to talk a bit about 5 another area. You testified this morning that 6 despite the e-mail which indicated that the 7 Minister was advised of the trip to Syria by CSIS
8 in November, that was not the case?

9 MR. FRY: I don't believe so.

10 MR. WALDMAN: And that, as far as 11 you recall, you were not advised until January, 12 and as far as you're aware, the Minister was not 13 advised until January as well?

14 MR. FRY: To my knowledge, to my 15 recollection, I only found out about the CSIS 16 visit in early January, and I then brought it to 17 the Minister's attention.

18 MR. WALDMAN: You would agree with 19 me that your view was that this is something that 20 you ought to have been advised of before it 21 happened?

22 MR. FRY: Before the visit
23 happened?

24 MR. WALDMAN: Yes.

25 MR. FRY: The way I was briefed

1 was this actually was a visit -- it was sort of 2 ordinary housekeeping -- not a housekeeping, but 3 ordinary intelligence matters, and I wouldn't be 4 briefed if the intelligence agencies were normally 5 meeting with another country.

6 But, I mean, if you told me this 7 was specific to Mr. Arar, I would have said, yes, 8 I think we should have known about it, but I was 9 not briefed that way. I was told this was an 10 intelligence agency to intelligence agency 11 meeting, in which case that doesn't fall under our 12 specific --

13 MR. WALDMAN: But this morning
14 you said you were upset when you weren't briefed
15 about it?

16 MR. FRY: I said that, yes, we 17 weren't happy that we only found out about it two 18 months after the fact considering that, you know, 19 the case of Mr. Arar was discussed at that 20 meeting.

21 MR. WALDMAN: So do you have any 22 explanation as to why you weren't advised about 23 the meeting?

24 MR. FRY: I don't know. Maybe
25 because my main source of information on Mr. Arar

1 was in liaisons with Mr. Pardy and Mr. Pardy
2 didn't know about the visit until around then so 3 that is when I found out about the visit.

4 MR. WALDMAN: Well, aren't there
5 other officials in -- I mean, clearly the people
6 in ISI and ISD were aware of the visit. Don't you
7 have channels of communication with them? I mean,
8 was this a breakdown in communication between -- I
9 mean, they were aware. They wrote an e-mail 10 saying the Minister was aware.

11 MR. FRY: Yes.

12 MR. WALDMAN: Was this not a
13 breakdown in communication between ISI and ISD, 14 especially in light of the fact that they 15 suggested that it wasn't such a good idea in view 16 of Mr. Arar's situation?

17 MR. FRY: Yes. I think it's fair
18 to say I would have liked to have been informed 19 about this sooner than we were.

20 MR. WALDMAN: As I pointed out to 21 you just a second ago, there is a suggestion in 22 the material that the DFAIT officials didn't want 23 CSIS to go to Syria. If you had been apprised of 24 the trip, would you have opposed the visit of CSIS
25 to Syria at that time?

1                   MR. FRY: You are asking me to 2 speculate on that.

3                   MR. WALDMAN: Okay. So you are 4 not --

5                   But clearly there are other 6 officials in the department that were opposed to 7 CSIS going --

8                   MR. FRY: Yes, I did see that in 9 the documentation.

10                  MR. WALDMAN: Now, I'm going to 11 tread on to the area of this newspaper report, 12 Mr. Commissioner, so if there is a -- I have tried 13 to frame the question in a way that I think is 14 appropriate.

15                  This newspaper report suggests 16 that one of the purposes of the trip to Syria was 17 to engage in an information-sharing agreement. We 18 don't have confirmation of that fact, but if we 19 assume for a second that this information in the 20 newspaper report is correct, are you aware of the 21 fact that the Minister of Foreign Affairs is 22 supposed to be consulted about the human rights 23 record before information-sharing agreements are 24 entered into with foreign countries?

25                  MR. FRY: Well, my understanding

1 of the process -- because I have seen it in other 2 situations -- the Solicitor General writes to the 3 Minister of Foreign Affairs and asks -- I mean 4 under the Act the Minister of Foreign Affairs has 5 to agree to these types of agreements or these 6 types of Memorandums of Understanding.

7 Sorry, what is your --

8 MR. WALDMAN: I'm asking you if 9 you are aware of whether this process was engaged 10 in this particular --

11 MS McISAAC: Well, that would be 12 confirming whether or not the information is 13 correct, would it not?

14 THE COMMISSIONER: Mm-hmm. But I 15 think what you are able to say is that you are 16 aware that the process generally is if there is to 17 be an agreement for information-sharing then the 18 Minister must be consulted under the Act.

19 MR. FRY: Exactly.

20 MR. WALDMAN: So we can 21 assume that you just testified that you weren't 22 aware that CSIS was -- neither you nor the 23 Minister were aware that CSIS was going to Syria
24 in November 2003.

25 Is that correct?

1 MR. FRY: November --

2 MR. WALDMAN: 2002.

3 MR. FRY: That I wasn't aware --

4 MR. WALDMAN: -- that CSIS was 5 going to Syria in 2002 until January, until after 6 the trip?

7 MR. FRY: That's correct.

8 MR. WALDMAN: Neither you nor the 9 Minister were made aware in any way of this trip 10 prior to it happening?

11 MR. FRY: That's correct.

12 MR. WALDMAN: So if the purpose of 13 the -- well, I suppose I have made my point.
14 --- Pause

15 MR. WALDMAN: I just want to 16 clarify your evidence about when you briefed
17 Graham about the CSIS visit to Syria.

18 MR. FRY: I think it was in early 19 January that I briefed the Minister on this, in 20 the lead-up to the Shara'a call.

21 MR. WALDMAN: Are you sure about 22 that, because I believe the evidence of your 23 Minister was it was later in the year that he was 24 made aware of this visit.

25 MR. FRY: It would have been

1 before the Shara'a call, and the Shara'a call, I
2 think, was around the 16th of January.

3 MR. WALDMAN: January.

4 --- Pause

5 MR. WALDMAN: Moving on to another
6 topic, your evidence is that you were aware early 7 on that there was this information that the 8 Syrians had, this belief that CSIS did not want
9 Mr. Arar back.

10 MR. FRY: Right.

11 MR. WALDMAN: Indeed, if I
12 understood your evidence correctly, one of the 13 purposes of the phone call in January was for the 14 Minister to make it clear that Canada wanted
15 Mr. Arar back.

16 Is that fair?

17 MR. FRY: Yes, that was one of the 18 points that we made in the call.

19 MR. WALDMAN: But yet we know from 20 the evidence that was put before you this morning 21 that this problem persisted and the Syrians would 22 continue to repeat their belief that CSIS did not 23 want Mr. Arar back.

24 Are you aware of any other
25 communications from any of the security services

1           that might have led them to continue to be in that 2           belief, or am I treading on prohibited terrain
3           here? I don't know.

4                         MR. FRY: I'm not aware of any.

5                         MR. WALDMAN: All right. But it
6           is obvious that there was a serious communication
7           problem.

8                         That's fair?

9                         MR. FRY: Yes, and it persisted, 10          to our frustration.

11                        MR. WALDMAN: Right. And that is 12          precisely why you decided that we needed this 13          letter that came from either -- came from the 14          Solicitor General and your Minister clarifying the 15          position?

16                        MR. FRY: Yes.

17                        MR. WALDMAN: Mr. Pardy
18          testified -- and you both agreed this was 19          extremely important?

20                        MR. FRY: Yes.

21                        MR. WALDMAN: So is it not fair to 22          say that the failure to get this letter was a 23          point of major frustration to you?

24                        MR. FRY: I think what I would say
25          to that, Mr. Commissioner, is that we -- Gar Pardy

1 and I would brainstorm, we would brainstorm and 2 try to find ways to try to do what we could to 3 bring Mr. Arar home. We thought about all kinds 4 of different possibilities, from sending 5 parliamentarians there to phone calls to letters.

6 At this time, we are talking
7 around January, February, March, April, the one 8 message we kept getting back was that there was 9 this view amongst the Syrians that they were 10 getting conflicting messages from Canada.

11 So we were trying to find ways to 12 solve that. One of them we thought was either a 13 letter directly from the Solicitor General, which 14 I had actually advised and Marlene Catterall was 15 trying to get, and then a joint letter, as you 16 say, to try to find different ways of projecting 17 to the Syrians that Canada as a whole wanted him 18 back, there was no impediment to his return, and 19 we wanted everyone to sign on to that.

20 I guess one thing I would say, and 21 I think I said it in my previous testimony, is I 22 was a little bit suspicious that the Syrians could 23 be just using this as a bit of an excuse because 24 it is a very convenient excuse to say, "Well, it 25 is your fault he is not coming back." So it was

1           either that or --

2                           Because when the Foreign Minister 3           tells you in no uncertain terms that this is the 4           position of the Government of Canada, I found it 5           bizarre that two months later they continued to 6           think that there was a mixed message.

7                           MR. WALDMAN:   Of course, you 8           weren't privy to the conversations that might have 9           been going on at other levels?

10                          MR. FRY:   That's true.

11                          MR. WALDMAN:   Right.  In terms 12           of it possibly being an excuse, that was just 13           speculation.

14                          MR. FRY:   Yes.

15                          MR. WALDMAN:   You had no knowledge 16           one way or the other?

17                          MR. FRY:   I tried to inform myself 18           about other conversations, because I did speak to 19           Wayne Easter office's and I would ask their 20           office, "Are there other communications going on?"
21           And we were consistently reassured at this time
22           that there were no parallel discussions ongoing.

23                          MR. WALDMAN:   Okay.  But at 24           least the information you were getting in March 25           and April and May was that there was this mixed

1 message. At least the Syrians were communicating 2 to you that they were still confused and that 3 they still had a belief that CSIS didn't want
4 Mr. Arar back?

5 MR. FRY: Well, the Ambassador had 6 said that. I can't remember if there were other 7 sources of that.

8 But, yes, I think you are correct
9 to say that there was that impression at that time 10 still this whole concept of mixed messages.

11 MR. WALDMAN: If I
12 remember correctly, Mr. Pillarella mentioned it in 13 his report of the MP visit as well. So this was 14 in April.

15 MR. FRY: Okay.

16 MR. WALDMAN: So at least as late
17 as April you were getting this message.

18 MR. FRY: Right.

19 MR. WALDMAN: Don't you think it
20 was incumbent -- and CSIS, I understand, according 21 to Gar Pardy's memo, denied they had made this 22 statement.

23 Is that correct?

24 MR. FRY: Yes, that's correct.

25 You mean that they were talking to them at the 1 same time as we were.

2 MR. WALDMAN: And the Gar Pardy
3 memo says that CSIS denied that they had ever told 4 the Syrians they didn't want Mr. Arar back.

5 MR. FRY: Right.

6 that?

7 MR. FRY: I wasn't aware of the 8 technical -- I saw in preparing for the inquiry 9 the memo from Myra Pastyr-Lupul about the 10 discussion Marlene Catterall had with the 11 Ambassador. It is first time I learned about the 12 specific about language issue about, you know, 13 CSIS had said we had no interest in him and the 14 Syrians had interpreted we don't want him back.
15 Before the inquiry I had never heard of that sort 16 of nuance of language.

17 My understanding, all I kept
18 hearing was that your security folks have told us 19 that, you know, they don't want him back, and your 20 Foreign Minister is telling us that you do want 21 him back so, you know --

22 MR. WALDMAN: But I was asking
23 a slightly different question. Maybe I wasn't 24 clear.

25 MR. FRY: Sorry.

1                   MR. WALDMAN: The question I was 2 asking was: What was your understanding of CSIS's 3 response when the allegation was put to them.
4 "The Syrians have told us you said don't want Arar 5 back." What was your understanding of their 6 response?

7                   MR. FRY: Well, I had to take them 8 at their word. The question was put to them and 9 they said they weren't --

10                  MR. WALDMAN: So that's the point.
11 As far as you understood, CSIS denied ever 12 communicating to the Syrians that they didn't want
13 Mr. Arar back?

14                  MR. FRY: Yes.

15                  MR. WALDMAN: Okay. So here we 16 have a situation: The Syrians are telling you
17 that CSIS is saying we don't want Mr. Arar back.
18 You and Mr. Pardy believe it is important that 19 this be clarified, and CSIS is saying, "We never 20 said that" or "We don't have any opposition to 21 Mr. Arar coming back."

22                  Don't you think that CSIS, given 23 this clear misunderstanding which you and 24 Mr. Pardy identified as being an impediment to 25 Mr. Arar's return, don't you think they had an

1 obligation to clarify this?

2 MR. FRY: Well, that is why we 3 were trying to get a joint letter, is to try to --

4 MR. WALDMAN: Right. You were 5 trying to get it but CSIS blocked it.

6 Isn't that fair to say?

7 MR. FRY: Well, I don't know who 8 blocked it. The RCMP and CSIS -- to be honest
9 with you, in the beginning, if I can take you back
10 to November-December, because we went to both CSIS 11 and the RCMP in November and December and CSIS had 12 basically said, you know, they didn't even know of 13 Mr. Arar and they had no interest, and the RCMP 14 seemed to be the people saying he was a person of 15 interest.

16 So, you know, at that time, CSIS
17 wasn't even a player and now, all of a sudden, I 18 mean, later on, now CSIS seems to be a player.

19 We took them at face value that 20 they hadn't said anything like that.

21 MR. WALDMAN: I understand that.
22 But CSIS and the RCMP are both under the Solicitor
23 General's office?

24 MR. FRY: Right.

25 MR. WALDMAN: And you approached

1 the Solicitor General's office and tried for 2 months to get a letter and were haggling over 3 wording and never got a letter.

4 My question to you is: Wouldn't 5 you agree with me that given that we identified 6 that there was this problem with respect to the 7 perception of CSIS' desire, that it was incumbent 8 upon the Solicitor General to clarify this in some 9 way or another?

10 MR. FRY: Well, what we were 11 trying to do, Mr. Waldman, was, in fact -- I 12 mean, these guys are -- you know, CSIS is very 13 secretive. I in fact hoped that even if they 14 didn't tell me about it or they didn't tell Gar 15 Pardy about it that this was being done, that if 16 they thought there was some confusion caused 17 that it was being clarified even if I didn't know 18 about it.

19 MR. WALDMAN: Right. So your 20 expectation was that the Solicitor General should 21 have clarified this confusion at some point or 22 another because this was --

23 MR. FRY: Or in fact that maybe 24 they were doing it but they just wouldn't tell 25 little ol' me about it, that kind of thing.

1                   MR. WALDMAN: In other words, all 2 I want you to agree with me is that there should 3 have been, in your view, some effort on the part 4 of the Solicitor General to clarify this 5 misunderstanding because it was an impediment to 6 Mr. Arar's return. Whether it happened and you 7 didn't know about it or not is another issue.

8                   But would you agree with me that 9 was something they should have done?

10                  MR. FRY: Yes. I mean, we were 11 hoping that the Solicitor General would --

12                  MR. WALDMAN: Thank you very much.
13 We were dealing with the issue of 14 the -- are you aware -- if you are not aware I
15 will move on -- that the Ambassador obtained 16 copies of the statements that Mr. Arar gave, 17 according to him under torture. Were you aware 18 that those statements were obtained by the 19 Ambassador and brought back to Canada and shared
20 with the RCMP and CSIS?

21                  MR. FRY: I wasn't aware that 22 they were shared. I was aware of this one-page 23 so-called --

24                  MR. WALDMAN: Confession.

25                  MR. FRY: Confession.

1 MR. WALDMAN: So you were aware,
2 but you weren't aware of the information-sharing?

3 MR. FRY: No.

4 MR. WALDMAN: Then it makes no
5 sense to ask you about anything Mr. Pardy told you 6 about why he shared the --

7 Did Mr. Pardy discuss the 8 statements with you in any way at all?

9 MR. FRY: No. It was done
10 without -- I wasn't aware of that.

11 MR. WALDMAN: Did you get any 12 briefings from the RCMP or the Solicitor General
13 about Mr. Arar?

14 MR. FRY: It wasn't really 15 appropriate. I mean, my counterparts are the 16 Minister's office and the Minister's staff. It 17 would sort of be like -- I mean it is going 18 underneath them and getting briefings from their 19 officials. In some ways it wasn't really 20 appropriate for me. My way to go was sort of 21 through the Minister's office.

22 MR. WALDMAN: I'm going to stop
23 for one second.

24 --- Pause

25 MR. WALDMAN: Mr, Arar just wanted

1 me to mention to you one thing that he mentioned
2 to me during the break. Tab 693, volume 8.

3 Because you said that your concern
4 about clarifying what happened on August 14th was 5 because Mr. Arar said during the course of the 6 press conference that during that visit he was -- 7 you know, he told the consul that he was beaten.

8 I would put it to you that if you 9 look through here, there is no mention in this 10 document, or there was no mention in his statement
11 of the August 14th --

12 MR. FRY: I actually didn't say 13 that. I said that in the chronology that they put 14 out before his press conference, in that 15 chronology when they talk about August 14th they 16 had in there -- that is where that was from.

17 Because, if you recall, I made my 18 inquiries about this even before his press
19 conference.

20 MR. WALDMAN: Right.

21 MR. FRY: So it was in this 22 chronology document that was put out that I saw -- 23 I mean, I saw this sort of coming and I was 24 worried that at the press conference this 25 potentially would --

1 MR. WALDMAN: Do you not recall a 2 conversation you had with Mr. Arar before the 3 press conference where you asked him whether he 4 was going to raise the August 14th consular visit?

5 MR. FRY: Yes, I do.

6 MR. WALDMAN: Is it not correct
7 that he told you he wasn't going to raise the 8 August 14th meeting during his press conference?

9 MR. FRY: I don't know if he told 10 me he wasn't going to raise it.

11 The reason I raised it was because 12 it was in the chronology. That was also the 13 reason that Mr. Arar and I spoke, because I asked 14 him about this, and I don't recall if he told me 15 he wasn't going to raise it.

16 MR. WALDMAN: But you did have a 17 conversation about it?

18 MR. FRY: Yes.

19 MR. WALDMAN: But it is fair to 20 say that in his press conference there was no 21 mention of that?

22 MR. FRY: I would have to look,
23 but you are probably right.

24 MR. WALDMAN: Thank you.

25 THE COMMISSIONER: Ms McIsaac?

1                   You don't need to go through that.

2                   MR. WALDMAN:   Okay.

3                   EXAMINATION

4                   MS McISAAC:   Mr. Fry, I just want 5                   to ask you a few questions of clarification, and 6                   the first one relates to the understanding that 7                   you had, and hence the Minister's office had, upon 8                   Mr. Arar being located in Syria and the first 9                   consular visits occurring.

10                   If you wish, you could take a look 11                   at the reports for the first two consular visits.
12                   The first one is to be found at tab 130, and 13                   you'll find the second one at tab 144 -- my 14                   apologies, 147.

15                   Now, I just want to be -- have you 16                   got those?

17                   MR. FRY:    Yes.

18                   MS McISAAC:   I just want to be 19                   clear.  Upon receiving copies of the first 20                   consular visit reports, and I understood you to 21                   say that you did receive those eventually -- 22                   perhaps not immediately.

23                   MR. FRY:    Right.

24                   MS McISAAC:   Did you receive 25                   briefings concurrent with the consular visits from

1 Mr. Pardy?

2 MR. FRY: Yes, I would -- I mean,
3 I would talk to Gar Pardy. In fact, Gar Pardy was 4 more of my source of information than the actual 5 documents. I would rely on Gar Pardy to give me, 6 you know, a bit of a brief and an impression.
7 Sometimes things are not -- you don't always get,
8 you know, the full story on paper, so I would talk
9 to Gar Pardy and ask him for his impression --

10 MS McISAAC: All right. So would 11 you have spoken to Mr. Pardy on or about October 12 23 with respect to the first consular visit?

13 MR. FRY: Yes, probably, the 23rd
14 or 24th.

15 MS McISAAC: All right. And what 16 is your recollection of what you were told about 17 Mr. Arar's general state of health and 18 comportment?

19 MR. FRY: I think basically I was 20 told that Mr. Arar looked fine. He was 21 disoriented. He had, you know, been in detention 22 for a while but that we were generally positive 23 and we were happy that we got to see him and that 24 Mr. Arar basically looked fine and looked in 25 reasonably good health.

1 MS McISAAC: Then the second
2 consular visit took place on October 29, and 3 that's at tab 147. Again, would you have had a
4 discussion with Mr. Pardy on or about October 29, 5 when the second consular visit took place?

6 MR. FRY: I probably would have
7 talked to him sometime after that as well. I 8 mean, we would have -- we wanted to make sure we 9 were getting regular access and getting in to see 10 him, so we were quite optimistic of the fact that 11 we had seen him, you know, again, a week later.

12 MS McISAAC: And, again, what was 13 the sense that you got from your discussion with 14 Mr. Pardy as to the assessment of Mr. Arar's 15 general state and condition?

16 MR. FRY: That it was improving,
17 in fact, that he was looking better. I always 18 want to be careful in what I'm saying because 19 Mr. Arar was, you know, in detention in Syria, so 20 I don't want to say that -- I was never told that 21 he was, you know, perfect, but that he looked 22 fine, he was in good health, he was actually -- I 23 mean, if you can see in this one, they actually 24 start to say he did not seem to be disoriented 25 anymore, he seemed, you know, able to speak more

1 freely, appreciated the visits, that the visits
2 were very helpful to him. And we were just happy 3 that we were getting in, because I can tell you in 4 some other consular cases, the countries don't 5 even let us in to see the people, and here we've 6 gotten in twice, you know, within a matter of a 7 week.

8 MS McISAAC: All right. And then
9 based on the information that you were receiving, 10 did you or the Minister believe that Mr. Arar was 11 being mistreated in the sense of being tortured by 12 the Syrian authorities?

13 MR. FRY: No, we did not think so.

14 MS McISAAC: Did you have any 15 information conveyed to you to the effect that 16 there was any belief that Mr. Arar had been 17 tortured prior to the first consular visit? And 18 by "tortured" I mean systematically abused for the 19 purpose of obtaining information from him?

20 MR. FRY: No, we did not believe 21 that to be the case.

22 MS McISAAC: Now moving on to a
23 separate topic. Could I ask you to be provided 24 with tab 7 of the new Book of Documents.

25 This is the document that

1 Mr. David took you to, called "Action Memorandum
2 to the Minister." There's reference here to a 3 February 24th briefing, second paragraph under the 4 heading "Background,"

5 "You will recall..."

6 -- presumably meaning the

7 Minister --

8 "... that on February 24
9 officials briefed you and several 10 members of your staff on the 11 matter and distributed a deck 12 detailing the background and the 13 initiatives the department would 14 be taking to ensure that there was 15 closer cooperation between 16 government agencies."

17 Did you attend such a briefing,

18 Mr. Fry?

19 MR. FRY: I can't remember
20 attending that briefing because I -- I don't 21 remember this whole initiative. I mean, there 22 could have been -- there could have been some sort 23 of briefing on -- you know, with Gar on consular 24 matters, but, I mean, when I looked at this 25 document, it was a bit of a surprise to me, this

1 initiative about, you know, ensuring 2 interdepartmental coherence and management of such 3 files. I mean, there's nothing in here that I 4 would disagree with or that we would have 5 disagreed with, I think we would have agreed with 6 most of it, but I frankly don't remember any sort 7 of briefing or debate around this particular -- 8 this initiative.

9 MS McISAAC: And in the course of 10 preparing for your testimony today, did you have 11 occasion to inquire as to whether other members of 12 the Minister's staff recalled the briefing?

13 MR. FRY: I did speak to some, if 14 not all members of the Minister's staff, and no 15 one else remembers. I mean, sometimes, 16 Ms McIsaac, we would have a departmental briefing
17 and there would be several items on the agenda.
18 There could have been at some point some 19 discussion about, you know, consular affairs and 20 sort of interdepartmental cooperation, but not -- 21 not to this extent.

22 MS McISAAC: All right. Now, yet
23 another topic.

24 Could I ask the registrar to give 25 you tab 332, and you'll recall again, Mr. David

1           took you to this, and it relates to the visit of 2           Ms Catterall and Mr. Assadourian to Syria.

3                           And you'll see -- just wait a 4           minute until everybody gets their documents.

5           --- Pause

6                           There is a statement there:

7                                        "It may not be a bad thing as 8                                        this allows us to keep our 9                                        distance and make this a
10                                       Parliamentary initiative."

11                           And in response to a question from 12           Mr. David, you made the point that it might be 13           useful to have a separate parliamentary initiative 14           as opposed to a governmental initiative.

15                           I'm wondering if you could just 16           elaborate a bit for the Commissioner on why a 17           parliamentary delegation not directly associated 18           with the government might be a useful initiative?

19                           MR. FRY: I think sometimes -- I 20           mean, parliamentarians, they can speak more 21           freely, they can -- there's things that they can 22           do that, you know, if someone from the government, 23           a Foreign Minister or other Minister -- you know, 24           they speak on behalf of the Government of Canada, 25           they don't always have the same freedom. I think

1 they're also viewed with maybe a little bit more 2 independence, they're sort of not tied to the 3 government line.

4 I mean, I think that's all I can 5 really say on that.

6 MS McISAAC: Okay. Just one point
7 of clarification, and there's no document for 8 this, and it may be my misunderstanding.

9 But did I understand you to say --
10 or perhaps a better way of putting it is, did 11 Minister Graham know, at or about the time that it 12 happened, that the decision had been taken to have 13 a letter sent by the Prime Minister via Senator de 14 Bané, rather than having his letter sent?

15 MR. FRY: I don't think he would 16 have known about that.

17 MS McISAAC: He wouldn't have 18 known?

19 MR. FRY: No.

20 MS McISAAC: When would he have 21 become aware of the change in strategy?

22 MR. FRY: He left on holidays at 23 the beginning of July and we -- the idea to send 24 Senator de Bané and the change of letter and 25 things like that actually occurred sort of in the 1 first week of July. So I probably would have 2 briefed him sort of after the fact that, you know,

3 actually, Senator de Bané is going to go, we're 4 sending him to Syria, and now we're going to get a 5 letter from the Prime Minister, you know, it's as 6 high as you can go, and we're going to do that.

7 So the Minister wouldn't have been 8 made aware right away. He would have probably 9 been made aware after the fact.

10 MS McISAAC: But because he was 11 away on holidays at the time --

12 MR. FRY: Yes.

13 MS McISAAC: Thank you.
14 Thank you. Those are my 15 questions, sir.

16 THE COMMISSIONER: Mr. David?

17 MR. DAVID: Two areas to clarify.

18 EXAMINATION

19 MR. DAVID: Mr. Fry, if I could 20 bring you to tab 123, Mr. Fry.

21 This is a report that is coming 22 from the ambassador -- the Canadian ambassador in 23 Damascus. It's dated October 22nd of 2002. Now, 24 I'm not saying that you saw this document -- let 25 me ask you, did you ever see this document, first

1 of all? It's a report from Ambassador Pillarella
2 as to the circumstances in which the Syrians
3 confirm that Mr. Arar is in Syria.

4 MR. FRY: Yes, I would have seen
5 this at some point, but probably not until a 6 little while after.

7 MR. DAVID: Can we narrow down -- 8 are we talking about weeks or months after the 9 fact that you would have seen this --

10 MR. FRY: I would have --

11 MR. DAVID: This is going to 12 several people. You're not on the list.

13 MR. FRY: No.

14 MR. DAVID: It's going to Gar
15 Pardy, for one, it's going to Dan Livermore, it's 16 going to consular JPE, emergency consular affairs, 17 JPO, consular office, it's also going to ISI, GMD
18 and MJM so ...

19 MR. FRY: I probably would have
20 seen it, I mean, within a week to ten days, you 21 know, after the actual date -- or somewhere in 22 that vicinity.

23 I only say that because I think I
24 said earlier, with the C-4s, the way it worked, I 25 didn't receive them as e-mail. In fact,

1 sometimes -- I mean, if I wasn't -- if it weren't 2 directly addressed to me, they sort of had to be 3 passed along by others in the department. So if 4 someone else in here would have had to pass along 5 the message to me, and so this may have come up, 6 sort of a few days later, a week later, or 7 sometime, and then it would have been part of, you 8 know, a pile of C-4s that would come up.

9 This may have come to me from the 10 sort of -- the Middle East branch of Foreign 11 Affairs, and so I would have probably seen it 12 within a week to 10 days afterwards because we 13 were trying to -- I was asking for information on 14 it.

15 MR. DAVID: You've just been 16 referred, Mr. Fry, to the first two consular visit 17 reports --

18 MR. FRY: Yes.

19 MR. DAVID: -- tab 130, and the 20 point being made is that, in itself, if you read 21 the reports, there's nothing that seems to 22 indicate any live concern for mistreatment and 23 that you agreed with that proposition.

24 MR. FRY: Yes.

25 MR. DAVID: So I'm asking you now,

1 let's look at the language here in this report,
2 and I'm going to ask you the same question: Would 3 a reasonable person, seeing this kind of language,
4 not think of -- I'm not saying that it was a clear 5 conclusion -- but would you not be concerned with 6 the issue of torture seeing the message that is 7 being relayed by the ambassador on October 22?

8 The first thing the ambassador 9 says is:

10 "In a 45-minute meeting
11 with...

12 -- somebody --

13 "... he confirmed the 14 information --"

15 MS McISAAC: Sorry.

16 Mr. Commissioner, counsel has actually distributed 17 a far less redacted copy of that document this 18 morning. It's in a letter from Ms Verma that was 19 delivered to me this morning.

20 MR. DAVID: This is a very dynamic
21 process. It's changing by the hour.

22 Could I have the benefit of --

23 MS McISAAC: We didn't give you a 24 copy?

25 MR. DAVID: Well, no, not yet. I

1 haven't been at the office, Ms McIsaac, all day, 2 if you haven't noticed. So that's great. That's 3 very helpful.

4 Let's just look at the language,
5 and it's the first three paragraphs only I want to 6 bring you to.

7 "In a 45-minute meeting with 8 General Hassan Khalil..."

9 Actually, we should file this,
10 Mr. Commissioner, at this point.

11 THE COMMISSIONER: Why don't we -- 12 there's going to be more of these. Why don't we 13 do it in an organized --

14 MR. DAVID: Let's not file it.
15 Let's just refer to it.

16 THE COMMISSIONER: Does that not 17 make sense? Is there a number that fall into this 18 category, or just this document?

19 MS McISAAC: The letter says that 20 it will be reviewed with the ambassador tomorrow.
21 So I assume that it's one that should have been 22 but didn't make it into the booklet of documents 23 for the ambassador. But I'm not certain what the 24 plan is.

25 THE COMMISSIONER: Let's mark it

1 if you're referring to it. What's the next
2 number?

3 THE REGISTRAR: 137.

4 THE COMMISSIONER: 137.

5 EXHIBIT NO. P-137: Newly 6 redacted version of P-42, tab
7 123

8 MR. DAVID: Maybe we could correct
9 that record tomorrow, if it's easier.

10 THE COMMISSIONER: All right. Go 11 ahead.

12 MR. DAVID: Mr. Fry,

13 "In a 45-minute meeting with 14 General Hassan Khalil, Head 15 of Military Intelligence, he 16 confirmed the information I
17 had received the night before 18 from..."

19 -- somebody --

20 "... that Arar is now in 21 Syria and he is being 22 interrogated."

23 So the fact is, Canadian
24 authorities are getting information from Syria
25 that the Syrians are confirming Arar's in Syria

1           and presumably within a day.  And within a day, 2           the guy arrives in Syria, and he's being
3           interrogated.

4                           And the second paragraph says:
5                                 "... Khalil said that Arar
6                                 appeared at the Jordan/Syrian 7                                 border yesterday without 8                                 warning, escorted by 9                                 Jordanian officials who 10                                handed him over."

11                           The guy's in custody.  It's clear 12           he's not there of his own free will.

13                                 "When I asked the General
14                                 whether the Americans had not 15                                 forewarned him of Arar's 16                                 arrival..."

17                           We'll see the answer in another 18           life, I guess.

19                                 Third paragraph:
20                                 "According to Gen Khalil,
21                                 Arar has already admitted 22                                 that he has connections with 23                                 terrorist organizations ..."

24                                 So the guy's just arrived in 25           Syria, and wouldn't you know it, the first thing

1 he does is he is admitting his membership in 2 terrorist organizations.

3 It's a rhetorical question. But I
4 think you'll agree with me, it was clearly not in 5 Mr. Arar's interests to admit to General Khalil or 6 to the military intelligence unit that he is a 7 member of a terrorist organization in Syria; would 8 you agree with me?

9 MR. FRY: Sure.

10 MS McISSAC: The connection goes
11 with --

12 MR. DAVID: Would you agree with 13 me?

14 MR. FRY: Yes. I'm sure it would 15 not be in his interests.

16 MR. DAVID: And so he says:

17 "... (the General alluded to 18 Pakistani groups) and they 19 would continue to interrogate 20 him."

21 Do you see that?

22 MR. FRY: Yes.

23 MR. DAVID: So it goes on and
24 says:

25 "In the General's view, this

1 admission obviously excluded
2 any return to Canada. He 3 added that Arar would be 4 permitted to return to Canada
5 only if it were proven that 6 he had no connections with 7 terrorist activities, an 8 unlikely occurrence, given 9 his alleged admission ..."

10 Now, let's -- you know, I'm not 11 asking you to go very far in the interpretation of 12 this language. Would not a reasonable person, who 13 somehow is reasonably informed of Syria's human 14 rights records, of the structure of its 15 intelligence organizations, not read into this 16 that Arar's confessing and he's probably doing it 17 in circumstances where he's under duress?

18 MR. FRY: Well, I mean, the one 19 thing I would sort of reframe -- because there was 20 this talk about how, you know, they had him for 24
21 hours. But I think -- I don't think anyone really 22 believed that they only had him for 24 hours. I 23 mean, I think our suspicion all along was that he 24 had been in Syria longer than 24 hours. So no one 25 was going to contradict the Syrians at their word

1           that they had just got him the night before.

2                       I think the missing -- if you had 3           to ask people, and you could ask other people from 4           Foreign Affairs, but I think there was always a 5           suspicion that he had been in Syria much longer 6           than just -- the U.S., Jordan and Syria were the 7           three choices and I think a lot of people thought 8           he had actually arrived in Syria sooner. So we 9           didn't believe that this was something that had 10          happened in just 24 hours.

11                      MR. DAVID: So let's assume, in 12          your scenario, that he had been in Syria for two 13          weeks. You agree with me he's not been there 14          since before October 8, the day he was deported
15          from the United States.

16                      Let's say he had been there for 17          two weeks, still, in those circumstances, for Arar 18          to admit to participation and belonging to 19          terrorist organizations, Pakistani groups are 20          referred to, wouldn't that indicate to you, a 21          reasonable person, reasonably informed about the 22          situation in Syria --

23                      MR. FRY: Right.

24                      MR. DAVID: -- about the human 25          rights record, about how its various intelligence

1           branches operate, would a reasonable person not 2           have concluded that this person is possibly being 3           tortured to get this information?

4                       MR. FRY: I wouldn't conclude from 5           this that he was being tortured.

6                       MR. DAVID: Would you agree with 7           me that there is a reasonable grounds here to be 8           concerned about the issue of torture?

9                       MR. FRY: I mean, to me, here, I 10          mean, the fact that he admits that he's linked to 11          some organization, I mean, we would -- we always 12          took it with a grain of salt. I mean, just 13          because he's in the custody of the Syrians -- just 14          because the Syrians say that he said this, we 15          weren't necessarily going to believe it. Just 16          like the so-called confession.

17                      So whether he had just said it to 18          sort of get people off his back, whether it was 19          true, I mean --

20                      MR. DAVID: Well, if it was true, 21          was it in his interests to admit it was true?

22                      MR. FRY: No.

23                      MR. DAVID: And if he said it to 24          get people "off his back," to use your expression, 25          would that also not be a scenario where torture

1 was -- or abuse, human rights abuses, was an 2 operating assumption that was viable --

3 MR. FRY: Well, you're asking me
4 to speculate on it. All I can tell you is from my 5 initial reading of this I would not determine that 6 this was a case of torture.

7 MR. DAVID: And that's going back
8 to the time you read this document in October of 9 2002?

10 MR. FRY: Yes. I mean, I also -- 11 I want to put some context on this.

12 I was talking to our consular
13 people, Mr. Pardy and others, who were verbally 14 briefing me and giving me assurance -- I was 15 relying on their expert advice and expert opinion.

16 I had been at Foreign Affairs for 17 eight months. I'm not an expert on consular 18 matters or matters dealing with these kind of 19 states. So I would read these, sort of, for 20 context, but I was relying on their expert 21 opinions in terms of what was actually happening, 22 and at no time was I told that people suspected he 23 was being tortured.

24 MR. DAVID: And with the benefit
25 of hindsight and with what you have learned since

1           that time, since October 2002, if you were to read
2           this kind of language today for another case, 3           would you be concerned about the treatment of that 4           Canadian at the hands of the Syrian authorities?

5                         MR. FRY: Well, anyone who's at 6           the hands of the Syrians now, I think with what we 7           know about Mr. Arar's situation, with what he's 8           told us, I think we would have to be concerned.

9                         MR. DAVID: Thank you.

10                        I just -- the second matter I just 11           want to clarify has to do with the issue of the 12           phone calls -- or the phone call, I should say, to 13           the Syrian counterpart, Foreign Minister Shara'a.

14                        This morning in chief we 15           reviewed -- I'd like to bring you to tab 8, which 16           is where I brought you in the Pillarella 17           documents, and you recall I took you, Mr. Fry, to 18           the language wherein, supposedly, the issue of the 19           CSIS visit was brought to the attention of the 20           Minister, Minister Graham, and you've given your 21           evidence in that regard, and I certainly don't 22           want to go back on it.

23                        I simply bring you to the language
24           in the first paragraph, more than halfway down.
25           It says:

1 "This issue went before the 2 Minister on November 18."

3 Are you with me?

4 MR. FRY: Yes.

5 MR. DAVID: And I brought you to 6 that language.

7 It goes on. It says:

8 "He did not wish to defer the
9 visit; however, he indicated
10 that he wished to have a full
11 report on the visit and the
12 discussions with the Syrians
13 ..."

14 And here's the part I want to draw
15 your attention to. It says:

16 "... before he communicated
17 with the Syrian Foreign
18 Minister."

19 MR. FRY: Right.

20 MR. DAVID: So it's clear -- and 21 this is dated November 19 of '02, and so there is 22 an allusion here being made to the possibility -- 23 or there's a contemplation, certainly, that your 24 Minister will be calling Minister Shara'a.

25 MR. FRY: Right.

1 MR. DAVID: And I want to bring
2 you to two other documents that deal with this 3 call that never occurred in this time frame, and 4 the second document would be tab 12 of your -- the 5 Fry documents, tab 12, and that would be P-132.

6 I'm sorry, tab 12 of the 7 Pillarella documents. I'm getting confused in 8 these documents, Mr. Commissioner. So tab 12 of 9 the Pillarella documents.

10 Are you with me, Mr. Fry?

11 MR. FRY: Yes.

12 MR. DAVID: Okay. So it's a
13 message that is coming from Damascus. Again, it's 14 from Ambassador Pillarella. This one is dated 15 about a month later. It's December 12. And in 16 it, Ambassador -- in the first sentence,
17 Ambassador Pillarella refers to the "cancelled
18 phone call between MINA and Foreign Minister 19 Shara'a."

20 And paragraph 4 he says:

21 "My recommendation is that 22 indeed we should try to 23 arrange a call between Graham
24 and Shara'a." (As read)

25 So that's in December.

1                   And then the final document I'll 2 bring you to is tab 261, and that would be in 3 volume 3. And this is a memo that is going to 4 O-MINA. So it is directed, I would imagine, to 5 you; is that a fair statement? Or to the Office
6 of the Minister?

7                   MR. FRY: Yes, directed to the 8 Office of the Minister.

9                   MR. DAVID: And it's dated 10 December 18. And it's in this document, and you 11 referred to it in your testimony, the fact that 12 it's being assessed that calling the Foreign 13 Minister is going to be difficult because he's 14 away, and that's at paragraph 3. He's travelling 15 a lot, he's going to Britain, so let's, instead of 16 you trying to call the Foreign Minister, let's 17 call in the Ambassador, Ambassador Arnous, 18 instead.

19                   So we see that, and we know, we've 20 heard from your testimony, that, in fact, the 21 phone call occurred January 16.

22                   MR. FRY: Yes.

23                   MR. DAVID: The only point I want 24 to clarify with you is that this morning you, more 25 or less, evoked the explanation that's being given

1 in the December 18 memo to the Office of MINA, in 2 reference to the fact that the Foreign Minister of 3 Syria is going to be hard to nail down and to 4 locate and to find a convenient time to speak to.
5 And that's the explanation you gave for the fact
6 that the call didn't take place at that time.

7 MR. FRY: Yes. I might have been 8 incorrect in terms of why we -- we were supposed 9 to make a call -- there was the notes around 10 making the call in November --

11 MR. DAVID: That's my question and 12 my only question to you, and that is, December, 13 you've explained it in a certain way. I want to 14 know, in November, where it's referred to in tab 8
15 of the Pillarella --

16 MR. FRY: Yes?

17 MR. DAVID: -- we're also 18 referring to a phone conversation, why was it not 19 occurring at that time?

20 MR. FRY: Well, my recollection as 21 to why it did not occur -- and the fact of whether 22 he was there or not was actually a sub-point.

23 My recollection is that I spoke
24 with the Assistant Deputy Minister of Middle East
25 Bureau, John McNee, and possibly Gar Pardy, and I

1 was advised that we were jumping ahead of 2 ourselves -- I was jumping ahead of myself. I
3 think I was the one that was pushing for the call,
4 and maybe it speaks to my inexperience in matters 5 of consular affairs, and I would told, "Well, (a), 6 you can't jump ahead of yourself. You actually 7 should call in the ambassador first, deal at the 8 ambassador level, and then you ramp it up to the 9 Foreign Minister."

10 So I think what happened was,
11 there were wheels in motion, because I had put 12 them in motion, to have a call done. And then on 13 further discussion, I was advised -- the advice
14 given to me was, it's too quick. We actually need 15 to do the Ambassador first and then we need to 16 move to the Foreign Minister.

17 MR. DAVID: Thank you, Mr. Fry.
18 Those are my questions.

19 THE COMMISSIONER: Well, thank you
20 very much, Mr. Fry. That completes your evidence.
21 It's been very helpful and you've given it in a 22 very clear and straightforward way, and I 23 appreciate that very much. It's been easy to 24 follow.

25 MR. FRY: Well, thank you,

1 Commissioner. I appreciate you -- though it
2 wasn't easy, I appreciate coming before you. I
3 spent a good part of a year on this, and I can 4 assure you that our intentions were good. We were 5 trying to get Mr. Arar out, and we were trying to 6 find every way possible to do that. I'm happy we 7 finally were successful, even though I'm sorry 8 that he had to suffer the way he did and it took 9 us as long as it did. But I can assure this 10 Commission that we did everything we could to try 11 to get him out.

12 THE COMMISSIONER: Thank you very 13 much, Mr. Fry.

14 Before we rise, I'll just deal
15 with a couple of scheduling things.

16 Tomorrow we're going to sit at 17 9:30. Mr. Bayne's motion, that he made reference 18 to today, will take place Thursday morning at 19 8:30, and Friday we'll be starting at nine 20 o'clock.

21 MR. WALDMAN: Just a point of 22 clarification. On Mr. Bayne's motion, are we 23 invited or not invited?

24 THE COMMISSIONER: You're invited.
25 It's a public motion.

1 MR. WALDMAN: Oh, it's a public
2 motion. Okay. I wasn't sure.

3 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay, so if 4 there's nothing else --

5 MR. DAVID: Nothing else,
6 Mr. Commissioner.

7 THE COMMISSIONER: That's it.
8 9:30 tomorrow.

9 THE REGISTRAR: Please stand.
10 --- Whereupon the hearing adjourned at 5:08 p.m., 11 to resume on Tuesday, June 14, 2005, at 12 9:30 a.m. / L'audience est ajournée à 17 h 09,
